

NORRIS ACQUITTED BY JURY OF MURDER CHARGE; PASTOR EMBRACES LAWYER WHO DEFENDED HIM

One Shot As Trio Escapes Federal Penitentiary

TWO OTHERS TAKEN AS NERVE FAILS IN DARING BREAK

Shrill Sirens Recall Days of Gerald Chapman and "Dutch" Anderson in Prison Neighborhood.

OFFICIALS SEE DEEP-LAID PLOT

Desperate Trio Saws Window Bars and Travellers Lighted Area Under Fire of Guards.

BY BEN COOPER.

Gambling with death in one of the most daring and sensational breaks for freedom in the history of the Atlanta federal penitentiary, three short-term inmates early Tuesday night gained their liberty by sawing through a steel bar in the cell block window and dashing across a brightly illuminated lawn after one of their number had been wounded by fire from the guard house.

Two long termers, losing their nerve at the crucial moment, were captured by guards in the prison before they could escape.

Shrill sirens of the prison began a warning uproar as news of the escape was flashed to the warden's office, and almost on the heels of a volley of shots fired by prison guards at the fleeing men, deputy wardens and other officers began an investigation of the entire prison neighborhood in an effort to apprehend the trio, but without success up to an early hour this morning.

The three men at liberty are Albert Rosenberg, 10-year term; Fred McGoldrick, three-year man, and Basil Baughart, two-year man. Their alleged co-conspirators in the escape plot, Joseph C. Lauson, 20-year inmate, and Joe Urbaytis, 30-year inmate, were recaptured in the cell corridor on their way to the window, and were placed in solitary confinement pending a full investigation of the escape.

Carefully Developed Plot.

Inmates of the penitentiary were thrilled Tuesday night as they caught snatches of the story of the daring break for freedom by prison "grape vine." According to prison officials, the break for liberty was the result of a deep-laid plot between the five men, with Urbaytis and Lauson as the brains behind the scheme.

Climbing 20 feet above the cell block floor level, the three men who escaped opened one of the huge prison windows by unloosening two set screws in the operating machinery, at the time most of the other prisoners were at the night school, and the lone guard on duty was busy at the other

Continued on Page 2, Column 7.

U.S. Senate Votes For Arbitration Of Mexican Fight

Secretary Kellogg Has Stated He Will Welcome Expression Like Resolution by Robinson.

NO SPECIFIC REQUEST MADE

White House Confirms Word That State Department Is About To Make China Declaration

BY RAYMOND CLAPPER.

Washington, January 25.—"By unanimous vote" the senate put itself on record today as favoring arbitration of the oil and land disputes with Mexico, by adopting the resolution of Senator Robinson, Arkansas, minority leader.

This resolution makes no specific request of the president but expresses the sense of the senate as favoring recourse to arbitration.

Secretary of State Kellogg has formally stated that he welcomes such an expression but has not indicated whether he is in favor of the course so indicated.

The vote was 79 to 0.

The Robinson resolution is as follows:

"Resolved, that while by virtue of sovereignty, the duty devolves upon this government to protect the lives and property of its nationals in foreign countries, which duty is not to be neglected or disregarded, it is nevertheless sound policy, consistent with the honor and best interest of the United States and best interest of international peace and good will, to submit to an arbitral tribunal, which shall apply the principles of international law, the controversies with Mexico relating to the alleged confiscation or impairment of the property of American nationals and corporations in Mexico; the arbitration agreement, to provide for protection of all American property rights pending the final outcome of the arbitration.

"That in good will and friendliness efforts should be made and persisted in to effect arrangements which will commit the two governments to the policy of abiding by and executing awards that may be made in consequence of such arrangements to arbitrate."

Declaration Expected.

The white house confirmed word last night that the state department is about to make a formal declaration of policy toward China. This statement will deal with the unequal treaties aimed at in the Porter resolution.

Pending this statement, the white house statement that there is a wide difference between the positions of Great Britain and the United States on the Chinese question clarified the administration position somewhat.

Great Britain has large concessions in China which she presumably feels

Continued on Page 2, Column 3.

CITIZENS WILL ASK COUNCIL TO ADOPT NEW CITY CHARTER

E. Marvin Underwood Lauds Council-Manager Plan Before Presidents' Club Members.

Members of Atlanta's city council will be asked to adopt a new charter, drafted by a special citizens' committee, in a few weeks, and if council declines to adopt the proposed measure it will be required, under the referendum law, to submit the new charter to the people for approval or rejection within 30 days after it is considered by council, according to an announcement made by E. Marvin Underwood, prominent Atlanta lawyer, at a meeting of the Presidents' club of Atlanta Tuesday night at the Baltimore hotel.

Mr. Underwood outlined provisions of the new charter and compared the proposed measure with the charter under which the city government now functions. He said a sufficient number of names had been signed to a petition for a referendum election on the new charter and said if council declines to accept it, it must submit it to the people in a referendum election. If the people approve, it will be presented to the state legislature by the Fulton delegation, Frank Hooper, Jr., one of the members of the Fulton delegation, announced that he would support the measure in the legislature provided a majority of the voters of the city ratify it in the special election.

Under the new measure, which Mr. Underwood called the "council-manager"

Continued on Page 2, Column 5.

POWER MERGER LEGALITY UPHELD IN COURT DECISION

Judge Pomeroy Denies Injunction Asked by Minority Stockholders To Halt Consolidation.

Holding that the act of 1909 under which the proposed merger of the Georgia Railway & Power company with five other Georgia public utility corporations was constitutional, Judge Edgar E. Pomeroy late Tuesday afternoon denied a petition for injunction and sustained the general demurrer against stopping the Georgia public service commission from holding a hearing at 10 o'clock Thursday morning on the proposal.

Arguments in the hearing were concluded at 5:30 o'clock Tuesday afternoon, and following a brief recess Judge Pomeroy announced his decision.

Declaring that there were a few points not clear in his mind, Judge Pomeroy postponed action on the superpetitions until noon today at which time the attorneys in the case will deliver brief arguments on the issue, which will either give or decline the right of an appeal to the Georgia supreme court on the litigation.

Judge Pomeroy's order on the petition is as follows: "After hearing evidence and arguments in response to the rule nisi, the motion for an injunction and restraining order prayed for in the foregoing petition, the same is refused and denied."

Validity Recognized.

In his ruling on the general demurrer introduced by W. E. Watkins, Jr., of the Georgia public service commission against stopping the commission from holding a hearing on the case, pointing out that the commission would, under the circumstances, have to recognize the validity of the legislative act covering the consolidation, is as follows:

"After arguments on demurrer to the petition as considered on an interlocutory hearing, the general demurrer is sustained and the case is dismissed." The decisions were rendered by Judge Pomeroy from the bench approximately five minutes after the conclusion of arguments at 5:30 o'clock. The plaintiffs, representing approximately 4,400 shares of stock in the Georgia Railway and Electric company, sought to prove that they were being unjustly deprived of their valuable property, but also attacked the constitutionality of the act of 1909 under which the merger is planned.

The act, it was claimed, is confiscatory and invalid and that its provisions do not cover the circumstances existing under the present situation. The minority stockholders averred

Continued on Page 3, Column 4.

Not Guilty

Rev. J. Frank Norris, Baptist preacher, who slew D. C. Chipps, Fort Worth business man, in the church office, and who was freed by a jury's verdict.

Browning Too Playful To Suit Poor Peaches

BY SAM LOVE.

White Plains, N. Y., January 25.—Evidence concerning African honking ganders, rubber eggs and trick cigars with which 57-year-old Edward West Browning attempted to amuse Peaches Heenan, his 15-year-old bride, turned their otherwise sordid separation suit into a roaring comedy today.

The overplump, big blonde girl from the Bronx wiped the giggles off the faces of the avid audience by taking these back stage and showing them the soiled, cheap workings of the gaudy domestic farce known as "Cinderella."

Sobbing at times as the court insisted she reveal the most intimate details of her wedding night, but maintaining throughout the seriousness often born of youth, Peaches described her husband as a foolish old man, given as much to childish tricks as to abnormalities of love making.

Gives Audience Earful.

Peaches gave the audience an eye-ful and an earful, too. She quit the role of a stuffed doll so quickly that John E. Mack, counsel for the elderly, playful and wealthy husband, couldn't make the change of pace and was routed in disorder.

The Frances Heenan that was a $12 a week gum-chewing, slang-slanging salesgirl had lived and learned. Her recently acquired self-respect and Harvard accent were alike invincible before the attacks of Mack, whose own "old shoe" familiarity was made to seem an insipid pose.

Peaches soiled her stately pretty face with tears and said "bawh," but she compelled a crowded courtroom to think she was on the level by her own admission that she had married Browning for his abundant cash.

Her elderly husband spent the day laughing off quite a number of things. He arrived and left the courthouse to cheers of a crowd that required police sticks to make a lane. He beamed and bowed and women ran up and shook his hand. His tie for the day was six inches broad and very flowing. Everything was great except the evidence that went into the record. What a silly old fellow Peaches made out her "perfect lover" to be.

Wore Flowered Pajamas.

Browning threw back his head and laughed in pantomime more than once. Would he cavort on his hands and knees, in a pair of flowered pajamas? Preposterous.

The free-handed spender of New York sitting up all night sandpapering down a pair of shoesticks that were too large? Ridiculous.

But Peaches related these and many other episodes of her married life with such frank simplicity that the audience seemed to accept them as fact despite Daddy Browning's attempts to laugh them off. At one time she even reprimanded daddy's attorney for laughing at her.

"If you think it's so funny I suggest you leave the room," she said.

Peaches Meets Daddy.

Peaches went to a dance with a boy friend last March 12 and met her "Cinderella man" just 15 minutes before midnight. She didn't leave a glass slipper at the hotel. McAlpin—she left a telephone number. About two weeks later, she testified, the gray-haired lover with the Rolls-Royce reputation took her to the theater.

Continued on Page 3, Column 5.

the home of "a friend, a Mrs. Sweetster." They scarred her chin and neck and Peaches now thinks that Browning "had something to do with them." But she doesn't know how.

"I woke up very suddenly with a stinging sensation on my face," she said, while the court crowd stared at the third sears.

She never saw the acid-thrower.

Renews Ardent Suit.

About this time her mother, Catherine Heenan, was accused of being an improper guardian for her. And Browning renewed his ardent suit.

"I said, 'yes, I would,'" Peaches continued. "On that night he told me we were going to Cold Springs to get married."

Then began the fairy-tale honeymoon, described in metropolitan papers as more glorious than that of a royal princess.

Actually, Peaches swore, it was reporters and photographers by day and bizarre love-making at night.

At the Hotel Gramatan, in Bronxville, the first honeymoon stop, Peaches said she learned a thing or two. A reporter met Browning at the hotel and produced a story he had written at Browning's dictation and signed by Browning, she said.

"Why I Married Peaches" was the title of this classic.

"The story said I proposed to him," she said. "I objected to that. But it was published that way, anyhow."

Exposes Browning.

Peaches went from exposing Browning's claims to authorship to other and more intimate exposures.

Browning's first intimate request, she testified, was that she parade their bridal chamber without wearing even a nightgown. He was petulant when she refused, she said, and was offended also when she objected to eating breakfast unclothed.

Her recital was full of sudden flights from the elderly swain of dashing from room to room, quarrels over the proprieties that lasted to early morning hours—and usually of Peaches' capitulation.

It was in one of Browning's "bunny" moods that night he labored to reduce the size of his shoesticks with sandpaper while Peaches, tired by photographers and reporters, was snatching 40 winks in an adjoining room.

"I awoke with a start. He had thrown one of the shoesticks at the bed. Then there was another bang. He had tossed in the telephone directory. I said I would leave him."

But Peaches said the playful old fellow dropped on his knees and begged forgiveness and she went to sleep again.

And at 3 o'clock in the morning Browning was on his knees again, she added. "This time he had set off an alarm clock 'right under' her ear. It took Mamma Heenan's counsel to persuade her to stay—and the ungrateful old 'Bunny' defended himself from Mamma Heenan's reproaches as about Peaches' nervous state by

Continued on Page 3, Column 5.

SON OF CHIPPS WEEPS AS JURY CLEARS PASTOR

Friends Rush to Norris and Wife When Verdict Is Announced; Demonstration Halted.

'MURDER IN HEART' LAID TO MINISTER

W. P. McLean, of Prosecution, Demands Death Penalty—Acquittal Is Third in Norris Career.

Austin, Texas, January 25. (AP)—Dr. J. Frank Norris, fundamentalist Baptist pastor, of Fort Worth, tonight stepped from the third courtroom a free man.

He was acquitted by a jury in Travis county district court of murdering Dexter E. Chipps, lumberman, of Fort Worth, whom he killed in his church office on the afternoon of last July 17.

A jury of his peers, composed of farmers, laboring men, a former sheriff, clerks and merchants, said that Norris shot Chipps to save his own life when the latter came to the pastor's private study to protest against attacks Norris had made on Mayor H. C. Meacham or Fort Worth, and other friends of Chipps.

Tears of Two Kinds.

There were tears of joy and also tears of another kind from other eyes when the simple verdict of "not guilty" was read in loud tones by S. A. Philkist, court clerk.

The tears of joy were those of Norris and his wife. As soon as the verdict rang out, Norris stood at his seat. There was a wan smile on his lips, but he showed no emotion until his attorney, Marvin Simpson, shook his hand. He embraced Simpson and wept.

The other tears were in the eyes of a small, brown-eyed boy who has sat throughout the trial on the side of the state. He is Dexter E. Chipps, whose father Norris killed. The boy, small for his age, is 14. When asked about the verdict, tears came to his eyes and he choked up. Later he said: "I'm so sorry for mother. It will hurt her."

The boy was alone of all his family, and as the great crowd pressed around

Continued on Page 2, Column 4.

The Weather INCREASING CLOUDINESS

Washington.—Forecast: Georgia: Increasing cloudiness probably followed by rain in north portion Wednesday; Thursday probably rain and somewhat colder.

Local Weather Report.

Highest temperature	66
Lowest temperature	48
Mean temperature	57
Normal temperature	43
Rainfall in past 24 hours, in.	0.00
Deficiency since 1st of month, in.	4.20
Total rainfall since Jan. 1, in.	2.50
Deficiency since Jan. 1, in.	4.20

T. a. m. N. n. 7 p. m.

Dry temperature
 48 | 60 | 63 |

Wet bulb
 47 | 54 | 56 |

Relative humidity
 85 | 66 | 66 |

Reports of Weather Bureau Stations.

STATIONS AND STATE OF WEATHER	Temperature (F.)	Wind	Clouds
ATLANTA, Ga.	63	66	00
Birmingham, Ala.	56	58	00
Boston, Mass.	69	66	00
Buffalo, N. Y.	36	42	00
Chicago, Ill.	50	56	00
Cincinnati, Ohio	42	48	00
Dayton, Ohio	36	46	00
Des Moines, Iowa	20	32	00
Indianapolis, Ind.	32	38	00
Kansas City, Mo.	42	44	00
Little Rock, Ark.	66	70	00
Memphis, Tenn.	52	54	00
Mobile, Ala.	64	68	01
Montgomery, Ala.	52	54	00
New Orleans, La.	36	42	00
North Platte, Neb.	14	38	00
Omaha, Neb.	42	46	00
Phoenix, Ariz.	66	70	00
Pittsburgh, Pa.	54	58	00
Portland, Me.	42	46	00
San Francisco, Calif.	52	54	00
St. Louis, Mo.	42	46	00
Salt Lake City, Utah	30	32	00
Savannah, Ga.	70	74	00
Tampa, Fla.	70	74	00
Toledo, Ohio	28	40	00
Wichita, Kan.	38	40	00
Washington, D. C.	40	48	00

C. F. von HERRMANN, Meteorologist, Weather Bureau.

"I Hear You Calling Me"

That's the song the Atlanta housewife can sing the minute The Constitution arrives at her home early in the morning.

Calling to her, and asking for immediate attention to the many splendid offerings made in the advertisements carried by that issue of the favorite paper in Atlanta.

Experience proves to every lady that she never has time to read in the afternoon or evening, so she depends upon the advertisements in The Constitution to keep her informed of the bargains that are offered by the merchants of the city.

ADVERTISING IN THE CONSTITUTION PAYS THE ADVERTISER AND SAVES THE BUYER.

FEELING THAT UNITED STATES SHOULD GUARD AGAINST BEING DRAWN INTO ORIENT DEVELOPS.

Washington, January 25.—(AP)—Divergence of American and British views on Chinese policy was forecast at the white house today although President Coolidge has made it plain that the government will continue to afford all protection in its power to American lives and property in China.

The nature of the demarcation between the views was not specifically indicated. The president believes, however, that existence of British concessions in China without any similar American territorial responsibilities leaves room for some difference in policy.

Precautionary Steps.

Further precautionary steps to insure the safeguarding of American lives in China were revealed with today's withdrawal of 500 marines from mail guard duty for concentration at San Diego, Cal., and Quantico, Va., marine corps expeditionary force bases.

There was no indication that naval and military precautions against Chinese eventualities extended beyond that additional step, or that the Washington administration contemplated sending forces to China in any way comparable with the announced British program.

In congress, the house foreign af-

Continued on Page 2, Column 1.

E. W. GROVE ILL WITH PNEUMONIA IN ASHEVILLE, N. C.

Asheville, N. C., January 25.—(AP) E. W. Grove, of St. Louis and Asheville, is critically ill of pneumonia in his suite at Battery Park hotel here, it was learned today. Mrs. Grove arrived today from St. Petersburg, Fla., to be at her husband's bedside, as did Mr. and Mrs. E. W. Grove, Jr., of St. Louis.

Dr. Thomas Brown, of Johns Hopkins hospital, Baltimore, arrived today to aid Dr. W. L. Dunn, of Asheville, in attending Mr. Grove.

Mr. Grove has been confined to his suite here by illness since his arrival from Philadelphia nearly three weeks ago. He developed pneumonia Sunday and since then his condition has been regarded as critical.

Mr. Grove is well known in Atlanta and is the father-in-law of Fred M. Seely, former publisher of The Atlanta Georgian. Through visits to Atlanta, Mr. Grove has made a wide circle of friends here. Aside from being owner of Battery Park hotel and Grove Park inn, in Asheville, N. C., Mr. Grove is founder of Grove's Chili Tonic and owns vast tracts of land around Asheville and in other sections.

Continued on Page 2, Column 1.

REED IS DENIED EXECUTION STAY

State Now Has Warden, Judge Park Says in Denying Plea To Stop Execution.

Greensboro, Ga., January 25.—(AP) An application for injunction to prevent the execution Friday of Marshall Reed, convicted murderer, was denied here today by Superior Court Judge James B. Park.

Overruling the contention of Reed's counsel that there is no official at the Milledgeville state prison qualified under the law to inflict the death penalty, the court pointed out that the state prison commission has appointed a full-fledged warden for the penitentiary, and held that the state "now has a warden who is qualified to execute criminals as provided by the legislative act of 1924."

Reed was convicted of slaying a Walker county deputy sheriff near Rossville and Governor Walker last week declined to grant his petition for executive clemency.

It was Judge Park, who, by granting an injunction staying the execution of Mel Gore, Atlanta murderer, threw the whole question of the constitutionality of the state electric chair before the supreme court for review.

He held at that time that the superintendent of the Milledgeville prison was not duly authorized to preside at executions under the law, which provided

Continued on Page 3, Column 5.

Largest Home Delivered Circulation in Atlanta Combined City and Suburban Circulation Largest of Any Daily Paper in Atlanta

PRICE OUTLINES BIDS FOR SHOALS

Washington, January 23.—(AP)—The question of disposition of Muscle Shoals was reopened by the House committee today with morning and afternoon sessions devoted to hearing testimony on the Reece bill to lease the property to the Farmers' Federated Fertilizer corporation.

The proposal, introduced by Representative Reece, republican, Tennessee, is one of three now before congress. The others are the new bid of the American Cyanamid company, of New York, and the proposal of the Alabama and associated power companies, which has the recommendation of a majority of the congressional Muscle Shoals commission.

Slump Presses Bill.
C. Bascom Slump, former secretary to President Coolidge, and representing eastern financiers interested in the plan, described the Reece bill to the committee as "the best business proposition before congress."

Details of the plan were explained at the afternoon session by John W. Price, of counsel for the corporation. Under the bill the corporation would lease the property for 50 years, specializing in production of fertilizer at cost to a government appointed farm board for distribution. It would derive its revenue from power production and manufacture of fertilizer by-product.

The corporation would guarantee to maintain the plant for instant use for production of munitions in event of war, and during that emergency the property would be operated by the government.

As rental the corporation would pay the government $22.27 per kilowatt year, the year consisting of 8,760 kilowatt hours. Mr. Price declared the rental was higher than that offered in other pending proposals. He explained also that the corporation would guarantee to return the property to the government at the termination of the lease in first-class operating condition and would provide an emergency fund with which to restore the plant to good condition.

Advantages of Bill.
The chief advantages of the Reece bill over other bids, Price said, was that no appropriation by congress would be required for completion of present units or construction of new ones.

New projects, he said, would be built by the corporation at its own cost when they were deemed necessary by the secretaries of war, agriculture and commerce.

The corporation, whose incorporators would be John W. Newman, of Versailles, Ky.; A. P. Sandles, Ottawa, Ohio, and A. L. Spangler, Hutchinson, Kan., would be authorized to issue 800,000 shares of $100 non-voting stock. Initial capitalization would be $1,000,000.

Price said the bill would constitute the most constructive legislation agriculturally since enactment of the federal reserve act. This measure, he said, would do for agriculture what the reserve act did for bankers. He believed the measure provided every safeguard to the government giving it control over the distribution of fertilizer and a ready instrument for munitions production in event of war.

Price said the bill would constitute the most constructive legislation agriculturally since enactment of the federal reserve act.

Price said the bill would constitute the most constructive legislation agriculturally since enactment of the federal reserve act.

Price said the bill would constitute the most constructive legislation agriculturally since enactment of the federal reserve act.

Price said the bill would constitute the most constructive legislation agriculturally since enactment of the federal reserve act.

Price said the bill would constitute the most constructive legislation agriculturally since enactment of the federal reserve act.

Price said the bill would constitute the most constructive legislation agriculturally since enactment of the federal reserve act.

Price said the bill would constitute the most constructive legislation agriculturally since enactment of the federal reserve act.

Price said the bill would constitute the most constructive legislation agriculturally since enactment of the federal reserve act.

Price said the bill would constitute the most constructive legislation agriculturally since enactment of the federal reserve act.

Price said the bill would constitute the most constructive legislation agriculturally since enactment of the federal reserve act.

Price said the bill would constitute the most constructive legislation agriculturally since enactment of the federal reserve act.

Price said the bill would constitute the most constructive legislation agriculturally since enactment of the federal reserve act.

Price said the bill would constitute the most constructive legislation agriculturally since enactment of the federal reserve act.

Price said the bill would constitute the most constructive legislation agriculturally since enactment of the federal reserve act.

Price said the bill would constitute the most constructive legislation agriculturally since enactment of the federal reserve act.

Price said the bill would constitute the most constructive legislation agriculturally since enactment of the federal reserve act.

Price said the bill would constitute the most constructive legislation agriculturally since enactment of the federal reserve act.

Price said the bill would constitute the most constructive legislation agriculturally since enactment of the federal reserve act.

Price said the bill would constitute the most constructive legislation agriculturally since enactment of the federal reserve act.

Price said the bill would constitute the most constructive legislation agriculturally since enactment of the federal reserve act.

Price said the bill would constitute the most constructive legislation agriculturally since enactment of the federal reserve act.

Price said the bill would constitute the most constructive legislation agriculturally since enactment of the federal reserve act.

SAM B. SWILLING CALLED BY DEATH

Colonel Sam B. Swilling, of 165 East Eleventh street, prominent Georgia lawyer and member of a pioneer Georgia family, died Tuesday afternoon at a private sanatorium. He had been ill for several months and for some time had been unable to continue his work as attorney for the Cotton Growers' association.

SAM B. SWILLING.

Colonel Swilling was born in Royston, Ga., in 1874, and obtained his early education there. After receiving his secondary education he began the study of law and was admitted to the bar in 1895, and practiced law at Royston for more than 20 years.

During the years 1905 through 1908, he served as member of the Georgia assembly from Franklin county. He was in the legislature at the time the prohibition bill was presented and was one of its strongest advocates.

In 1916 he moved to Elberton, where he entered the real estate business and was very successful. Five years later he was employed as attorney for the Cotton Growers' association and remained in that capacity until his death.

He moved to Atlanta when he became attorney for the association more than five years ago, and has made his home here since.

Colonel Swilling always took a prominent part in church work and was a member of Grace Methodist church. During his residence in Royston and Elberton he was member of Methodist churches there and served for many years as superintendent of Sunday schools at both places.

He was married in 1894 to Miss Nannie Fanbrough, of Elberton county, who survives him. In addition to his wife he is survived by five sons, Dr. A. S. Swilling, of Chicago; Berry, Felton, T. E. and Renbert Swilling, all of Atlanta; two daughters, Mrs. Mary Mower and Mrs. John Beck, of Atlanta; two sisters, Mrs. Pledger Cauthen, of Demorest, and Mrs. Lumpkin Payne, of Royston, and a brother, the Rev. Marvin Swilling, of Alabama City, Ala.

Funeral services for Colonel Swilling had not been completed late Tuesday night by H. M. Patterson and Son, but probably will be held Thursday afternoon from the residence, it was stated. The Rev. S. R. Beik will officiate and interment will be in West View cemetery.

JOHN H. STEVENS, GRIFFIN PIONEER, TAKEN BY DEATH

Griffin, Ga., January 23.—(Special.)—John H. Stevens, who died Tuesday morning in Atlanta at the home of his daughter, Mrs. Charles Cone, was one of the pioneer citizens of Griffin. He was the son of an Englishman who came to this country in 1838 and established a pottery business at Stevens Pottery, which was named for him.

Mr. Stevens was well known over the state, being associated with many enterprises in other cities as well as in Griffin. He was 76 years of age and had been retired from active business for 15 years.

He is survived by two daughters, Mrs. Cone, of Atlanta, and Mrs. Lee C. Manley, of Griffin. Funeral services will be held at Stevens Pottery Wednesday afternoon with the Rev. John Yarbrough, of Milledgeville, former pastor of the deceased in Griffin, officiating.

GRAND JURY INDICTS
ATLANTA EXPOLICEMAN

An indictment charging assault with intent to murder was returned Tuesday by the Fulton county grand jury against C. Bush, former patrolman of the Atlanta police department, in connection with his alleged attempt to force a negro to dance by shooting at his feet.

The alleged assault occurred at a local garage Christmas day, resulting in the death of Ben Hill, of 584 Irwin street, being shot in the leg. Investigation in the solicitor's office began several days ago when Bush was under suspension for having been asleep on his "beat" in West End. He is said to have been announced in police court that he planned to resign.

Boy Near Death After Being Hit By Automobile

Flung from his bicycle when struck by an automobile at Dill street and Allene avenue late Tuesday afternoon, Herbert Reese, 9, son of Mr. and Mrs. C. W. Reese, 1381 Sylvan road, was probably fatally injured. He is in critical condition at Grady hospital suffering from a fractured skull and minor injuries.

At the time of the accident, according to a brief report given by the father at Grady hospital, young Reese was carrying a companion, Robert Watson, of Hartford avenue, on his bicycle. Seeing that an accident was inevitable when an automobile swung around a corner Watson jumped to safety.

The driver of the car, Mr. Reese said, gave his name as Hines. Mr. Reese added that he did not have the name and address of the driver, but that he was a young man and offered every assistance after the accident, taking the injured boy to the hospital.

BROWNING'S PRANKS ANNOY PEACHES

Continued From Page One.

assuring her that "Peaches was going to die before she was 21, anyway."

Goose Appears on Scene.
It was about time for the African honking gander to appear, and it did. The driver of the car, Mr. Reese said, gave his name as Hines. Mr. Reese added that he did not have the name and address of the driver, but that he was a young man and offered every assistance after the accident, taking the injured boy to the hospital.

Every place the Brownings went the goose followed. The goose was on the back of his car was converted for the comfort of the goose. And Peaches was photographed as a gooseman holding up a warning finger to the gander.

"Did you like the goose?"
"I hated it," Peaches said heartily. "One of her contents in the separation suit is that the goose photograph, made at Browning's insistence, caused her mental agony."

Peaches calmly described Dorothy Sunshine Browning as "what I would call a debauched child."

"How old is Dorothy Sunshine?"
"She is ten years old and she weighs 135 pounds."

She said that Browning put Dorothy Sunshine to bed when the ward came to visit them at Kew Gardens, until Mrs. Hines and she objected.

"Did you ever see him go into Dorothy Sunshine's room?"
"Yes, two or three times, about 3 or 4 o'clock in the morning."

Dorothy Visits Peaches.
Dorothy came to visit them after Peaches had her nervous breakdown—the time publicly got the best of her. Officials of the Fifth Avenue hospital asked her to leave—she was being treated for the burns—because of the crowds. She could not walk on the street.

"Daddy" used to leave her with her mother for safety.

Mother used her savings and borrowed money to get her out of the car. Mr. Browning used his car and I couldn't move by walking."

Between newspaper editions, her husband would attract attention by the cigar and egg trick, Peaches said. He would go right into a "bunny" mood from seeing the starry eyes of guests and when he was on the street the rubber eggs bounced. And he delighted when a "little ablet" he would put on the end of his cigar would suddenly spit out into posterously long ashes.

Then he would come home with an armful of French magazines and the naughty "art" magazines of local make. Peaches said, and try to make her look at them with him.

Refused Her Baby.
And when she asked for a pet dog, he bought her three little toy-dogs, each an inch high. When she asked for an automobile, she got one on a spring in it. And when she asked for a baby—because I was put on trial in the Bibb superior court—Browning had a better plan.

"He said he would get me a Japanese princess. He would have one for me, but I could not teach it English and walk around the streets with it. It would be fun and good publicity, he said."

It was about this time that Peaches woke up one morning with her hands shaking. She frothed at the mouth and bit her tongue. "Daddy" gave her some white pills for her nervousness, but finally they went to a doctor. Dr. George A. Blakesley, the neurologist consulted, took the stand while Peaches sobbed in her mother's arms after recounting her wedding night. He said he had advised more fresh air and less publicity for Peaches, and indicated he did not think she suffered from epilepsy. An abnormal May-December marriage might in itself cause the symptoms, he said.

Peaches left the stand for the day after admitting under cross-examination that she did not regard her figure as "particularly beautiful." Although she left the courthouse by a side door, the police had to be rough to keep back the crowds.

EXECUTION STAY DENIED TO REED

Continued From Page One.

ides that the "warden" of the penitentiary should officiate. Judge Park pointed out in his ruling that the superintendent was the warden of the men's branch of the prison and that two other officials also were wardens.

Warden Named.
Since that ruling, the state prison commission has appointed an official "warden of the prison" to meet the situation pending action of the supreme court on its appeal from Judge Park's decision.

Immediately after the application for injunction had been denied, James R. Rosser, of Lafayette, Reed's counsel, left for Atlanta without divulging to court attaches where he steps he contemplates in his effort to save the slayer from the electric chair.

Judge Park said the way was open for him for applying to the supreme court for a writ of mandamus compelling the judge to issue a temporary restraining order pending a hearing of the case by the supreme court. Whether the attorney intended such a step, however, was not known.

The state prison commission Tuesday issued a commission to Captain J. M. Burke, of Danville, as "temporary warden" of the state penitentiary located on the state prison farm at Milledgeville, Ga., and officials of the commission said this designation could not be construed to mean anything other than the state penitentiary at Milledgeville.

Churchmen's Club Holds Annual Banquet

Annual dinner of the men's class of the First Christian church held Monday night, January 24, in celebration of the first anniversary of the club's founding. Dr. C. R. Stauffer, pastor of the church and founder of the men's class, was guest of honor and principal speaker.

SWAIN EXECUTION HAILED BY JUDGE.
Macon, Ga., January 23.—(AP)—A supersedeas motion, appearing a habeas corpus writ brought in United States court here by W. O. Cooper, Jr., attorney, which was signed today by Judge William J. Tilson, of the middle district federal court, automatically stays the execution of James A. Swain, who was to have died Friday, and appeals the case for final decision to the United States circuit court of appeals.

Judge Tilson refused to sign a writ of habeas corpus to prevent the execution of Swain, but he did issue a writ of certiorari to "illegally restraining Swain, and to prohibit the superintendent and wardens of the state prison farm from illegally executing him on Friday, January 28," said the supersedeas motion appealing his decision to the United States circuit court of appeals.

He said that these men were not properly inhibiting the formation of a new company but were standing in front of and against the forward movement of the entire state.

At the beginning of the afternoon session, Walter Colquitt began the final argument for the defendants. He discussed the law forming corporations, declaring that such features were made by the legislature.

"A stockholder has no right to come in and say 'I want money' instead of going into the consolidation," said Mr. Colquitt. "When the legislature says you may consolidate, a stockholder has no constitutional right to say 'I want money.'"

He concluded his arguments in behalf of the constitutionality of the consolidation law. Reuben R. Arnold, who delivered the opening argument for the plaintiffs, concluded the hearing Tuesday afternoon at 5:30 o'clock. He continued to attack the formation of the Georgia Power company declaring it was an attempt to void the lease held by the Georgia Railway and Power company and the Georgia Railway and Electric company's properties in Atlanta, and thereby reducing them to a worthless value.

Officials here were of the opinion that the case would lay dormant until October, 1927, when the United States circuit court would consider it and make a final decision in the case.

Was in Solitary Cell.
At the time Judge Tilson granted the supersedeas staying the execution of the death sentence, Swain was in a solitary cell in the Bibb county jail waiting to be carried this afternoon to Milledgeville to be placed in the death cell and prepared for the execution Friday.

Immediately upon serving of the petition, Captain Tom McCommon, jailer, took Swain from the solitary cell and replaced him in the section with his former cellmates.

Swain, now 28 years of age, killed Walter Johnson on the night of December 16, 1924. He was indicted by a grand jury in the Bibb superior court on February 23, 1925. The hearing consumed three days, and the jury returned a verdict of guilty, which carried the death sentence with it.

Judge Malley refused a motion for new trial, and the case was appealed to the Georgia supreme court, which upheld the judgment of the Bibb court. The supreme court refused a hearing and late in December Governor Walker refused clemency. Later the prison commission petitioned the governor to grant the condemned man a commutation to life imprisonment, but he again refused.

POWER MERGER LEGALLY UPHELD

Continued From Page One.

that the merger would vitiate their guarantee of 8 per cent annual dividends on their stock as set forth in the 1920-year lease of the power and electric companies.

Defendants Claim.
The defendants, the Georgia Railway and Power company, the Georgia Railway and Electric company, the Atlanta Railway and Electric company, and the East Georgia Power company, contended that the power power development of the state was dependent upon the proposed merger.

Its importance to the state in that there will be a leveraged industry and in that there will be a decentralization of industries tending to prevent the overcrowding and congestion in cities and in bringing to the small cities the opportunity for industrial development, was stressed by the defense.

The minority stockholders were represented by Attorneys Reuben and Lowry Arnold, the law firm of King, Caldwell and Padgett, Alfred C. Broom, Hewlett Hall, of Newman, and others.

The defendants were represented by the law firm of Alston, Alston, Foster and Moore, and the law firm of Colquitt and Conyers.

The intervening stockholders Monday were: F. B. Cole, Mrs. Clara E. Cole, Mrs. Clara N. Cole, Clara F. Cole, H. C. Glover, Mrs. Fannie Glover, Mrs. Annie Orr, Mary Clinton Orr, Mrs. Irene Banks, T. P. Zellars, Mrs. T. P. Zellars, Roswell C. Atkinson, J. C. Hood, Mary D. North, The S. S. Bailey, R. D. Jones, Loula E. Jones, F. L. Stevens, D. S. Cutino, Mrs. Lela Hughes, Mrs. Rosa W. Marbury, Miss Helen Long, Mrs. L. Thompson, Mrs. Lucile T. Jones, Mrs. Ruth Hill, Lewis H. Hill, Mary C. Freeman, Mrs. Callie H. Freeman, R. W. Freeman, R. A. Field, all of Newman, Ga.

and Dr. Willis Jones, Mrs. Rena Jones, of Atlanta. They are represented by the law firm of Hall and Jones.

Cites Examples.
At the opening of the hearing Tuesday Alfred C. Broom resumed his argument, reading at length from legal opinions and decisions in efforts to show that the proposed consolidation is contrary to public policy and unconstitutional.

He concluded his reading at 10:30 o'clock and was followed by Robert C. Alston, of defense counsel. Mr. Alston described the objections to the merger as a group standing across the path of progress of Georgia, waving a flag and declaring, "No, you shall not proceed until you pay me."

He said that these men were not properly inhibiting the formation of a new company but were standing in front of and against the forward movement of the entire state.

At the beginning of the afternoon session, Walter Colquitt began the final argument for the defendants. He discussed the law forming corporations, declaring that such features were made by the legislature.

"A stockholder has no right to come in and say 'I want money' instead of going into the consolidation," said Mr. Colquitt. "When the legislature says you may consolidate, a stockholder has no constitutional right to say 'I want money.'"

He concluded his arguments in behalf of the constitutionality of the consolidation law. Reuben R. Arnold, who delivered the opening argument for the plaintiffs, concluded the hearing Tuesday afternoon at 5:30 o'clock. He continued to attack the formation of the Georgia Power company declaring it was an attempt to void the lease held by the Georgia Railway and Power company and the Georgia Railway and Electric company's properties in Atlanta, and thereby reducing them to a worthless value.

Officials here were of the opinion that the case would lay dormant until October, 1927, when the United States circuit court would consider it and make a final decision in the case.

MRS. L. A. SHARPE, OF CONYERS, DIES

Mrs. L. A. Sharpe, 59, of Conyers, Ga., wife of W. A. Sharpe, prominent Conyers merchant, died Tuesday afternoon at the home of her son, W. A. Sharpe, 973 Highland view, N. E., following a brief illness.

In addition to her husband, she is survived by four sons, W. A. C. L. H. R., and M. W. Sharpe; three daughters, Mrs. J. S. Jolly, of Homer, Ga.; Mrs. D. E. Corn, of Columbia, S. C.; and Mrs. L. H. Sharpe, of Conyers, and two sisters, Mrs. J. I. Coleman and Mrs. F. R. Golden, both of Atlanta.

Funeral services for Mrs. Sharpe will be held at the Conyers Methodist church, at 3 o'clock Wednesday afternoon. Interment will be in Conyers cemetery.

"But can ANY
Shoe be SO
Comfortable"

HE ALWAYS had his shoe could be as comfortable as we described the Cantilever.

That was before he bought his first pair.

Now he is a steady buyer of the

And he says his feet are like new.

If you need arch support, try the Cantilever.

It gives natural support; no metal; just a flexible, snug, comfortable fit under that vital part of the foot.

We Fit by X-Ray—the Perfect Way

Sold here only by:

Cantilever Shoe Store

126 Peachtree Arcade
Walnut 5655

INSURANCE AND THRIFT SUBJECT OF SPEAKER

Walter Powell, general agent for the John Hancock Life Insurance company in Atlanta, will be the principal speaker at the regular weekly Masonic club luncheon at 12:30 o'clock this afternoon at the Henry Grady hotel.

The program is in connection with the January "thrift month" being sponsored by the civic clubs of the city. Mr. Powell's talk will be on the relation between life insurance and thrift. Another feature on the program will be the musical selections by Mrs. T. G. Fowler and singing by the members.

THOMASVILLE NEEDS
RAIN FOR FARMS

Thomasville, Ga., January 23.—(Special.)—So far Thomasville has almost reached its record for January warmth, the mercury climbing up to 78.

It has been perfect weather except that rain is needed. This is especially true in the country districts where the farmers are preparing to plant their spring crops. Rain is also needed to bring out vegetation that was injured by the cold.

POWER EMPLOYEES
SUFFER SEVERE BURNS

Three employees of the Georgia Railway and Power company were burned about the hands and their clothing damaged while working on an electrical mechanism in which they believed the current was off late Tuesday afternoon at the Davis street substation, according to officials of the company.

G. Mozley, of 160 Fair street; Harold Tripp, of 1223 Druid place, and W. A. Perry, of 26 East Fair street, received severe burns when they came in contact with live wires.

The men were rushed to a private hospital, where doctors stated that Mozley's condition is dangerous. Tripp was also severely burned but his condition was not considered serious, while Perry received minor burns, it was stated at the hospital.

SISTER-IN-LAW
OF F. L. STANTON
DIES AT WAYCROSS

Waycross, Ga., January 23.—(Special.)—Mrs. V. L. Stanton, widow of V. L. Stanton, and sister-in-law of the late Frank L. Stanton, poet laureate of Georgia, died this afternoon after a lingering illness. Before her marriage she was Miss Margaret Clark, of Baltimore. She lived in Waycross for more than 40 years and was a devout member of the Catholic church.

She is survived by four daughters, Mrs. Hoyt Catlin, of Bridgeport, Conn.; Mrs. Sam Lee, Sanitarium, N. C.; Mrs. Joe Peniston, Newman, Ga.; Mrs. Fred Paradise, Miami; three sons, Walter Stanton, of Atlanta; C. V. Stanton, of Waycross, and Valentine Stanton, of Waycross.

Funeral arrangements will be announced later.

But can ANY
Shoe be SO
Comfortable"

HE ALWAYS had his shoe could be as comfortable as we described the Cantilever.

That was before he bought his first pair.

Now he is a steady buyer of the

And he says his feet are like new.

If you need arch support, try the Cantilever.

It gives natural support; no metal; just a flexible, snug, comfortable fit under that vital part of the foot.

We Fit by X-Ray—the Perfect Way

Sold here only by:

Cantilever Shoe Store

126 Peachtree Arcade
Walnut 5655

INSURANCE AND THRIFT SUBJECT OF SPEAKER

Walter Powell, general agent for the John Hancock Life Insurance company in Atlanta, will be the principal speaker at the regular weekly Masonic club luncheon at 12:30 o'clock this afternoon at the Henry Grady hotel.

The program is in connection with the January "thrift month" being sponsored by the civic clubs of the city. Mr. Powell's talk will be on the relation between life insurance and thrift. Another feature on the program will be the musical selections by Mrs. T. G. Fowler and singing by the members.

THOMASVILLE NEEDS
RAIN FOR FARMS

Thomasville, Ga., January 23.—(Special.)—So far Thomasville has almost reached its record for January warmth, the mercury climbing up to 78.

It has been perfect weather except that rain is needed. This is especially true in the country districts where the farmers are preparing to plant their spring crops. Rain is also needed to bring out vegetation that was injured by the cold.

POWER EMPLOYEES
SUFFER SEVERE BURNS

Three employees of the Georgia Railway and Power company were burned about the hands and their clothing damaged while working on an electrical mechanism in which they believed the current was off late Tuesday afternoon at the Davis street substation, according to officials of the company.

G. Mozley, of 160 Fair street; Harold Tripp, of 1223 Druid place, and W. A. Perry, of 26 East Fair street, received severe burns when they came in contact with live wires.

The men were rushed to a private hospital, where

PLEASE REMEMBER:

This campaign is in no way directed against legitimate local business houses and local branch stores of national concerns, which, because of the nature of their merchandise, find it convenient or necessary to demonstrate from door to door. Such reliable stores are entitled to your patronage. It is with the fly-by-night, irresponsible peddler for out-of-town concerns that this series of articles has to deal.

Atlanta Will Never Be Caught By the Tentacles of This Octopus

Yes, there is such an animal!

And, you don't have to consult the diary of Sinbad the Sailor to find him.

This commercial octopus is a greedy "cuss" with propensities as voracious as his brother who lives in the sea. This particular octopus lives on land and he satisfies his insatiable appetite by devouring businesses large and small.

He has been known to bring "hard times" to communities by his grasping methods. He is the Out-of-Town Octopus and his tentacles are represented by thousands of "Bell Ringers" or house-to-house canvassers.

These tentacles are constantly reaching out for more businesses to feed upon. The octopus thrives and waxes fat because the citizens of a community permit him to do so.

The oily-tongued, smooth, suave peddler who knocks at your door tomorrow with a specious story about saving you money on some article of apparel, household supplies, or what not, is one of the representatives of the commercial octopus. If you listen to him, if you encourage him, if you BUY FROM HIM, you are making the way easy for the "Bell Ringer" Octopus to take away some of the business of your city and to put the quietus on PROSPERITY IN YOUR COMMUNITY.

This is no idle dream. This is no childish goblin tale conjured up to "throw a scare" into the buying public. It is the truth—cold, hard facts, more's the pity!

The "Bell Ringer" Octopus devoured millions of dollars worth of business in the cities and towns of the nation last year. Investigation shows that an amount of money that is almost staggering was sent out of local communities to the lair of the octopus.

This means an absolute economic loss to your community and others like it all over the country. This money was TAKEN OUT OF CIRCULATION in your city and the others that paid tribute to the greed of the octopus. NONE OF THIS tremendous sum of money was spent in YOUR COMMUNITY, none of it ever came back to you.

If you believe this is the wrong principle, then say "No" and shut the door the next time a peddler calls at your home or your office. Buy the things you need at your local stores with every assurance of value, quality and economy. And remember, no out-of-town house peddler can ever give you MORE for your money than your local merchants. It's not in the cards.

It's entirely up to you. Nobody else can keep the octopus from our gates. If you want prosperity and happiness in your community, shun the peddler as you would the plague. Patronize your local stores; keep your money at home!

Right now, resolve to become a member of the "Buy-at-Home Club." It's the only sane, sensible and satisfactory way of doing business.

This Advertisement Published to Promote Better Business Conditions in Atlanta and a Greater Measure of Prosperity for the Entire Community

ERLANGER MAKES THEATRICAL DEAL

Through a deal closed in New York recently between the Erlanger interests and the Chanin theater chain a widespread effect on the bookings of the Erlanger interests will follow and Atlanta will be able to witness some of the greatest shows in the country which heretofore have been affiliated with other looking enterprises, it was announced Tuesday by Lewis Haase, manager of the Erlanger theater here.

Under the new deal A. L. Erlanger will hereafter handle all the bookings of the Chanin chain, which includes five of New York's leading theaters and leading playhouses of Philadelphia, Baltimore, Boston and other eastern cities. The deal will give the Erlanger interests virtually double the number of shows from which to make selections for road tours and will bring the Erlanger booking offices attractions of some of the leading independent bookers of the country, who heretofore have not sent their attractions out over the Erlanger routes.

Has Upper Hand.

According to news received by Mr. Haase from New York the deal gives A. L. Erlanger the "whip hand" in bookings of the best legitimate attractions and will bring to the Erlanger banner numerous attractions which have been booked with the Shuberts, the chief Erlanger rival, during past seasons.

In outlining the effects of the deal, the New York Times printed the following article:

"This arrangement adds considerably to the strength of the Erlanger interests in New York. Twenty years ago A. L. Erlanger, then in partnership with Marc Klaw, virtually controlled the theatrical business through his large holdings of theaters, through booking arrangements with other theaters and by his own extensive production activities. The Klaw and Erlanger organization was always referred to as 'the syndicate' and the word of the syndicate was law with independent producers. Without the cooperation of 'the syndicate' few plays could obtain adequate bookings.

Held at Standstill.

"Since the rise of the Shubert opposition, the Erlanger interests have been quiescent, and for the last five years, during which time the Shuberts have advanced their strength through building or leasing new theaters, A. L. Erlanger has kept his organization at a virtual standstill. As opposed to the 19 Shubert-booked theaters in New York the Erlanger office has controlled but 15 houses and some of these—such as the Belasco or the Empire—were continually used by their owners for their own productions, which precluded other bookings. As a result the Erlanger office has lost many opportunities for booking independent productions because of the lack of theaters.

"With the addition of its list of houses of the three present Chanin theaters, the two others now under construction and the Lyric and Wal-lack's, which are soon to come into Chanin control, seven in all, the Erlanger office is again an aggressive factor in 'show business.'

"The first new Erlanger owned theater to be built in New York in many years is in course of construction in West Forty-fourth street, to be called the Erlanger. A new Erlanger house is being built in Chicago, and the Chanins also are building their own theater in several of the larger cities in the east and middle west."

Cement Company Official Speaks At Convention

Celebrating their annual convention, representatives of the Portland Cement association in the southeast, with headquarters in Atlanta, held a banquet at the Capital City club Tuesday night. The main speaker of the evening was George E. Warren, assistant general manager of the Portland Cement association, with headquarters in Chicago.

Mr. Warren spoke on the importance of making homes fireproof by using concrete and stucco in construction. Interesting figures were cited by Mr. Warren, showing that of 140,000,000 square yards of concrete used in the United States last year, 17,000,000 square yards were used in the southeast. This is an average of almost 2,000,000 square yards to a state, he said.

William A. Hansell, chief of construction in Atlanta, said that this city ranks fourth in the United States in the total amount of square yards of concrete pavement. According to figures cited by Mr. Hansell there are 2,700,000 square yards of concrete in Atlanta.

Other speakers included J. M. Marshall, Jr., district engineer of the Portland Cement association with offices in Atlanta, who also heads the entertainment committee for the visiting representatives, and Seery B. Black, engineer with the state bridge building department. The convention will continue for two days, Feb. 1—cedilysl..oi

WOMAN'S DIVISION OF CHAMBER NAMES COMMITTEE HEADS

Miss Lois Manning, newly installed president of the woman's division of the chamber of commerce, has announced chairmen of committees of the organization for 1927. These chairmen and committees of which they have charge include, forum, Miss Susie C. Wailes; membership, Mrs. Rae S. Addis; art, Miss Virginia Bowie; day nursery, Mrs. Margaret Dies; civic development, Mrs. R. L. Turman, with Mrs. Jessie S. Marks as co-chairman; better dance, Mrs. Lillian A. Dove; music, Mrs. Theodora Morgan-Stephens; hospital, Mrs. Adeline M. Swagerty; schools and churches, Mrs. Nellie Nix Edwards; reception, Miss Kate Hammerschmidt; building, Mrs. Marian R. Clifton; welcome stranger, Mrs. S. H. Sewell; publicity, Miss Olive Hall.

Every member of the division who can devote any time to active work in the organization is given the opportunity of serving on one of these committees and of choosing the committee on which she wishes to be placed. Miss Manning requests that all members communicate with Mrs. Wilber Colvin, secretary, with reference to this committee work as soon as possible.

Fulton Schools To Get $501,000 Of State Funds

The state department of education will turn over to the Atlanta school system a check for $501,000 during the week as this city's share of the $501,000 available for distribution among city and county schools, it was announced Tuesday at the state department of education. Atlanta's share is the largest to be received by any Georgia city. The city of Columbus will draw the second largest sum from the state. County schools will receive $227,000.

YOUTH CONFESSES ROBBERY SERIES

Approximately 20 burglaries extending over a period of two months and confined almost wholly to A. & P. stores were explained to police Tuesday by Ralph K. Poss, 19, who was arrested Monday by Patrolmen H. P. Wiggins and S. P. Belcher in the act of looting a cash register of an A. & P. store at 770 Marietta street.

Poss confessed to having gathered about $1,200 from A. & P. cash registers, according to Detectives W. H.

McGee and W. W. Ford who grilled him.

The youth, according to the alleged confession, gave up an ironworker's career about the middle of November in favor of the store breaking profession, which he set about in a thorough way and always working alone.

Beginning on the night of November 25 with an A. & P. store at 820 Ponce de Leon avenue, he robbed another at 347 Peachtree street, and at intervals of a few days, broke into stores at 329 South Pryor street, 1500 DeKalb avenue, 110 Whitehall street, Oxford road, Peachtree road at Brookhaven, and many others.

It was Poss' second visit to the store at 770 Marietta street that proved his undoing, he said.

Long before the capture and confession of Poss, police had decided that the burglaries were the work of one man, or of a group of associates working under the same direction.

GIpsy SMITH HEARD BY LARGE AUDIENCE

Gipsy Smith Tuesday night again spoke to a congregation which thronged Central Presbyterian church. His text was John 3:7, "Ye must be born again." He said that in the beginning God created man "in the image of God created He him." But when temptation came, the man fell and the temple of God was debauched by sin and the image of God went out of his heart. "And," Mr. Smith continued, "God says that we are spiritually dead and we can understand spiritual things only as the image of God is restored by the incoming of Jesus Christ."

After pointing out that such outstanding evangelists as John Wesley, George Whitfield and Dwight L. Moody preached over and over again "Ye must be born again," Mr. Smith exclaimed "but the thing I want you to see is that all these men rolled into one couldn't invent a doctrine like that. It was the Son of God who gave us this message—who side-stepped from the eternal stage to whisper into the heart of a sinful world, 'Ye must be born again.'"

Introducing Nicodemus and his question "Can a man be born when he is old?" Mr. Smith went on to show the increasing difficulty as the years roll by for a man to break off from any bad or injurious habits, whether it be for liquor or drugs or whatnot. "Dear friend," Rev. Smith concluded, "stop trying to measure God with your two-by-four mind. You can't measure God with a human yardstick. You are finite. He is infinite. And the carnal man cannot understand spiritual things. I want to ask you 'Have you been born again?' I am not asking if you belong to a church, for church membership is not a substitute for the new birth. Can you stand and know beyond a shadow of a doubt that you have experienced this thing for yourself and say with the Apostle Paul 'I know whom I have believed.'"

Sermons will continue during the remainder of the week with preaching each evening except Saturday.

ed, "stop trying to measure God with your two-by-four mind. You can't measure God with a human yardstick. You are finite. He is infinite. And the carnal man cannot understand spiritual things. I want to ask you 'Have you been born again?' I am not asking if you belong to a church, for church membership is not a substitute for the new birth. Can you stand and know beyond a shadow of a doubt that you have experienced this thing for yourself and say with the Apostle Paul 'I know whom I have believed.'" for child safety by the Atlanta Safety council, H. H. McLaughlin, safety engineer for the Travelers' Insurance company, will deliver the principal address at the regular luncheon of the safety council, 12:30 o'clock today at the Ansley hotel.

Sermons will continue during the remainder of the week with preaching each evening except Saturday.

Another feature of the meeting will be the talk of Chief of Police James L. Beavers outlining the part the police department will play in making the streets of Atlanta safe for children.

13 Lucky for Her.

St. Louis, Mo.—Is 13 unlucky? Marie Clarkson doesn't think so. The engagement of Miss Clarkson, who has been a bridesmaid at 13 recent weddings, to Robt. Prince Casey, of Los Angeles, has been announced.

McLAUGHLIN SPEAKS TO SAFETY COUNCIL

With inauguration of a movement

We Have Disposed of Our Lease And Must Vacate in Sixty Days

:: Therefore ::

EMPIRE FURNITURE CO.'S

Removal Sale!

$150,000 of furniture and rugs!

An Event Extraordinary! Not To Be Confused With Ordinary Sales

Remember, Every Piece of Furniture In Our Stock Is Offered --- and

The Lowest Prices in The Furniture History of Atlanta

Open Evenings Until 9

Free Storage Arranged

THIS out-of-the-ordinary sale will prove the greatest furniture event Atlanta has ever known. Startling and sensational are the sale prices on our complete stock of Empire quality furniture, furniture from America's finest and foremost factories. The greatest opportunity to save ever offered you, and the doors to this opportunity open Wednesday morning at 9 o'clock.

Terms Can Be Arranged
Private Parking Space

EMPIRE FURNITURE CO.

"Home of Grand Rapids Furniture"

263-265 Peachtree Street

THE CONSTITUTION

CLARK HOWELL
Editor and General Manager
Clark Howell, Jr., Business Manager

Entered at the Postoffice at Atlanta as second-class mail matter.
Telephone WA. 6565.

SUBSCRIPTION RATES:
Daily... $1.00 per month
Sunday... $1.00 per month
By Mail Only
Daily... $1.00 per month
Sunday... $1.00 per month

ATLANTA, GA., JAN. 26, 1927.

J. R. HOLLIDAY, Constitution Building, sole advertising manager for all territory outside of Atlanta.

THE CONSTITUTION is on sale in New York City by 2 n. m. the day after issue. It can be had by calling the News Stand, Broadway and Forty-third street (Times building corner), Schmitt News Agency, at Bryant Park, and Grand Central Depot.

The Constitution is not responsible for advance payments to out-of-town local carriers, dealers or agents. Receipts given for subscription payments not in accordance with published rates are not authorized; also not responsible for subscription payments until received at office of publication.

Member of the Associated Press.
The Associated Press is exclusively entitled to use for publication of all news dispatches credited to it or not otherwise credited to this paper, and also the local news published herein.

JOB WORSHIPPERS—Then Job answered the Lord, and said, I know that thou canst do everything, and I know that thou canst be witholden from thee. Job 42:1, 2.

PRAYER—O Lord, Thou givest grace to the humble and liftest up all that bow down.

THE MUSCLE SHOALS ISSUE.

Aside from farm legislation there is not a more important matter pending before congress than the effort to reach a definite and satisfactory program as to Muscle Shoals.

There are several propositions before the house committee, which now has the issue under consideration, one of which was submitted on the eve of the hearings. The latter, backed by the venerable Representative Madden, of Illinois, has been referred to by the American farm bureau federation, according to Washington dispatches, as "an answer to the power company's offer."

The Constitution has consistently taken the position, and it reiterates it, that the first consideration in any control or operating contract should be the capacity production of nitrates to be sold to farmers throughout the nation at nominal costs.

All proposals before the committee, as we understand them, carry that provision. The production of nitrates, however, to full capacity will absorb only a comparatively small part of the hydroelectric power, Muscle Shoals, with the developments made and to be made by the government, being first of all a huge hydroelectric generating plant second only in America to that of Niagara.

After the supplying of nitrates, our position is that the surplus power should be transmitted throughout the southeastern states for the building up, stimulation and encouragement of greater and more widely distributed industrial interests.

Time and tests have clearly proven that, in the south particularly, industry and agriculture must be closely coordinated in order to assure satisfactory material progress. And just as agriculture cannot be confined to any one zone, and industry to another, they must be closely linked in every section of every state.

Cheap waterpower is the bedrock upon which industrial progress can find a firm foundation. We need more of it, and we need a wider distribution.

Muscle Shoals' surplus waterpower belongs as much to the southeast as does any other of the section's natural resources, and it should be allowed to spread out throughout the southeast for the progress and upbuilding of all sections therein.

LABOR HEAD A VISITOR.

William Green, president of the American Federation of Labor, with headquarters in Washington, is a distinguished and welcome guest of Atlanta today, and will deliver an address at the Wesley Memorial church this evening at 8 o'clock, to which the public is invited.

He succeeded the late Samuel Gompers, who for almost half a century headed the great organized labor contingency of America. By his able, conservative leadership he elicited the admiration of every broad-minded thinker, not only in this country, but throughout the world.

After the passing of this noted figure Mr. Green was selected to carry on the work, and in his administration he is following the conservative policies of his predecessor—policies that are bound to challenge the respect of all classes except the reds and radicals, of whom the south, fortunately, has but few.

This is an age of organization, not in one specific line of activity but in all.

Atlanta is proud to have Mr.

Green as a guest, and all commend the work to which he has consecrated his talents and best efforts.

CERTIFYING WATER SUPPLIES.

No state in the union has on the whole more pure, healthful drinking water than Georgia. The municipalities of no state, on the whole, have higher bacteriological standards. And the whole nation ought to know it.

The eyes of thousands of people are turned to the southeast. They are coming in great numbers. Thousands of tourists are traveling around and through Georgia every week. Along with good roads and good, accessible schools, they inquire about the water. In this connection the state board of health has begun a wonderful work, and every municipality in the state ought to take advantage of it, have their respective drinking water analyzed and properly certified. Many cities and towns have done so. Many have not. Those that have not done so should get in touch with the department of sanitary engineering at once. It costs nothing. It is one of the many good services of the state board. The value of a certificate is incalculable.

Water is one of the things most freely and frequently required for existence and has a great influence upon health. Consequently, we should be seriously concerned with the quality of water which we drink. Typhoid fever and other diseases are caused by a certain water-borne organism. It becomes then the duty of municipal authorities and superintendents of waterworks to furnish only pure water to consumers. The following statement was made in connection with a recent court decision regarding such duty:

"In the light of advances in sanitation and methods of purifying water at the present time, it seems reasonable that a water company should at least make analysis of its water supply in order to perform its duty of due care and avoid liability for negligence."

The division of sanitary engineering of the state board of health offers service for regular monthly analyses, as well as inspections of water plants and recommendations for sanitary measures. This places the sanitary supervision of the water supply under the state board. As a public health activity it is desired to extend this service to include every public water supply in the state. An appeal is made to all municipalities in the state having a public water supply, and which are not at the present time receiving this service, to cooperate with the state board in this important work.

Is not this a valuable investment without cost?

The basis for certification follows:

Not less than 10 monthly analyses.

A bacteriological standard recommended by the United States public health service.

A sanitary standard based on the source, treatment and protection of supplies.

The first requirement is emphasized because it is evidently the easiest requirement for a waterworks superintendent to meet; and further, because it states definitely the minimum number of monthly analyses considered necessary in order to determine the quality of a water throughout the year.

Certification of a public water supply is fair and impartial and based entirely upon the stated requirements.

The division of sanitary engineering solicits requests from those responsible for the quality of public water supplies for assistance in raising the quality of water to the standard necessary for certification.

BOY SCOUT MOVEMENT.

The Boy Scout movement and its great value in building sturdy manhood, independence, self-reliance, determination, character, cannot be too strongly indorsed and encouraged.

The meeting in Atlanta this week of the sixth region councils has emphasized, in reports of services rendered, and in the addresses of leaders, the commendable progress that is being made.

The drive to raise $75,000 for the Bert Adams scout camp near Atlanta means so much—so much to the growing generation and to the economic and cultural future of Atlanta—that it ought to meet with hearty, earnest and ready response.

One of the concrete evidences of prosperity in south Georgia is a new cement plant at Waycross.

There is a kick in the wetness of Nashville.

Adelaide was prone to ride in any car that's made.

She hit a stump and got a bump. Adelaide where Adelaide.

California gets into print occasionally with an earthquake, but the grapefruit keeps Florida always in the public eye.

BITS OF NEW YORK LIFE

BY JOSEPH VAN RAALTE

New York, January 25.—Gene Fowler, talented, genial and urbane scribe, raconteur and jolly gentleman plus, has his moments of depression when he is convinced that life is a joke and the world a hollow mockery, a snare and a delusion. At such periods Gene's procedure is to repair to his study where, in deep seclusion, he may express his inmost feelings through the medium of a six-cylinder, triple expansion, double-breasted, eight-octave accordion—a gift from David Belasco.

Gene happened to mention one time in David's presence that when he was low in the mind nothing on earth soothed his ruffled feelings so much as a concertina.

Next day Belasco sent one over with a wooden case and his best regards. "Anything to make the smile permanent," said the accompanying note. Gene went out and bought a second-hand camp stool from an undertaking shop and returned to the office where he slung the strap of the accordion across his shoulder, sat down and started to tease out the opening bars of the "Prisoner's Song."

"What's the big idea?" queried the boss.

"Nothing," said Gene. "I'm just practicing to become a blind man."

Venice is now closed to the Duchessa. It was her one haven—the only place on earth, she supposed, where vaudeville performers had never heard of the "walk back home" joke.

The other night, in her favorite hot-spring she ran across the announcement that in Venice girls "out on gonzo" rides with little lapsable boxes in their possession so that in the event of an argument, they can paddle back home.

"That," said the Duchessa, dipping a corner of her Vienna coffee ring into the midnight gruel, "is the final straw. I am through. Henceforth vaudeville to me is anathema."

"What do you mean by 'anathema'?" she asked.

"I can't give you the exact meaning," she replied, "but if the definition corresponds with the sound, it's exactly what I mean."

That seemed to end it.

Duly crediting Sir James M. Barrie with the honor of "What Not to Do in a Silk Hat," the horn-rimmed publicity man for Helen Hayes, pins on Sir James the prettiest verbal gem in the collection. Across the bottom of a recent newspaper ad, in "awed italics" he writes:

"World's highest paid playwright." "I can picture George Bernard Shaw reading the clipping from the hands of some gleeful London Barryite, and hear Candida's Paw murmuring into his face fringe:

"Again, I wonder, why the devil should I visit the United States of America?"

Adel's Menjou, screen star, to whom a silk hat is as essential as a telephone to a chorus girl, is disclosed in a recent biographical sketch as a "constant gum chewer."

"I hold this truth to be self evident that no gum has a right to chew gum while simultaneously sporting a silk topper."

Not less than believe me consult your well-known etiquette book, chapter XXV: "What Not to Do in a Silk Hat."

And the same holds true of plug cut.

"Variety," Broadway's equivalent of "Bradstreet," carries a weekly series of the "hits" and "misses" of New York's dramatic critics.

Five years ago the editor of a paper that was such a list would have been looked upon as a candidate for the funny house. Since Albee's Irish Begonia hit Forty-second street, the Park Bowditchers have taken themselves so seriously in their reviews of current plays, occupy a place in the theatrical scheme of things as important as "The Guinain" opinion of Wayne B. Wheeler.

Anne Nichols, she done it. (Copyright, 1927, for The Constitution.)

Comments The Constitution for Urging Diversification

Editor Constitution: I want to compliment The Constitution on the splendid work it is doing to encourage and inspire the farmers of Georgia to reduce their cotton acreage and adopt the diversified crop plan, the only way to agricultural prosperity.

Your editorial in the Sunday Constitution was very impressive and I am sure will have a wide influence.

The cartoon "Diversify" on the first page should make a lasting impression upon every intelligent, thinking farmer. I would very much appreciate your advising me how I could secure a copy of this plate to reprint in the Diversified Farmer. Would be glad to give The Constitution full credit for the origin.

You are doing more to encourage and assist the development of diversified farming than any other paper in the state and I cordially and gratefully hope you continue with this splendid work.

L. W. TRAPER, Editor, Southeast Diversified Farmer, Griffin, Ga., January 24, 1927.

The Way I Feel About It

A THOUGHT FOR TODAY.
If a child is afraid of his parents, some day he will make them afraid of him.

EPH SNOW.
"There are a few men in every community whose single purpose is to lead a double life," laments Eph Snow.

SCIENCE AND NEWS.
Sleep is the thing that prevents some people from being a nuisance all the time instead of only two-thirds.

Hot peppers are a staple food in Mexico and corn is a staple food. One out of every 20 persons in the United States raises hogs. The hog raises the money to buy the hogs. There are 22 languages and dialects in India which is no place for a telephone girl.

THE PUBLICITY HOUND.
The true publicity hound enjoys his name in print even if he is only mentioned as "a prominent bootlegger."

A SHORT STORY.
Carl Walks, a St. Louis business man, prides himself on his ability to repair his automobile, and it long has been his boast that with a pair of pliers and a hairpin he can keep the machine going under any circumstances. But the other day while he and Mrs. Walks were out in the country, their car "went dead" and Walks suffered the humiliation of being towed.

If I thought you said that with a hairpin and a pair of pliers you could keep any car going, one of my friends taunted him.

"I can," replied Walks, "and I had the pliers all right this time, but I had forgotten that my wife has hobbled her."

—W. E. S. (Copyright, 1927, for The Constitution.)

LOOKING AND LISTENING

BY SAM W. SMALL

Some Experience-Forged Facts About the Great Things of Florida.

The sun has again discovered Florida, and the thermometer has cured its brost-bite and recovered its climbing ability. The cold snap did more damage to temper than to vegetation.

After the awful deflation of the land boom, double-breasted, eight-octave hurricanes, the freeze was taken as only a short crack on the calamity whip.

The anchored Floridian becomes a hard-boiled optimist and his song of "A Good Time Coming" never becomes chilled.

Down at Miami in September, while rummaging around in the debris of that terrific hurricane, the oldtimers were actually enthusiastic over how quickly the weather had returned to the splendidly they would resurrect the magic city. And they were not talking through their storm-tattered hats.

They meant what they said, and already they have made good in a marvelous way. Today you have to hire a guide in Miami to point out to you which way the hurricane traveled through the town?

The Cap of Fortunatus. This writer has seen Florida well for more than fifty years. He was one of the consolidators 45 years ago of the two daily newspapers in Jacksonville that became The Times Union, now the premier journal of the state, and one of the most substantial and influential newspapers of the South.

Colonel Willis Ball is hard for even a veteran newspaperman to imagine how it could be bettered either in opinion or in fact.

Recently John Temple Graves II has been promoted to the editorship of The Jacksonville Journal, and as The Constitution that cannot be shaken by should mean new vigor and fresh idealism in the conduct of that admirable newspaper.

His accomplished and lamented father, Colonel John Temple Graves, was the editor of The Union when I purchased the control of it 45 years ago, and we were fast friends to the end of his brilliant life.

Florida, indeed, was the cap of Fortunatus. Both by the favors of God and the processes of terrestrial evolution, she possesses the unalienable elements of the highest and inevitable prosperities.

Climate, soil and indigenous products are hers in such surety and power, and so naturally indefeasible that human wit cannot ignore them and human enterprise cannot escape their magnetism. By and large, whether in short time or through lengthened development, Florida is bound to be the Eldorado of the continent—a playground for the opulent, if you please, but a gold mine of rainbows.

Whoever comes to Florida with serious purpose to become a Floridian should understand that the gold which saturates the soil and atmosphere of the state is not to be had by beating the air with empty hands or scuffling the sand with itching toes. The gold does not develop into oranges without a tree and culture to create them, and the gold does not spring out of the soil into luscious pineapples without intelligent industry applied to the plants. So the man who comes hunting for fortune in Florida must bring capital in the shape of brains and steady labor. With them he can scarcely fail to reap from his rainbows.

THE WORLD'S WINDOW

BY PIERRE VAN PAASSEN.

"Ixsoire."

Once upon a time there was a young man who had just graduated from high school, who set to work to discover a new world language such as Volapuk and Esperanto. Only Volapuk and Esperanto had not yet been thought of. The new "lingua mundi" was built upon classic Greek roots. The young man called his system Ixsoire and was praised by savants and linguists in every country of Europe. "From the roots of those Greek nouns," he said, "there will grow a tree that will cover with its foliage the whole of humanity." But the system did not spread. Four or five fellow students mastered the new universal language, but that was the extent of the number of its adherents. The inventor became lawyer, politician, member of the chamber. He was always taken quite seriously in Paris. Almost forgotten as it was, it has never been revived, and the fact that one of the combatants of a few days ago was a well-known journalist.

Journalists—Duellists. One would have thought that the Parisian duel in which nobody was hurt except occasionally the seconds had been laughed out of existence by the world in general, although it was always taken quite seriously in Paris. Almost forgotten as it was, it has never been revived, and the fact that one of the combatants of a few days ago was a well-known journalist.

Spectres. The land of France lies in the grip of winter. The streets in Paris are almost deserted. The famous fountain on the Place de la Concorde and the water in the fountains of the Bois have turned into fantastic monsters of ice. On the Grand Canal at Versailles people are skating. Heavy snowfalls are reported from the Riviera. Morocco has suffered from hail storms and frost. The cold weather, however, is bringing something to the surface in Paris life that the government is anxious to hide. Swarms of destitute people hover around churches and public buildings. Each afternoon a pale, shivering crowd is seen in front of the offices of the evening papers, where the first editions are snatched from the hands of the vendors by the hungry and the homeless. The hope of finding the ad that will give them a job.

(Copyright, 1927, for The Constitution.)

Your Boy and Your Girl

BY ARTHUR DEAN, S. D.
The Parent Counsellor

PURELY PERSONAL. To the many readers who sent me Christmas cards and good wishes for the new year may I extend, through this word of acknowledgment, my appreciative thanks.

And to the curious but well-intentioned readers who asked me this question: "What was your year's resolution?" may I say that I made no new one for 1927. It was some job during 1926 to keep my old one. And it being such a good one I simply put a new frame around it and hung it up for 1927. So here it is. It is not original but comes from a prayer hung outside the door of the cathedral at Old Chester, England.

"Give me a good digestion, Lord. Give me a healthy body. Lord. With sense to keep it at its best. Give me a healthy mind. Good Lord. To keep the good and shun the evil. Give me a healthy heart. Lord. To find a way to set it right. Give me a mind that is not bored. That does not whimper, whine or sigh. Don't let me worry overmuch. About the fussy thing called 'I.' Give me a sense of humor, Lord. Give me the grace to see a joke. To get some pleasure out of life. And pass it on to other folk."

OUR CONVERSATION CORNER. We have just had a high-school play which was not so bad as having a scarlet fever epidemic. But there was no trait of character shown by any character in the play which a parent would wish his son or daughter to emulate. There was not a lesson taught of any value. The thing was closed with a holdup of the entire cast at the point of an automatic, followed by a travesty on marriage. The thing was over. It was a professional crook who showed no redeeming traits. It at least was not snappy.

Must we sit through such stuff?

Must our children be immersed night after night in rehearsals of such bunk? Can you not send us a list of plays that are wholesome, constructive, useful in character development and inspirational? SCHOOL MAN.

Answer—You have given me a good idea, merci beaucoup. I have compiled that very thing with the aid of my competent associates. Your list has gone forward separately.

Laying on the Dollars. Will you not say a word about the cost of sending a child to a "free" school?

Answer—The education is free, but the accessories mount up. In a junior high school, for example, I obtained figures, the graduation expense averaged $60 for each pupil. During the senior year (average age 15) $30 was spent for lunts; $20 for car fares; physical training and athletic equipment $9; school publications $2.02; plays and entertainments $5.75; "incidentals" for various collections, class and club dues and parties, $21.23.

In another study it was found that it took $50 $1 bill to cover the average sixth-grade girl as per account rendered: Dress, $8 to $15; coat, $13 to $25; hat, $5 to $15; shoes, $2 to $5; rubbers, $1.25; shoes, $6 to $9; stockings, two pairs, $1.10; underwear, two pairs, $3; underclothing, $2; gloves, $1.50; hand bag, 65c; middie, $1.50; gym shoes, $1.00; total, $50.

We taxpayers are always kicking about the cost of our public schools. But I'll guarantee that its increase is nowhere nearly as great as the expenditures made by parents to meet two situations. Here they are:

(a) "But, mama, Susie Brown has a beautiful new coat."

(b) "Look, mama, I want my Mary to look as well as I want my school."

(Copyright, 1927, for The Constitution.)

Courage, Mr. Vare!

The Flotsam Does Not Count. Anyone with his eyes and hopes on Florida or other residential land should not allow himself to be affected by the flotsam on surface conditions. Always in a developing area there will be adventurers, shuffling speculators, option optimists and "contract" Croeseuses. Perhaps most of them mean to make honest calculations and realizable deals, but their mental calculations are maladjusted and their business visions are purblind.

But one is as liable to be caught foul in a real estate deal around Times Square in New York, or in the Chicago loop, as in any town in Florida. The plunger is not an exotic and can be as easily fooled out of his money in Manhattan as in Miami.

Of course, in the rush days of real estate "additions, divisions and subtractions" two years ago there were many cat-in-the-hat "promotions" and many persons caught who suffered severe losses.

Those days, happily, are now gone from Florida and Miami. But the renewed lines of development are those of sound investigation and safe investment. It will be many years before Florida will be again afflicted with a "boom," but every year ahead will be accentuated by an increase of citizenship and the profitable employment of the Aladdin riches of the commonwealth.

Not a Land of Wildcatters. This looker and listener is no hired Florida booster. He has no "subdivision" to sell. He simply knows what he writes here and his only interest is to "tell the world."

Florida is not a commonwealth of wildcatters. The oldtimers of the state are men who have weathered all the past stresses of Florida fortunes and never yet been heard to pipe a pessimistic note. They have the faith in Florida that cannot be shaken by punctured booms or tropic storms.

The newcomer may not be so stable in his faith and may suffer temporarily from "financial cold feet," but he recovers confidence when he sees the oldest inhabitants serene and unshaken.

Whoever comes to Florida with serious purpose to become a Floridian should understand that the gold which saturates the soil and atmosphere of the state is not to be had by beating the air with empty hands or scuffling the sand with itching toes. The gold does not develop into oranges without a tree and culture to create them, and the gold does not spring out of the soil into luscious pineapples without intelligent industry applied to the plants. So the man who comes hunting for fortune in Florida must bring capital in the shape of brains and steady labor. With them he can scarcely fail to reap from his rainbows.

Health Talks
BY DR. WILLIAM BRADY

THE YOUNG 'UNS ARE NOT SO BAD.

One mother of two girls, but no boys (hard luck!), puts this question when filing her reply in the questionnaire we conducted recently on the subject of sex instruction:

"Why is it that in spite of careful training and sex knowledge certain individuals go wrong? Why are the young people today, with their greater knowledge, apparently more difficult to handle?"

The first part of the question is not fair. Why is it that in spite of careful training and moral knowledge certain individuals steal, lie, kill, or swindle those who trust them? Would thieves be less likely to steal if their parents, teachers and religious advisers carefully shielded them throughout childhood from knowledge of stealing? Would it be fair or kind to a child to protect him throughout childhood from knowledge that such a thing as stealing or swindling is practiced by many persons under the name of business?

Young people today get a great deal more advertising than young people had in time gone. If a young woman an back in the eighties sort of eloped at the age of 17 or 18 years, only a few intimate friends of the family learned about it and they congratulated the happy couple on their return to the parental domain. Nowadays if a woman takes it into her head to include in such an escapade at such an early age the news is blazoned to the whole nation, more or less, and police organizations and private detective concerns vie with each other for a mention in the stories the newspaper people write about the affair.

All this, of course, makes the young people seem dreadful. We old folk read the lurid headlines and gasp and tell each other wondrous tales about that, oh, it certainly beats all the way they carry on nowadays.

A few years ago I myself was taken in by the force of advertising. I feared the young people were going to perdition or somewhere and going fast. But, on careful study of the best evidence I could find, bearing on conduct in the eighties and earlier, and a due recognition of the shameless amount of exaggeration, not to say misrepresentation in this "sensational" news, I had to conclude that there probably was as much downright wickedness in the quiet eighties as there is in this noisy jazz age.

Let us see, didn't they have the booze parlors pretty widely distributed over the territory in the eighties, with "ladies' entrances" plainly marked for the convenience of the buxom beauties? Were not certain females of the eighties, unmarried and married, noted in their little neighborhoods for their "sticking up on occasion"? Ditto for the respectable gentleman all the time? I think I can remember they were.

INQUIRING PARENT. Answer—The education is free, but the accessories mount up. In a junior high school, for example, I obtained figures, the graduation expense averaged $60 for each pupil. During the senior year (average age 15) $30 was spent for lunts; $20 for car fares; physical training and athletic equipment $9; school publications $2.02; plays and entertainments $5.75; "incidentals" for various collections, class and club dues and parties, $21.23.

In another study it was found that it took $50 $1 bill to cover the average sixth-grade girl as per account rendered: Dress, $8 to $15; coat, $13 to $25; hat, $5 to $15; shoes, $2 to $5; rubbers, $1.25; shoes, $6 to $9; stockings, two pairs, $1.10; underwear, two pairs, $3; underclothing, $2; gloves, $1.50; hand bag, 65c; middie, $1.50; gym shoes, $1.00; total, $50.

We taxpayers are always kicking about the cost of our public schools. But I'll guarantee that its increase is nowhere nearly as great as the expenditures made by parents to meet two situations. Here they are:

(a) "But, mama, Susie Brown has a beautiful new coat."

(b) "Look, mama, I want my Mary to look as well as I want my school."

(Copyright, 1927, for The Constitution.)

EVERYDAY QUESTIONS

ANSWERED BY Dr. S. Parkes Cadman.

New York City. Do you

Milton C. Work's Pointer On How To Play Bridge

Milton C. Work, the international bridge authority, will answer your auction bridge questions. A stamped self-addressed envelope must accompany each request for reply.

The pointer for today is: The player who first for his side makes the declaration that becomes the final contract is the Declarer.

In spite of the fact that Law 29 clearly states that the player who should be the Declarer, there are continual questions asking who should play the hand under circumstances similar to the following: South (Dealer) one Spades, West pass, North pass, East two Diamonds, South two Hearts, West pass, North two Spades, which obtains the contract. The contention is then made that South "having abandoned" his Spade declaration and the final bid in it having been made by North, that North should be the Declarer; and in spite of the fact that all laws of the game expressly state that in such case North becomes the Declarer, letters come to hand stating that the practice in certain communities is to the contrary.

It does not matter in the least what declarations may have intervened, nor who makes the final bid; it is the player who first for his side names the declaration that becomes the contract who is the Declarer and who has the hand of the Dummy faced opposite to him.

Another popular question is: Can a player who is "doubled out" score game and count a bonus for it? Some of my readers may find it hard to take this question seriously, but it means to ask whether a doubled Declarer can go game with tricks counted at double value, when he would not have gone game and his bid not been doubled. For those who are in doubt upon this point, the answer is: He can and does. (See Laws 38 (b) and 50.) In Progressive and Duplicate he gets the 125 bonus for winning a game in one hand.

Another oft repeated question is whether "easy Aces" count 20 for each side. The answer is that Aces count only when partners hold three or more. Three in one hand or divided count 30 for the partnership. If divided, regardless of whether the division is 3-1 or 2-2, count 40 for the partnership; and four held in one hand count 100 for the partnership.

Explicit on the subject of the "easy Aces" question: "One or two honors held by side are counted."

(Copyright, 1927, for The Constitution)

Flonzaley Quartet Here For Concert on Saturday

Coming to Atlanta for its twelfth reengagement, and its thirteenth local appearance, the Flonzaley Quartet will play at the Woman's Club auditorium Saturday afternoon at 3:30 o'clock as the third attraction in the series in time of the Atlanta Music club, according to announcement Tuesday by Mrs. Benjamin Le. Crew, acting president of the organization.

For 22 years this famous aggregation of stringed instrument players has toured America, and the quartet is now considered the only organization of its kind holding supreme rank both in Europe and America.

The quartet is composed of Adolfo Betti, first violin; Alfred Pouchon, second violin; Ivan d'Archembeau, cellist; and Nicholas Moldavain, violoncello. Although each of these musicians is considered an artist of concert ability, they have entered into an agreement to confine their public musical activities to string quartet music. It is recognized that music of this character requires not only the most finished technical skill but a foundation of musical culture that can only be acquired through a life-time of effort. No musical organization in America, it is said, has played a more prominent part than the Flonzaleys in forming national musical taste. To them goes the credit for reviving unknown and half-forgotten works by composers such as Beethoven, Brahms, and the old musicologists; Friedman and Bach. They were one of the first organizations in America to give concerts composed entirely of American music and they have not overlooked the lure of the moderns. Dohnanyi, Hugo Wolf, Debussy, Ravel and Regner have successfully been introduced to the quartet.

The 12 years of Atlanta concerts attest the popularity of the Flonzaleys in the city. Chamber music is considered the most aristocratic as well as the purest form of music, and the appearance of this foremost exponent of the art here is expected to be welcomed by local music lovers.

LUCKY ATLANTANS WILL GET TICKETS TO THE FORSYTH

Have you ever before been paid for looking through the classified advertising section of The Constitution? Well, here's your opportunity of taking advantage of the wonderful things offered in the classified section and besides being paid for it by finding your name, clipping the ad and presenting it to The Constitution's classified advertising section, you will receive a pair of tickets to the Forsyth theater for the premiere of "Love 'Em and Leave 'Em."

Why not look for your name and see if you are one of the lucky ones, and if so, you will be one of the 30 Atlantans who will be guests of The Constitution at the Forsyth theater.

"Get, pet, love, leave and forget," is the problem Forsyth Players, headed by Ellis Baker and John Warner, will handle in a light, entertaining manner. We meet two sisters: one has a sweetheart whom she really loves, the other just fools and forgets.

Then comes a day when the fiance proposes and is turned down because Mama feels they ought to wait till he is making more money. She starts with her vacation but after a few lonely days, regrets and hastens to give her belated consent. But a good story should not be spoiled by explaining it.

With a chance to see a play like this and of taking advantage of the many things offered in The Constitution's classified section, why not look for your name? Each day this week three names will appear in the classified section and by following instructions above you may be one of the lucky ones.

NATIONAL CARBON LEADERS ATTEND FIVE-DAY SESSION

Southeastern representatives of the National Carbon company, who opened a five-day annual conference at the Hotel Grand Hotel Monday, tonight will be entertained at a banquet at the Baltimore hotel, followed by a theater party at the Erlanger.

Informal business discussions and talks by officials were featured at the first sessions of the meeting Monday and Tuesday. The program will be along the same lines today, with additional business meetings and several social events included in the program this afternoon and Thursday.

H. S. Scott, general sales manager; E. E. Horne, chief radio engineer; and P. B. West, advertising manager, are among the officials from the national headquarters in New York, who are attending the conference.

W. B. Ayer and Son Advertising agency, Philadelphia, which handles the advertising of the National Carbon company, is also in Atlanta for the meeting.

Rodney Morrison, Jr., who is in charge of the convention, is assisted by D. J. Calkins.

CO. SEEK FIND Mussolini's Philosophy of Life ORIGINATED BY GEORGE

Washington, January 25.—(Special.)—Senator George today formally proposed an amendment to the Norbeck-Johnson bill appropriating $2,000,000 for distribution of seed to the farmers of Georgia on account of crop failure in 1925 and 1926. The senator stated that he did not know whether the bill would pass, but if it did pass he would insist most earnestly on his amendment in justice to the farmers of Georgia who have suffered so much as farmers in other states.

The original bill calls for $8,000,000 to furnish seed by which farmers could express agricultural areas and obtain seed which would plant their crops. $1,500,000 would be used for loans to South Carolina farmers to farm in 1926, and $500,000 would be used for making loans to farmers in 1926, principally Montana, North and South Dakota and Minnesota. The bill has been approved by the house agricultural committee.

Federal relief for the stricken agricultural areas of Georgia and the Carolinas was urged on the floor of the Senate by Senator Smith of Georgia, in calling for action on his bill seeking to effect this. The bill was introduced last session and called for $1,000,000 to be distributed to the stricken areas.

Senator Smith stated on the floor: "I have received so many letters from the stricken areas that I am going to introduce this bill in reference to distressing conditions which prevail throughout the drought-stricken region of the two Carolinas and Georgia, that I am going to submit the communication to the committee on banking and currency to which was referred a bill which I introduced at the last session for the purpose of giving relief in such circumstances."

"The bill provided that, where, in the opinion of the local land bank, the one situated in Columbia for the region of several states, the collateral being sufficient to justify it, may be loaned to the farmer, the interest and the amortization which is included in the interest for a period of two years, the government furnishing the loan, to meet the interest in order not to effect the sale price of the lands."

"This condition has grown more acute since the war, and for reasons set forth in these letters to me. I hope the committee will take cognizance of the situation and at least make some report on the bill. It has been introduced and reported favorably from the committee appropriating some several millions for the purpose of purchasing seed for the western farmers. The condition of the people whom I am representing is as bad or worse than that contemplated by the bill for the seed, and I sincerely hope that the committee to which the bill was referred will make a report."

The senator stated later that if the committee does not make a report in the near future that he will offer his firm relief measure in the shape of an amendment to some of the bills that might be before the senate.

LINDSAY, BAUGHAN SPEAK TONIGHT TO ODD FELLOWS

Paul L. Lindsay, past grand master, and Edgar Baughan, past grand representative, will be the featured speakers at the open house meeting of the Odd Fellows, No. 71, Independent Order of Odd Fellows, 730 o'clock tonight, at the lodge rooms, 100 Glenwood avenue and Grant street, according to J. F. Goodwin, chairman of arrangements.

Following a short business session the meeting will be given over to entertainment. A reading will be given by Miss Myrtle Battie, past president of the state Rebekah lodge, and musical numbers will be rendered by Mrs. B. Manning, soloist, accompanied by Mrs. Gussie Tripp, Refreshments will be served by ladies of the Grant Park Rebekah lodge.

TECHWOOD DRIVE EXTENSION WORK MAKES PROGRESS

Planning to obtain the necessary deeds from owners of property through which the proposed extension of Techwood drive will run, a committee headed by Vassar Woolley, including George G. Crouch, George Breitenbush and Sol Schwartz, swung into action Tuesday, each member having agreed to canvass one block at right of way that will carry the present street, with improvements, through to Tenth street.

The reading and extension of Techwood drive to make a thoroughfare from North avenue to Tenth street is being urged by a group of prominent councilmen and educators forming the Techwood Drive Improvement club. Through the efforts of Councilmen Harry York and Jack Hardy, an appropriation of $20,000 has been made by the city and an appeal has been made to the county commissioners for further aid in the proposed work.

The creation of a new thoroughfare in this section is greatly needed, members of the club assert, both in serving a large portion of residents and property owners in the north side, and in providing another outlet for north-bound traffic now congesting Spring street, West Peachtree and Hemphill avenues. The club will continue its solicitation until the success of the project is assured, they declare.

CONTINUED WARM WEATHER TODAY SEEN IN FORECAST

Continuation of mild weather with possibility of cloudiness in the forenoon is today's forecast for Atlanta and vicinity, according to C. F. von Herrmann, meteorologist of the local weather bureau.

Tuesday's temperatures ranged from 48 to 64 degrees and the same limits are predicted today. A light but not noticeable precipitation probably will be seen during the morning.

The warm weather is unusual for this time of the year in Atlanta, Mr. von Herrmann remarked, "but no change is in sight. While the peach tree buds of the North Valley section are somewhat in danger, the convenience of the warm weather in aiding farmers with their plowing will more than compensate for whatever early plant life is set back by colder weather expected later."

SISTER OF ATLANTAN DIES IN KENTUCKY

Friends and relatives in Atlanta have received news of the death in Louisville, Ky., of Mrs. Nevada Smock, sister of Mrs. Julia Evans Cope, 382 Pence de Leon.

Mrs. Smock, daughter of a pioneer Kentucky tobacco merchant, died in a hospital in Louisville on January 23. Mrs. Cope was called to her bedside several weeks before.

Mussolini's Philosophy of Life

BY GEORGE SYLVESTER VIERECK.

Mussolini Believes People of This Century Destined To Live in Gloomy Period of Past and Imminent Tragedies—Anticipates Wars Which May Burst Upon Humanity With Hurricane Suddenness.

(Copyright, 1927, in All Countries by North American Newspaper Alliance. Reproduction in whole or in part prohibited.)

I. War and the Immediate Future
(Note: The following is the first of three articles which will appear in this series. The first two articles will be published in the North American Newspaper Alliance, and the third will be published in the North American Newspaper Alliance.)

"Do you think," I asked Mussolini, "that the skies for mankind are brightening, that the war that slew 10,000,000 men was not entirely in vain?"

Mussolini's lips curled. The rest of his face remained cold and impassive as if it were chiseled from marble.

"It seems to me," he remarked, "that the twentieth century people are destined to live in a gloomy period of history, in an age clouded by tragedy. It is our duty to accept that fact like men."

"Your excellency," I replied, "is a pessimist. Brandy."

"Intelligent pessimism," the Duce replied without waiting for me to finish my sentence. "Is much better than unintelligent optimism."

"Do you really believe," he added with considerable acerbity, "that the world, between those terrible years of 1914 and 1918, is to be the last of which history will bear record?"

"I do not share this time and splendid but dangerous faith, that everything is to go well with the world in the future," he said.

"Do you, then, consider war a necessity?"

"All the wars of which history bears record can be explained upon the basis of the historical facts. But war itself, the fact of war, which brings to the very brink of annihilation the human race, cannot be explained. At any rate, it has never yet been explained."

"Perhaps war is one of the facts which like so many other inexplicable facts, must remain too much for a merely human wisdom to account for. It may be that war is the origin of all things great, as an ancient Greek philosopher said, or it may be of divine origin, as the French thinker Prudhon has affirmed."

Liberty Not Absolute Idea
Mussolini smiled, this time indulgently. "Fascism is opposed to excessive individualism. On the contrary, we believe in variety, differentiation, the essential inequality of man."

"What impresses me about our own century in history is the sameness it has established in life all over the world. In past ages, when men went from one country to another, they were impressed by the differences they discovered. Today, they are astonished by the resemblance between the twelve countries sometimes very remote from one another."

"The folklore of the races is being obliterated because capitalism, as it is called, tends to make the life of the whole world uniform. There is a general leveling. We seem to live in the world in terms of the same rhythm. We read the same news. We eat the same food, even if some of us avoid meat. We wear the same clothes or we read more and more to do so."

"We believe in the right of the individual to lead his own life, so long as his interests do not conflict with those of the state."

"Is it possible to find a formula to reconcile fascism and personal liberty?"

"Again a smile, this time somewhat cryptic.

"The conception of liberty is not absolute because there is no conception that can be absolute. Liberty changes its form as time changes the face upon civilization. What is liberty in the time of peace is not liberty in time of war. There is a liberty in good times when all things can be gained easily but this is not the same as the liberty enjoyed in hard times."

"Liberty is even at times a struggle between the individual and the state, between the state that seeks to centralize and the individual who seeks to remain unhampered by authority."

"For the individual, left to himself, is one who, unless he is a saint, or a hero, will pay no taxes, will obey no laws, will enlist in no war. He calls this insubordination by the name of liberty."

"Hard Times' Relative Matter.

"Democracy," Mussolini continued, "does not really know what the time what it wants but when it knows what it wants it is irresistible. The problem of democracy is to find out what it wants."

"The 18th and 19th centuries experienced democracy. In the 20th century, democracy should reach its maturity. It must find out what it wants. In Italy, fascism is the new reaction of the 20th century. It will be the century of fascism."

"Will fascism lighten the gloom which you predict for the immediate future of our century? Will it make the fate of the average man less hard?"

"It will," Mussolini replied. "More over, it means that there is a way out of our only increase in the scale of our wants. There may be greater prosperity than ever before in the world's history, centralized by the rise in the standard of living."

"The standard of living may be the unexpected cause of hard times. To maintain the 20th century standard of living, it may be necessary for husband and wife both to labor. In the morning, he may leave the home early to go to the factory. She may leave the home just as early to go to the office."

"All governments, all rulers, come to this conclusion in the end. I read the intensely interesting memoirs of Gallieni. He was, you know, military governor of Paris in the early days of the war. He said: 'Nothing can be conceived more stirring than the pages Gallieni devoted to an account of the crisis in Paris. The city was an entrenched camp. The territorial militia, the only force available with all the others on the firing line, was absolutely untrained in the face of the approaching Uhlans."

Machines Secondary.
"Although Paris had become an entrenched camp, there were no weapons and no food. There were no shells, there were no bayonets, there were no guns of any caliber. There was nothing to signal with. The mobilization had stripped the arsenals and the magazines."

"They were terrible days for France, those in which from the 26th of August until the 6th of September the plans of the German general staff were in full development. The Germans had crossed Belgium and were turning upon Paris. The Germans had reached the edge of the Compeigne."

"One might infer from the record of those days that there could be no such thing as a great weapon and enough ammunition. The same idea was at one time in the mind of the German General Ludendorff. He described the victory over the British at the battle of the Somme, he happened to look towards the hills and he saw the prospect made pleasing by quantities of clouds."

"Mussolini's words rang out resolutely. He evidently envisaged the scene he described.

"He continued, 'The facts seem to suggest that machines and weapons are more important than men. In due time, the discovery of machines will be more important than machines. Men can make machines, but machines cannot make men.'

"Machines can be standardized and turned out upon a pattern one after another in a series. Men cannot be turned out like that. The effort to make machines made. It fails. Then there is the factor of time."

"A machine can be made in a year. Frederick the Great calculated that it took 18 years to turn out a man for his army in the lowest grades. And it takes more than 18 years to turn out the right kind of man. Men make machines but machines do not make men."

"Voe to a world that sets out to produce machines and ends only in producing machines."

"But does not fascism tend to reduce life to the uniformity of a machine? What is the machine like obedience from men?"

Liberty Not Absolute Idea.
Mussolini smiled, this time indulgently. "Fascism is opposed to excessive individualism. On the contrary, we believe in variety, differentiation, the essential inequality of man."

"What impresses me about our own century in history is the sameness it has established in life all over the world. In past ages, when men went from one country to another, they were impressed by the differences they discovered. Today, they are astonished by the resemblance between the twelve countries sometimes very remote from one another."

"The folklore of the races is being obliterated because capitalism, as it is called, tends to make the life of the whole world uniform. There is a general leveling. We seem to live in the world in terms of the same rhythm. We read the same news. We eat the same food, even if some of us avoid meat. We wear the same clothes or we read more and more to do so."

"We believe in the right of the individual to lead his own life, so long as his interests do not conflict with those of the state."

"Is it possible to find a formula to reconcile fascism and personal liberty?"

"Again a smile, this time somewhat cryptic.

"The conception of liberty is not absolute because there is no conception that can be absolute. Liberty changes its form as time changes the face upon civilization. What is liberty in the time of peace is not liberty in time of war. There is a liberty in good times when all things can be gained easily but this is not the same as the liberty enjoyed in hard times."

"Liberty is even at times a struggle between the individual and the state, between the state that seeks to centralize and the individual who seeks to remain unhampered by authority."

"For the individual, left to himself, is one who, unless he is a saint, or a hero, will pay no taxes, will obey no laws, will enlist in no war. He calls this insubordination by the name of liberty."

"Hard Times' Relative Matter.

"Democracy," Mussolini continued, "does not really know what the time what it wants but when it knows what it wants it is irresistible. The problem of democracy is to find out what it wants."

"The 18th and 19th centuries experienced democracy. In the 20th century, democracy should reach its maturity. It must find out what it wants. In Italy, fascism is the new reaction of the 20th century. It will be the century of fascism."

"Will fascism lighten the gloom which you predict for the immediate future of our century? Will it make the fate of the average man less hard?"

"It will," Mussolini replied. "More over, it means that there is a way out of our only increase in the scale of our wants. There may be greater prosperity than ever before in the world's history, centralized by the rise in the standard of living."

"The standard of living may be the unexpected cause of hard times. To maintain the 20th century standard of living, it may be necessary for husband and wife both to labor. In the morning, he may leave the home early to go to the factory. She may leave the home just as early to go to the office."

"All governments, all rulers, come to this conclusion in the end. I read the intensely interesting memoirs of Gallieni. He was, you know, military governor of Paris in the early days of the war. He said: 'Nothing can be conceived more stirring than the pages Gallieni devoted to an account of the crisis in Paris. The city was an entrenched camp. The territorial militia, the only force available with all the others on the firing line, was absolutely untrained in the face of the approaching Uhlans."

Machines Secondary.
"Although Paris had become an entrenched camp, there were no weapons and no food. There were no shells, there were no bayonets, there were no guns of any caliber. There was nothing to signal with. The mobilization had stripped the arsenals and the magazines."

"They were terrible days for France, those in which from the 26th of August until the 6th of September the plans of the German general staff were in full development. The Germans had crossed Belgium and were turning upon Paris. The Germans had reached the edge of the Compeigne."

"One might infer from the record of those days that there could be no such thing as a great weapon and enough ammunition. The same idea was at one time in the mind of the German General Ludendorff. He described the victory over the British at the battle of the Somme, he happened to look towards the hills and he saw the prospect made pleasing by quantities of clouds."

"Mussolini's words rang out resolutely. He evidently envisaged the scene he described.

"He continued, 'The facts seem to suggest that machines and weapons are more important than men. In due time, the discovery of machines will be more important than machines. Men can make machines, but machines cannot make men.'

"Machines can be standardized and turned out upon a pattern one after another in a series. Men cannot be turned out like that. The effort to make machines made. It fails. Then there is the factor of time."

"A machine can be made in a year. Frederick the Great calculated that it took 18 years to turn out a man for his army in the lowest grades. And it takes more than 18 years to turn out the right kind of man. Men make machines but machines do not make men."

"Voe to a world that sets out to produce machines and ends only in producing machines."

"But does not fascism tend to reduce life to the uniformity of a machine? What is the machine like obedience from men?"

"Some people complain that this state of things is taking the poetry out of life."

"Never!"

"There is simply a new kind of poetry. Every age has its own school of poetry. The poetry of the middle ages made the marriage to a matter of staying at home. The new poetry puts life upon another plane."

"Life in the 20th century may be hard, but it will not be lacking in romance."

Tomorrow: Women and the Future.

Atlanta man killed in Florida crash.

Jacksonville, Fla., January 25.—(AP) L. R. Thompson, 30, formerly of Atlanta, Ga., was killed today when his automobile collided with another car on the highway at East Port, near here.

Thompson, who was employed here by Gude and company, has a wife and children in Atlanta, it was said. Officers who investigated the crash declared it appeared to have been an unavoidable accident and that no inquiry was likely.

Thompson was driving along the new Bay Shore boulevard when he turned into the East Port road striking another automobile occupied by three young girls. The crash ditched both machines but the girls were uninjured. Thompson's car rolled over on him, breaking his neck.

According to Mrs. A. E. Boling, of 1031 St. Charles avenue, a sister of Mr. Thompson, the injured man was 32 years of age and leaves a wife and four children in Atlanta. They are: Willard, Willey, L. R. Jr., and Louise. He is also survived by three sisters, Mrs. Boling, Miss J. R. Thompson, of Atlanta, and Mrs. C. T. Coker, of Gadsden, Ala., and three brothers, L. R. Thompson, of Ballground, Ga.; Homer Thompson, of Knoxville, Tenn.; and L. Marion Thompson, of Hoco Raton, Fla.

Funeral services for Mr. Thompson will be held at 12 o'clock Thursday from the Baptist church in Ballground, Ga. Burial will be in the church cemetery.

LAST RITES TODAY
FOR J. S. BURDEN,
AGED ENGINEER

Funeral services for John S. Burden, 71, of 820 South Pryor street, veteran employee of the Southern railway who died Monday night at a private sanitarium following an attack of influenza, will be held 10:30 o'clock this morning from the chapel of Harry G. Poole. The Rev. J. D. Fant will officiate and interment will be in West View cemetery.

Mr. Burden had been with the railroad company for 45 years and was second oldest in point of service with the Southern. He became ill about two weeks ago while operating his train and was removed from the engine to a hospital.

He is survived by two daughters, Mrs. G. Burden, of Hogshead, Ga., and Mrs. C. L. Boatwright, a brother, William Burden, of Bowman, Ga.; a sister, Mrs. Frank Johnson, and two grandchildren.

For fuel facts and interest, write for catalog.

AMERICAN RADIATOR COMPANY
232 Peachtree St. Atlanta, Ga.

What ENGINEERING LEADERSHIP means to the owner of a Willys-Knight

TO THE Willys-Knight owner, Engineering Leadership means many definite and tangible advantages not found in others of this size and price.

It means you enjoy the exclusive advantage of the patented Knight sleeve-valve engine that improves with use.

It means improved engine efficiency—due to new-type manifold.

It means you see these two unusually beautiful, exceedingly powerful and efficient Willys-Knight creations.

And it means adjustable front seats—and a steering wheel adjustable to 3 different positions.

It means you enjoy the exclusive advantage of the patented Knight sleeve-valve engine that improves with use.

It means improved engine efficiency—due to new-type manifold.

It means you see these two unusually beautiful, exceedingly powerful and efficient Willys-Knight creations.

And it means adjustable front seats—and a steering wheel adjustable to 3 different positions.

It means you enjoy the exclusive advantage of the patented Knight sleeve-valve engine that improves with use.

It means improved engine efficiency—due to new-type manifold.

It means you see these two unusually beautiful, exceedingly powerful and efficient Willys-Knight creations.

And it means adjustable front seats—and a steering wheel adjustable to 3 different positions.

It means you enjoy the exclusive advantage of the patented Knight sleeve-valve engine that improves with use.

It means improved engine efficiency—due to new-type manifold.

It means you see these two unusually beautiful, exceedingly powerful and efficient Willys-Knight creations.

And it means adjustable front seats—and a steering wheel adjustable to 3 different positions.

It means you enjoy the exclusive advantage of the patented Knight sleeve-valve engine that improves with use.

LOWDEN BACKS BILL, SAYS CRISP

Washington, January 25.—(AP)—In the house today Representative Crisp, democrat, Georgia, disclosed that "a prominent republican representative" had helped frame the Curtis-Crisp farm bill. He said the man did not wish his identity revealed, although he intended to do so "when the measure is finally approved."

Declaring that the bill was not to be considered an administration measure, although he was confident President Coolidge would approve it, if enacted, Mr. Crisp said the McNary-Haugen bill could not be passed, and that all groups should support his compromise.

Certain provision of his bill, the Georgian added, have been approved by Frank C. Lowden, of Illinois, and when he made this statement he pointed at Representative Dickinson, republican, Iowa, and said:

"His candidate for president."

Crisp said his bill had been endorsed in the south by cotton organizations and that he was unable to see how any man representing cotton-growing areas could support the McNary-Haugen bill.

The Georgian insisted he was moved in introducing his measure only by a desire "to relieve distressed agriculture and declared he would support any other proposal except one which provides an equalization fee."

"The fee in the McNary-Haugen bill," he said, "is unconstitutional. It is not, as claimed, a check on production, but will stimulate production and at the same time increase prices."

He contended his bill would act as a deterrent to overproduction, which he added was needed more at present than any other thing.

Thirty-Two Rounds of Boxing at Auditorium Tonight

Tony Leto, Joe Ciro Meet in Final Bout Of Twin Windup Bill

Tom O'Rourke Will Swap Punches With Kelly in First 10-Round Match—Two Six-Round Battles and Battle Royal Also Booked For Fans Tonight.

Two sons of "Sunny It," absolute strangers to each other but both having something in common—splendid ring records—tonight will grasp mittens for the first time in the 24-foot hempen enclosure inside the city auditorium to battle for the bantamweight championship of Tampa, (probably Florida, too)—and Kansas City.

The two young men in question are Tony Leto or Leto—the spelling is debatable—who hails from Tampa, and Joe Ciro, 118-pounder from the middle west, and they are billed for 10 rounds to a decision in the feature bout of a double windup boxing show promoted by Burt Miller, brother of Walk.

Leading off the show will be a little royal and two six round fights, then will follow the Tommy O'Rourke-Freddie Kelly 10-round bout, and that of Ciro and Leto which will top off the card.

Plenty of Action. From a standpoint of unhampered action it looks like a great show. Anyone who witnessed the victory of Joe Ciro over Honey Boy Snipes in Macon Monday night cannot help but feel as if Leto is in for a stiff engagement. Ciro's boxing showed polish, his ring generalship was superb and he has more than his share of stamina. Another impressive phase of the sport in which Ciro excelled against Snipes was that despite the furious rushes and haymaking punches directed at him by Snipes, he never gave an inch, always ready, always glad of the opportunity to stand up and slug with the Macon boy.

Ciro only recently came over from Kansas City in which vicinity he whipped all the good boys of his weight. In addition he made a trip to California where he won a couple of fights. He is der the management of Jay Thomas, who has used a flock of good, hard-working pugilists.

Leto a Newcomer. Leto is more of a newcomer to these parts than is Ciro. The bulk of his fighting has been done in and around Tampa. He fights out of the Max Abelson stable and Max picks very few lemons. No less an authority than Pa Striling asserts that Leto has the goods, and that he should win from Ciro. Leto has a knockout record and everything and is acclaimed the bantamweight champion of Florida.

In the corner of Leto tonight will be Jake Abel, brother of Max Abel.

TOWER'S FISH BRAND
WATERPROOF
OILED CLOTHING
SLACKS, SUITS
AND HATS
90 Years the Best for Men, Women, Children
AT YOUR DEALER
A. J. TOWER CO.
BOSTON, MASS.

WITH US TONIGHT

Introducing Tony Leto, snappy little boxer who hails from down in Florida with a very convincing ring history. He will swap punches with Joe Ciro, California, or scrapper, who also comes to Atlanta with a very attractive record as a fighter, in the final bout of the 32-round boxing show to be staged at the auditorium tonight by Burt Miller.

Tom Jones Beats Antley in Florida

Jacksonville, Fla., January 25.—(P)—Tommy Jones, Atlanta, won a judges' decision over "Boots" Antley, Jacksonville, in the 10-round final of the National Guard Boxing show here tonight.

Two of the three judges and the referee gave the verdict to Jones, who left jab and long right hand, well timed, gave him the fight margin. The first seven rounds rocked along on an even basis; Jones captured the next two and the closing round was even, ringside critics said. Jones weighed 135; Antley, 137.

In the third round of a scheduled eight-round semi-final, Roy Potter, Marietta, Ohio, led with his left to cross with his right to the solar plexus to knock out Jack O'Hara, Pittsburgh. It was a clean knockout. O'Hara being unconscious between five and 10 minutes. They were welters.

Gene Back in N. Y.

New York, January 25.—(P)—Gene Tunney was back in New York today "on personal business." Billy Gibson, manager of the champion, said Tunney had returned to have his theatrical contract pruned of the clause that requires so many performances. He intends to resume his tour in Spokane, when the matter is adjusted.

British Team Wins.

New York, January 25.—(P)—Less than six hours after debarking from a liner, the British squash racquets team, in America for a series of matches, defeated the New York team, 4 to 2.

Moore, Attaway Battle To Draw at Fort Mac

BY C. F. THOMPSON.
Some 400 customers that filled little post theater Tuesday night at Fort MacPherson saw K. O. Moore, middleweight, and Stiles Attaway, of the same weight, battle to a 10-round draw in the feature match of a card that contained 24 rounds of boxing and a battle royal.

Moore, somewhat off in form, lost the first two rounds only to come back and annex the third, fourth, fifth, sixth and seventh for a comfortable lead. Bill Leto, well-known local trainer, was about fourth second in Attaway's corner and it was at this juncture that the Georgia Power and Light boy was administered a shot of the famous Leto "Essence of Confidence."

Attaway won the next two rounds. Both of them charged to the center at the beginning of the last round and battled fairly evenly. Attaway getting a shade the best if there was any difference. The referee called it a draw.

In the six-round semi-final, Mallard, of Company A, 22nd infantry, lost to Shifty Garrett, of the Georgia Railway and Power, on decision. Mallard took the opening round, Garrett shifted and jabbed his way to the second, third and fourth. They divided the fifth and Garrett took the closing assignment.

Garrett, a powerful punch, landed a stack of powerful punches, Mallard many times holding his chin out, unprotected, and allowing the Atlantian to punch away.

Kelly, junior lightweight, of Headquarters company, 22nd infantry, took a four-round decision over Wimley of the medical detachment. In the four-round opener, Billy West of Atlanta, punched Newton, Headquarters company, 8th brigade, to dazed slumber in one round and about a minute of the second.

Cowboy Kid, shifty little burnt orange, took the honors in the battle royal, staged between the second four-round bout and the Mallard-Garrett set-to.

Editor of Salvation Army Paper Arrives in Atlanta

Stirring stories of pioneer development in the huge country of Australia, tales of heroic effort in a land larger than the United States and with a population equivalent to that of New York, were told Tuesday night to a group of old acquaintances in Salvation Army work at the city auditorium.

Colonel Sandall, who arrived Tuesday morning from Sydney, Australia, to become editor of the army publications, "Population is the greatest need of Australia," Colonel Sandall said. The country has everything else. Its resources are as great and varied as those of the United States, and with an influx of new people, it's speedy development would be brought about. The entire population at present is 6,000,000.

As in so many other countries, the trend of the population is toward the larger cities rather than to the outdoors and agriculture, Colonel Sandall said, citing Sydney with a population of 1,000,000, or a sixth of the entire population of the country.

"It's great to be back in a country where there is not an open saloon on every corner and where drunk men do not stagger against one in the street," Colonel Sandall declared. Of course, Australia as a whole is not debauched or anything like it, but the conditions prevailing are more or less like those existing in the United States before prohibition.

Colonel Sandall, who was editor-in-chief of the Australian War Cry, served as editor-in-chief of the entire Salvation Army publications, with offices in New York. He is an old friend to Commander Evangeline Booth, who will be here on January 8 for the inauguration ceremonies in connection with the opening of the new territorial offices, and will confer with her with reference to the policies of and plans for the War Cry in this section.

Fertilizer Head Tells Kiwanians Of Farm Problem

J. C. Bridmore, head of the educational committee of the National Fertilizer association, was principal speaker Tuesday at noon before the regular meeting of the Kiwanis club at the Atlanta hotel.

The speaker pointed to the recent cotton production increase in Texas brought about through use of modern machinery and urged more intensive cultivation of Georgia crops on a smaller and more productive acreage to meet this competition.

F. W. Orr, second vice president of the club, presided at the meeting, and Count Boyer had charge of the program, which included features by the Kiwanis university quartet, Harry Adams, national trustee, read a report on the recent Kiwanis business session in Macon.

Announcement was made that Billy Sunday, famed evangelist, will be with the club at its regular meeting on February 15.

District Governor Arthur Brooke, of Atlanta, has announced the following district or state committee chairmen for the year 1927:

Agriculture—Lynnan R. Veeder, Cornelia, Ga.
Business Standards—Ben S. Thompson, Madison, Ga.
Classification—J. W. Jacobs, Gainesville, Ga.
Convention Program—B. L. Bugg, Brown building, Atlanta, Ga.
Finance—Emmett Williams, Monroe, Ga.
Good Will and Grievance—R. L. McKenney, Macon, Ga.
Inter-Club Relations—R. H. Jones, Jr., Citizens & Southern bank, Atlanta, Ga.
Kiwanis Education—Frank M. Oliver, Savannah, Ga.
Laws and Regulations—John L. Westmoreland, Candler building, Atlanta, Ga.
Music—Francis Williams, Macon, Georgia.

Public Affairs—Carden C. Bunn, Cedar town, Ga.
Publicity—Ernest Camp, Monroe, Georgia.
Under-Privileged Child—Dr. C. C. Harold, Macon, Ga.
Efficiency Contest—Louis Ellis, Americus, Ga.
Attendance Contest—Jere M. Pound, Athens, Ga.
On-to-Memphis—A. A. Pound, Jackson, Ga.

District Convention—Harry D. Reed, Brunswick, Ga.
Reforestation—R. E. Benedictine, Brunswick, Ga.
Public Health—Dr. T. J. McArthur, Cordele, Ga.
Martha Berry School—W. W. Mundy, Cedar town, Ga.
Drainage—Dan G. Bickers, Savannah, Ga.
Highways—Harry D. Reed, Waycross, Ga.
Speakers—F. W. Webb, Valdosta, Georgia.
New Industries—V. R. Carswell, Brunswick, Ga.

Last Services Today For Two Students Who Died on Monday

Funeral services for Henry Lewis Chambers, 14-year-old senior O'Keefe Junior high school, who died Monday afternoon at the residence, 136 Plum street, after an illness of more than a week, will be held at 1 o'clock this afternoon from Payne Memorial church. The Rev. R. L. Baker and the Rev. W. J. DeBardleben will officiate. Interment will be in Hollywood cemetery.

Young Chambers, the second Junior high student to die Monday, is survived by his parents, Mr. and Mrs. W. E. Chambers; a brother, W. E. Chambers, Jr.; his maternal grandmother, Mrs. L. J. Wright, and his paternal grandmother, Mrs. A. J. Chambers, of Birmingham, Ala.

The body of Robert E. Ward, 11-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. S. Ward, of 579 South Main street, who died suddenly Monday afternoon, will be buried Monday afternoon at Columbus, Ohio, for funeral services and interment. Besides his parents the youth is survived by his brother, John A. Ward. He was a student of the William A. Bass school. The youth was excused from the

CRACKER BOSS IS SEARCHING FOR INFIELDER

While their visit to Dover Hall, near Brunswick, is more or less a pleasure trip, President Spiller, owner of the Atlanta Baseball club, and Bert Niehoff, skipper of the good ship Crackers, made it known Tuesday that they are angling for a good second baseman—a young, peppy one.

While they are having the time of their lives down in the wilds with Mr. Robinson, they are expecting to land either Jay Partridge, former Ogleshorpe star who played with the Nashville Vols last season, or Bill Rhel, snappy second sacker who blazed his way all over the Sally league on the roster of the 1926 champions of that league.

In the last week or so, the two Cracker bosses have been doing quite a bit of buying and trading and nothing seems out of their reach. They are confident of swapping hunting yans and baseball talk until their friend Mr. Robinson lets them have one of the boys.

Admits Need.

Niehoff, before his departure with Spiller, admitted that he wanted a good second baseman and from that it can be expected that the skipper will land either of the above named young gentlemen. Should the big boss fail to talk Robinson into letting him have one of the boys, the skipper will more than likely master the second hand again this season. However, Niehoff would rather have a young player to fill his shoes at second base.

Spiller also has a young player in the Florida league in view and is expected to bring him up here for a tryout with his ball players. He is an infielder reputed to be very fast, but coming to a class 'A' league one can never tell just what might happen to this fellow's hopes of rising to fame in baseball.

BAN JOHNSON OFF FOR REST; LANDIS BUSY

Chicago, January 25.—(P)—Ban Johnson, president "on leave" of the American league, left tonight for Excelsior Springs, Mo., as the first move in his retirement, while Commissioner Landis prepared to wind up the scandalous by issuing his decision of the status of Ty Cobb and Tris Speaker.

Entirely alone, Mr. Johnson went to the Missouri resort, to remain in a nurse's care for several weeks and was unable to accompany him. He appeared to be in much better spirits today, and looked forward eagerly to a long rest, which he hopes will improve his health. He declined to talk about baseball affairs.

William H. Hargrave, Johnson's secretary for 15 years, has been placed in charge of the American league office, Frank J. Nazia, of the Detroit club, league vice president, and appointed to act in Johnson's place, will make periodical visits to the headquarters to oversee affairs if necessary.

Entirely alone, Mr. Johnson went to the Missouri resort, to remain in a nurse's care for several weeks and was unable to accompany him. He appeared to be in much better spirits today, and looked forward eagerly to a long rest, which he hopes will improve his health. He declined to talk about baseball affairs.

ROTARIANS PAY GLOWING TRIBUTE TO ALBERT ADAMS

High tribute to the late Albert S. Adams was paid by the speakers at the regular weekly meeting of the Atlanta Rotary club Tuesday afternoon at the Capital City club. Among the principal talkers were Willis A. Sutton, superintendent of public schools; W. H. Glenn, William Warlaw and Robert S. Parker, president of the Rotarians.

Williams, to accord 100 per cent support to the $75,000 drive for the Boy Scout camp reservation to be named for Bert Adams, former president of the Atlanta council, was expressed at the meeting.

NATIONAL RADIO CONTROL POLICY FINALLY REACHED

Washington, January 25.—(P)—An agreement on the remaining controversial provision of the radio control bill—the preamble defining the national policy governing the use of the air for broadcasting purposes—was reached today by senate and house conferees and their final report probably will be submitted to the two houses Thursday.

The conferees will meet tomorrow to receive a report from their respective chairmen—Senator Dill, of Washington, and Representative White, of Maine—on the new agreement on the preamble. They are expected to approve the measure in final form without delay.

UPSHAW DENIES DRY LAW MAKES U. S. 'HYPOCRITES'

Washington, January 25.—(P)—Denial of the charge of Senator Wadsworth, republican, New York, that prohibition has produced a nation of "hypocrites" was made in the house today by Representative Upshaw, democrat, Georgia.

Upshaw said it was a "moral and patriotic tragedy" for the woman's Christian Temperance union to meet in the city at a time that capital newspapers print a feature page story the picture of a "wet" leader and display a headline reading:

"Prohibition makes nation of hypocrites."

The Georgian also assailed Sir Thomas Chitt, a British jurist now visiting the United States, whom he accused of "criticizing the legislative law" of the United States. "This comes with poor grace from our mother country, many of whose money-loving, liquor-loving nationals have done their best to make this law a failure," Upshaw said.

Brown Kayes Foe.

Paris, January 25.—(P)—Al Brown, Panama featherweight, knocked out Edouard Macart, champion of the European featherweight championship, in the fifth round of a scheduled 12-round bout here tonight.

Captain of Harvard In 1926 Raps Team's Work in Grid Games

Says Men Should Do Less Crying and More Hard Playing—Praises Coach Bill Roper For Teaching Clean Football to His Boys.

New York, January 25.—(By the Associated Press.)—"If Harvard would do less crying and more hard playing, it would not only win more football games but would occupy the place in the world of sportsmen it deserves."

DAVISCOURT HOLDING OUT FOR BIG PURSE

John Contos, the wrestling promoter, Tuesday admitted that he was facing with the necessity of changing his plans and program for the wrestling show at the city auditorium the night of February 8. John, according to original plans, had intended offering Rough Richard Daiscourt in the two hour main event.

Now it seems that Daiscourt has developed a streak of temperament or something like that and has demanded more money for his appearance than John feels able to pay. Daiscourt is holding out, because he is wisely convinced that he is the best drawing card that Contos could secure for one of his wrestling shows.

According to John's story of his difficulties with Daiscourt, the latter contends that he is an even better drawing card here than Joe Stecher, world's heavyweight wrestling champion. Daiscourt claims the credit for drawing practically all of the cash customers who attended the last show at the city auditorium, although Daiscourt was in the preliminary bout and Stecher was wrestling Pete Sauer in the main bout.

However, once John determines on something he is pretty apt to see it through, so he has not given up hope of signing Daiscourt. He was busy Monday exchanging wires with the rough-and-ready grappler. Contos said:

"I told Daiscourt what I will give him. He can take it or leave it. If he doesn't see the line by Wednesday morning I will have to get someone else. There is not enough time to waste any of it in arguing with Daiscourt over what he should get for appearing here."

Epworth League To Meet Tonight

The regular monthly meeting of the Atlanta Epworth League Athletic association will be held tonight, 6 o'clock, at 1101 Platon building. All directors are urged to attend, many very important matters will be discussed. Of particular importance will be the report of the public relations divisions regarding All-Star games and the trip to Birmingham.

Regan, Local Boy, Defeated by May

Montgomery, Ala., January 24.—(P)—Pinky May, Savannah, retained his southern bantamweight title in a first and furious battle with Benny Regan, of Atlanta, here by annexing a decision in one of the best bouts ever staged in the local roped arena. Kid Andre, local lad, and Freddie Boordie, of Birmingham, battled to a draw in a ten-round semi-final.

When you pass your dealer's store... think!

I must buy the De Luxe Package

Gillette

SAFETY RAZOR BLADES

with the finest edge that steel can take

SOLD BY ALL DEALERS THE WORLD OVER

The De Luxe Package

Thirty blades (60 keenest shaving edges). The finest means science can devise for a truly perfect shave. Quality safeguarded by the most careful preparation, selection and inspection.

Kuppenheimer and Other Good Makes

Men's and Young Men's Suits and Overcoats

for clothes that were fairly priced up to $40.00 last Fall. Here are real values in single and double-breasted models. A full run of sizes, and most any color you can name.

$29

for clothes that were fairly priced up to $50.00 last Fall. There are many particularly choice values in this group. Suits and overcoats.

$39

All new models, patterns, fabrics and colors.

$49

for clothes that were fairly priced up to and including $65.00 last Fall. These are our best Kuppenheimers and others. We can't say too much for them. You'll recognize each as "An Investment in Good Appearance" that is bound to pay liberal, handsome dividends.

EISEMAN'S

THE HOUSE OF KUPPENHEIMER GOOD CLOTHES

56-58 Peachtree Thru to Broad

Petrels Beat Presbyterian, 34-30; Tech Hi Wins

Massey, Bass Star As Birds Win; T.H.S. Takes Class A Lead

Presbyterian Cagers Stage Rally in Last Half of Game.

BY ALTON REDFERN.
Oglethorpe defeated Presbyterian college by a score of 34 to 30 on the Petrels' court Tuesday night. In the early stages of the game it seemed as though the result would be a landslide for Coach Harry Robertson's boys but a determined comeback by the Presbyterians almost took the game from the Peachtree road leads.

After trailing 20-14 at the end of the half, the South Carolinians completely outplayed the Petrels in the last period and flung goals from every angle of the court while Oglethorpe was hardly able to hit the backboard on most attempts at the basket. In fact, it looked like a Presbyterian victory if given a few more minutes of time.

Massey, Bass Star.
Credit for the victory should go largely to two men, Bass and Massey, who between them accumulated 24 of the Petrels' points. Massey played the floor game in great style for the night and was 50 per cent of the Oglethorpe defense, in spite of the fact that he was playing a forward position. Bass was high point man of the game, most of his shots being of the long variety and totaling 10 points.

Robinson and Stamps, with 10 points each led in scoring for Presbyterian college. Wilson played a nice floor game and was the hub of the visitors' passwork.

Toward the end of the game it became a rough and tumble affair, with many fouls being called on each team.

Ed Garlington, playing in place of Clements, the giant Petrel guard, who was out on account of a sprained back was dismissed from the game after committing four personal fouls.

As a prelude to the big game the Oglethorpe freshmen were defeated by the Knights of Columbus, 37 to 31, in a fast game.

Lineup and Summary.

Oglethorpe: (2) Campbell (2) Dunlap (1) Massey (8) Finkelshtein (4) Bass (16) Hirsch (5) Garlington (1) Adair (4) CHIEFTAINS—Oglethorpe: Sheridan (6) Substitutions—Oglethorpe: Campbell for Garlington, Campbell for Dunlap, Freshmen: Stamps (10) for Dunlap. Time of halves, 20 minutes. Referee, State (A. A. C.).

All-Star Cagers Practice Tonight

The Epworth All-Star basketball squad will play its first out-of-town game Saturday night when it meets the fast team of the Tate Athletic club on the Tate court. This game was scheduled on February 5, but owing to the fact that the Wesley court could not be used the date of the trip was advanced and the All-Stars will play every Saturday night in February on their own court.

The regular practice will be held tonight at 6:30 on the Wesley court and all interested are urged to be out. This team is fast sounding into shape and is showing much promise. Twenty men are out for the squad now and the team has averaged over 45 points per game in the five games to date.

Much interest is being shown in the sponsor elimination contest and the February election will be at the All-Star game Saturday night, February 12, at the Wesley court.

Smithies Defeat Boys' High 48 to 34 in Fast Game to Take Lead.

BY BEN COTHMAN.
Combining passing with shooting ability, the Smithies of Tech High turned back the valiant attack of Boys' High at Grady court Tuesday night, and by virtue of a 48 to 34 score, rules supreme in the major class of the prep loop.

It was a wild and woolly battle from start to finish and the Smithies didn't let up until the closing minutes of the game, when the whole quint started ringing goals.

As a result of last night's victory, Tech High now looms as a dangerous contender for the state G. I. A. A. title, having scored victories over Lanier, of Macon, and Boys' High, considered as two of the strongest cage crews in the state.

Splendid Floor Work.
One of the biggest features of the game was the splendid floor work and especially the dribbling of Joe Chandler. This Joe paired with the other, Joe Stearns—of the Smithies, holds down the guarding position on his team, and it was usually Joe who brought the ball down the floor to where it could be passed to the hoop for a goal.

White, stellar forward of the Smithies team, put the ball in the basket the most and got a total of 13 points for his night's work, besides doing his part in the passing. Terrell, the other forward, aided White materially, and also got a pointage totaling 12.

McGaughey, Purple forward, scored the most number of points for the losers, his total being nine. Tech High's close guarding held this young gentleman, and his teammates from shooting with their usual preciseness.

Tech High rang up 21 field goals, and got six out of nine fouls. The Purple scored 15 goals from the field, and got four out of seven free throws.

Tech High made his debut as a prep league referee and handled a good game.

Lineup and Summary.

BOYS' H. (24)
Terrell (12) Reeder (6) White (15) McGaughey (9) Hammond (10) Nichols (7) Chandler (7) Colvin (8) Substitutions: Boys' High, Howard for Nichols, Nichols for Howard, Reeder for Colvin. Time of halves, 20 minutes. Referee, Sullivan (A. A. C.).

G. M. A. CADETS BEAT U. S. B. FIVE.

Gus Morrow's G. M. A. Cadets won a hard-fought game from university, 41 to 37, on the former's court Tuesday afternoon.

G. M. A. held a big lead throughout the first half of the game, the count at the end of the period being 25-14. The Bluebirds staged a rally in the second stanza and closed in on the home team, never being able, however, to score ahead of the visitors.

University's team as a team of shooters was better than that of the College Park school, but inability to pass well was the Bluebirds' downfall.

Merrill Carpenter, who snubbed after Beckey Sparks went out via the personal foul route, was the star factor in U. S. B.'s comeback, making many fine shots and ringing up a large quota of points. He was ably assisted by McHenry, center, of the Bluebird crew.

Buster Mott, captain and forward for the Cadets, covered himself with points, getting a total of 20. Of these

102 Points Believed World's Record For Girl Cagers

Greenville, S. C., January 25.—(P)—What is thought to be a world record for girls' basketball teams for the present season was set by the Whirlwind, of Simpsonville High school, when it defeated the East Gantt High school sextet by a score of 102 to 2.

Hill scored 44 points. Harris 35, and Calvert 22. The Simpsonville team scored an average of 2.5 points per minute of play.

MILLER BACK TO HELP ALEX WITH JACKETS

Things are beginning to stir around the coming spring football practice at the coming spring football practice.

Don Miller, backfield coach of the Golden Tornado, who has been resting up at his home in Ohio ever since the end of the 1926 football season, arrived in Atlanta Tuesday.

Along with the announcement that Miller was back came the news that Coach Alexander and Miller had many funny little tricks to show the gridiron candidates this season. Just what those little tricks are it was not learned but they are sure to be something good.

Alexander has been doping out a lot of new things lately to spring on his boys when they take the field for the early season grid work, so one can expect some real hard work for the boys.

Alexander is going to give the Yellow Jackets one of the toughest spring training sessions Tech players have experienced at the North avenue school in many seasons, and with the aid of the bunch of assistants, he should turn out some real men this fall.

Hank Borkman, all-around coach, who spends most of his time developing his players, is expected to be back at the flats about the first of the month, it was announced.

Mulqueen, Grand Will Battle Today

Belleair Heights, Fla., January 25.—(P)—The first round of match play in the golf tournament for women was played here today, and as a result Mrs. Fred Mulqueen, Toronto, will meet Miss K. Grand, New York, and Mrs. G. W. Morrow, New York, will oppose Mrs. E. W. Stifel, Wheeling, in the upper half of the draw while Mrs. C. W. Beck, Jr., Philadelphia, will oppose Mrs. S. C. Crockett, Cleveland, and Mrs. J. K. Philadelphia, meets Miss Fritz Stifel, Wheeling, in the lower half of the championship fight.

16 were accounted for by field goals and four from Charity Lane. McHenry was next in line with 17 points. Carpenter's total was 10.

Sorell and Broadfield played well for the Cadets. Broadfield, aided by his abundance of height, broke up many shots at the Bluebird goal. G. M. A. got 17 field goals and seven out of eight throws from the free line. University's total was 10 field goals and five out of twelve free throws.

Harry Robinson refereed the game, which was played on G. M. A.'s court, and handled it well, very few, if any, of his decisions being questioned.

Lineup and Summary.
G. M. A. (41) Pos. U. S. B. (37)
Mott (19) Phillips (6) Broadfield (2) Sorrell (9) Smith (5) Substitutions: U. S. B., Carpenter (10) for Phillips; G. M. A., Shappard for Phillips. Time of halves, 20 minutes. Referee, Robinson.

DECATUR CAGERS WIN DOUBLE HEADER.

The Decatur boys followed up their girls' victory with a thrilling finish, and noosed out the Fulton team 21 to 20 in the last two minutes of play and completed a perfect day on the basketball court out in DeKalb county Tuesday.

The Decatur girls were not up to their form displayed Friday night when they defeated the strong team from Marietta, however. At the half it was 7-5 for Fulton. However, in the second half the Decatur team came back strong, and the red-jerseyed lasses could not withstand their passing attack. Sue Fincher sank a beautiful goal to tie the score and then came two more counters in rapid succession and from that time on, Decatur was never in danger. The final score was 14 to 9.

The boys' game was a thriller, the score being knotted several times. The half ended 13-12 for Fulton. With the score resting at 20-19 with only three minutes to play, Morgan sank a foul shot to tie the score but Fulton went back into the lead with another free throw. Then Hazlerigg slipped into the hole for a snow bird, and strive as they might, Fulton could not score.

Lineup and Summary.
DECATUR GIRLS POS. FULTON GIRLS
Fincher (8) Smith (8) Anderson (5) Rogers (1) Melton (1) Moore (1) Jackson (1) Saunders (1) Substitutions: Decatur, Moore for Jackson, Moore for Saunders, Saunders, Rogers, Referee, Clifton.

DECATUR BOYS POS. FULTON BOYS
Cavan (16) Moore (6) Hendricks (16) Young (6) Morgan (3) Simms (3) Taylor (1) Green (1) Substitutions: Decatur, Carter, Johnston, H. Fulton, Young, Segrest, Appling, Referee, Clifton.

COMMERCIAL LOSES TO MARIETTA FIVE.

Commercial High lost its first game of the season to Marietta, 29-16, in a very fast game Tuesday afternoon. Lack of practice and over confidence paved the way for Marietta. The Typist were never in the lead and the first half ended 16-9 in favor of the Cobb county boys.

Read and Anderson were the stars for the winners. Read was the high point man for the day with 12 points to his credit. Balser was next with 9. Millender played a good game for the losers. Hammond did a good job of refereeing.

Lineup and Summary.
COM. (16) POS. MARI. (29)
Balser (9) Jolly (5) Read (12) Anderson (6) Millender (9) Balser (9) Hirsch (2) Referee (12) Substitutions: Marietta, Brooks and Goodman. Referee, Rudy Hammond.

HAWK-EYE-ING SPORTS

BY DICK HAWKINS.
Would Be a Good Idea.

Coach Alexander and the other officials at Tech are considering a game of spring football with Clemson. Coach Alex said Tuesday afternoon that no steps had yet been taken to get the game and that it would be necessary for him to get the sanction of the faculty before Clemson or any other school could be invited to participate in a practice game.

The Tech mentor did not say that he would or would not ask this permission, but his conversation indicated that he might do so, and the plan seems to fit in with the program of intensive training planned at the flats this year.

And after all the question is not so much the status of the game at present as the question of its worth to the team. There might be much advantage for Tech in a spring game in the aid it might give the unseasoned men, and even such a small bit of variety competition as might be offered would be of great value in this respect.

Coaches of the country are much divided as to the advisability of spring football and it is not for us to decide such a question, but it seems that such a game as is proposed for the Jackets could do no harm and might add something to the already strenuous program.

Good While It Lasted.
Paolino Uzcudun, the Spanish heavyweight, may not be the greatest fighter in the world, but, according to an Associated Press dispatch, he is about the best catch-as-catch-can fabricator on the old sphere.

Paolino's tale is that he killed three wild boars in Cuba—the last of the three being brought down via the hand route. Now the story as credited to the Spanish cauliflower man does not specify the manner in which the wild boar was killed, but it probably fell victim to the Spaniard's famous knockout blow to the point of the chin.

Of course, the fact that a Havana paper gives the lie to Senor Uzcudun may change the complexion of the story somewhat, but nevertheless, it must be admitted that it was a good story as long as it lasted. El Mundo, Havana newspaper, said in reply to the story, "YES, BUT WE HAVE NO WILD BOARS IN CUBA."

That was a mean trick for the paper to play on Paolino, but his manager should have selected his animal more carefully. If he had instructed his charge to name a wild bull rather than a boar there might have been no comeback, in view of the fact that most sport readers are entirely familiar with the fighter's propensity for maltreating that animal.

FAST GAMES PLAYED IN Y CHURCH LOOP

Plenty of action and numerous spills marked the four games played in the Dixie Basketball league in the "Y" church loop Tuesday. The tall Anchor class won a close tittle from Epworth Workers, 21 to 18. College Park played better in the last half and held the leading Pep five to a 25 to 19 score. Moon and Campbell led Western Heights to a 31 to 10 victory over Wesley Memorial. The fast moving Patillo five defeated the Gideons, 21 to 14.

After getting off to a poor start, the Epworth Workers, by the time shooting of McLeod, came within striking distance of the Anchor class, but could never overcome the first half lead of 9 to 4. Both teams guarded closely and short shots were few. Owen and Haynes each made seven points for the winners. Mayo shot all of his six points in the last half. Nims and Smith did good guarding for their respective teams.

College Park was held to only three points in the first half by the tight guarding of Cape and King. The losers managed to sink their shots better in the last half. Endicott found the basket for eight points while in the game for the winners, while Rogers made seven. Odum and R. Hutchinson played well for College Park and did most of the shooting.

Moon and Campbell could not be stopped. Moon started with 13 points and Campbell made 10. Griffin also played well at guard for the winners. Curtis played best for the losers, who were weak in their shooting. The first period and the most scoring for the losers with three points. Clark's all-around playing and shooting of 11 points sent the fast Patillo five to a victory over the Gideons class. Each team fought hard and many fouls were called. The winners grabbed an early lead of 9 to 3. The first period and the most scoring for the winners with three points at one time. Clark starred for Patillo with 11 points to his credit. G. Baxter and Reed also played well. Henderson was the main threat for the losers and rung up seven markers.

"Y" CHURCH RESULTS.
ANCHOR (21) EP. WORKERS (18)
Owen (7) McLeod (7) Robinson (5) Mayo (6) Haynes (7) Wilkie (4) Smith (2) Sims (1) Goodman (1) Edmondson (1) Substitutions: Anchor, King (2) for Owens; Epworth, Baker (4) for Owens; Wesley, Memorial, Coffman (2); Western Heights, none; Referee, Collins.

COL. PK. (19) PEP CLASS (25)
L. Hutchinson (4) Endicott (8) Clark (11) Griffin (10) Hirsch (1) Stephens (2) Denard (2) Gage (2) Substitutions: College Park, R. Hutchinson (1); Epworth, King (2); Wesley, Memorial, Coffman (2); Western Heights, none; Referee, Elrod.

WESLEY M. (10) WEST H. (31)
Sorell (1) Campbell (10) Thompson (1) Moon (13) Miller (1) Mott (4) Curtis (2) Griffin (1) Welen (2) Baker (4) Substitutions: Wesley Memorial, Coffman (2); Western Heights, none; Referee, Elrod.

PATILLO M. (21) GIDEONS (14)
Clark (11) H. Brock (2) Abbott (2) Henderson (7) J. Baxter (1) Therrell (4) Reed (2) Abbott (2) McGee (2) Smith (1) Substitutions: Patillo, G. Baxter (5); McGee (1); Gideons, Hornsby (4). Referee, Elrod.

Offers $25,000 for Bout.
Panama—Irvine Solovey, Panama promoter, has offered $25,000 for a fight here February 22 between Davy Abad and the winner of the Charley (Phil) Rosenberg-Bushy Graham bantamweight title bout in New York next month.

Abad recently defeated Tony Canzoneri, who outpointed Graham in the Garden in December.

Odds Favor Paul.
New York, January 25.—Wall street betting odds continue to favor Paul Berlenbach over Mike McTigue for their 10-round bout at Madison Square Garden Friday night. The Astoria assembly is a 7-to-5 favorite, despite the loud support of the Celt in boxing circles.

1,000 Golf Clubs Opened During '26, Reports Reveal

Chicago, January 25.—(P)—One big business that promises to keep going at a lively rate in 1927 is golf. Reports indicate that a thousand new golf clubs were started in 1926. Experts estimate that they will spend approximately $138,000,000 during 1927 for real estate, course construction and club building; $22,000,000 for new sprinkling systems and supplies, and $15,000,000 for salaries, awards and entertainment.

SPILLER'S AUTO TURNS TURTLE NEAR M'RAE

McRae, Ga., January 25.—(Special)—R. J. Spiller, of Atlanta, owner of the Atlanta baseball team, traveling in his seven passenger car, accompanied by Bert Niehoff, manager of the Atlanta team, Lloyd Niehoff and Nap Rucker, scout for the Brooklyn, New York, team, en route to Dover, Hall, 14 miles out from Brunswick, turned his car over on what is known as "Dead Man's Curve," on the Bee Line highway, six miles before McRae this morning.

The party was en route to Dover Hall to be the guests of the Brooklyn team on a hunting and fishing trip. According to Mr. Spiller, the car was traveling at a speed of 45 miles an hour and he being unaccustomed to the road did not see the curve in time to make the turn. No one was seriously hurt. Mr. Spiller receiving several minor cuts and scratches on his left hand and several bruises, no bones being broken.

Mr. Spiller was brought to the office of Dr. W. H. Born, in McRae, who dressed his hand. The car was sent to a local garage where it was repaired. They continued on their journey as soon as the car was repaired.

Ill-Fated Star
Waco, Texas, January 25.—(P)—Weir Washem, one of the Baylor athletes in the bus which was splintered by a train Saturday at Round Rock and escaped with his life when pushed through a window by a comrade, was in another automobile accident here today. He was hurt slightly.

Washem was riding with M. M. Kelley and John Kelley, father and brother of one of the young men killed in Saturday's crash. The two Kelleys were injured seriously.

"Tar Baby" Gets $4,107.75.
Sam Langford, old-time heavyweight known as the Boston "Tar Baby," will receive $4,107.75 as a result of a benefit show held for him at the Walker A. C. of New York last week.

Additional contributions bring the money to be turned over to the negro, whose sight is failing, to nearly $8,000.

Progressive Club Loses Rough Game To Nashville Peps

Bean's Blues Beaten, 44-28, For Southern Jewish Basketball Championship—Finkelstein Is Effectively Checked By Five-Man Defense.

BY DICK HAWKINS.
Whatever claim the lads of the Jewish Progressive club have to the championship of the south among teams of their religion, they were forced to relinquish Tuesday night when they met the Nashville Peps and suffered a 44 to 28 drubbing.

We say a "drubbing" and yet it was not quite that. The score indicates very fairly the superiority of the Nashville team but the game was too fast and furious to say that the losers received a drubbing because such a term implies something passive.

There was nothing passive about the fracas, in fact a little less pugnacity might easily have resulted in a bit more basketball. The game started out like a "blood game" between ancient rivals and it continued that way until the last few minutes of play when the floor work opened a trifle and J. P. C. put on a spurt, to no avail.

Due to the roughness there was a deal of good basketball and like many rough games the home team to men who usually do not shine in the limelight.

Finkelstein, of the local outfit, was badly off his stride and though he was not in the game as many times as the rules allow, he failed to make his usual quota of baskets, chalking up but four points in the entire game.

Levy was high point man for the J. P. C.'s, with a total of six points while Klein had five counters to his credit. The points were well scattered among the losers because of the fact that the Peps' five-man defense forced them to shoot from all points on the court.

Jack Diamond, former prep star, was the scoring leader of the invasion with 17 points and Jacobs, who substituted for Captain Philip Cohen, was close at his heels with 15 points.

The invaders were able to sink eight out of 12 free throws while the J. P. C.'s dropped but four out of 11. As may be concluded from some remarks made above, referee Harry Robinson had his hands full in his job, but the diminutive official performed his task most creditably. It

Agnew Signs.
Augusta, Ga., January 25.—(P)—Troy Agnew, former manager of the Augusta club in the South Atlantic league, and the Richmond club in the Virginia league, has signed a contract to manage the Okmulgee club in the reorganized Western association, he announced tonight.

FASHION PARK CLOTHIERS

A Great Climax to a Great Mid-Winter Clearance—

Choice of

189 SUITS

Most of which were made at FASHION PARK at

$29.75

Regular Values Were $45 to $65

Our Mid-Winter Clearance Sale Ends Saturday

Everything in the house has been DRASTICALLY REDUCED to make these last days clear our stock thoroughly and completely—Men, ACT NOW!

Pollock & Berg
79-81 Peachtree Street

Only a Few More Days

Suits--Overcoats 1/2-1/3-1/4 Off

Group 1

$35 to $75 Kirschbaum and Our Own Make Two-Trouser Suits $26.25 to $56.25 1/4 Off

$30 to $45 Kirschbaum Topcoats $22.50 to $33.75 1/3 Off

$50 to $75 Imported English Aquascutum Topcoats $37.50 to $56.25 1/4 Off

Group 2

$30 to $75 Kirschbaum and Our Own Make Heavy Overcoats $20 to $50 1/3 Off

$30 to $50 Two-Trouser Suits. Odd Lots $20 to $33.33 1/3 Off

Group 3

Odds and Ends in Heavy Overcoats-Topcoats--One-Trouser Suits. Broken lots and sizes. 1/2 Off

M. RICH & BROS. CO.
BROAD-ALABAMA & FORSYTH STS.~PHONE WALNUT 4636

$7,000.00 in Prizes TO BE GIVEN AWAY BY THE ATLANTA CONSTITUTION

Join This Simple, Fascinating, Profitable Game

Can You Find the Twins?

Cash
Prizes

Totaling
$7,000

No, they are not all Twins! Two and only two are identical, and are the twins you are asked to find. Can you? To be sure, the eighteen pictures all look alike; but look closer. How about their hats? They are not all clothed the same. Many young ladies look alike and the eighteen on this page look like each other, but the "TWINS" are dressed exactly the same, like all real twins. Read the clues.

It takes real care and cleverness to point out the differences and find the two real Twins, because two and only two are identically the same.

Start
Looking
NOW!

FIRST PRIZE $3,000.00---Maximum Award Lots of Fun!

CLUES

At first glance, all the young ladies look alike. BUT YOU ARE ASKED TO FIND THE TWINS THAT ARE CLOTHED EXACTLY ALIKE. Now then, upon closer examination you will find a difference in their wearing apparel. Have they all earrings or necklaces? How about their coats and hats? Are they trimmed the same? Some have bands on the brim and crowns, others have not. Maybe the difference is just the buttonhole in the lapel of the coat.

Just look closely—make sure that you have found the Twins, then send in your answer. Somebody who finds the right Twins is going to win a big cash prize. Make that somebody be YOU!

50 CASH PRIZES

Listed below are the maximum prizes you can win.

1st Prize	$3,000.00
2nd Prize	1,500.00
3rd Prize	800.00
4th Prize	200.00
5th Prize	200.00
6th Prize	100.00
7th Prize	100.00
8th Prize	100.00
9th Prize	100.00
10th Prize	100.00
11th to 50th Prizes, inclusive	20.00

Mail Your Answer

TODAY

Just as soon as you have found the Twins, mail your answer to the Puzzle Manager and get an early start toward earning the final 50 points to win First Prize.

golden opportunity, $3,000 IN CASH.

In the event of ties for any prize, duplicate prizes will be awarded.

500 points wins First Prize. We will give you 450 points for finding the Twins. Immediately upon receipt of your correct answer to the Twins, we will send you particulars of a word-building contest, in which, if successful, you earn the final 50 points required to win a $3,000 First Prize or one of the 49 other Cash Prizes.

Twin Puzzle Coupon

Puzzle Manager, Room 46
The Atlanta Constitution, Atlanta, Ga.

Numbers and are the Twins that I have found. If these are correct please give me the 450 points and tell me how to gain the final 50 points to win First Prize.

Name

Postoffice

Street

R. F. D. State

YOUR ANSWER

Any man, woman, boy or girl resident of Georgia or adjoining states, who is not an employee of The Atlanta Constitution, or a member of an employee's family, may submit an answer.

When you have made your selection of the Twins send in your answer. Remember the Twins are exact duplicates.

When you have found the Twins write the numbers in the coupon opposite, fill in your name and complete address and mail at once to the Puzzle Manager, The Atlanta Constitution, Atlanta, Ga.

In the event of ties in the final awarding, prizes of equal value will be given.

The whole family may cooperate in this competition, but only one prize will be awarded to any one household; nor will prizes be awarded to more than one of any group outside the family, where two or more have been working together.

There will be three independent judges, having no connection with The Constitution, who will judge the answers submitted and award the prizes in this competition, and participants by sending in their answer agree to accept the decision of the judges as final and conclusive.

Mail Your Answer Promptly to Puzzle Manager, Room 46 THE ATLANTA CONSTITUTION ATLANTA, GA.

Social Affairs and Meetings Combined in Day's Calendar

In spite of the noticeable lack of elaborate social functions there are enough small, informal affairs to keep society pleasantly busy these days. A number of delightfully normal events are calendared for Wednesday combined with important club meetings preceded and followed by luncheon. The executive board of the Georgia branch, National Congress of Parents and Teachers, will meet today at the Henry Grady hotel, beginning at 10 o'clock. At 12:30 o'clock luncheon will be served followed by the afternoon session. A number of prominent out-of-town women who are officers of the Georgia P.-T. A. are in the city to attend the meeting, which will be featured by the outlining of plans for the state P.-T. A. convention to be held in Macon in April.

A strictly social and outstanding event of today is the reception at which the Sigma Alpha Epsilon fraternity will entertain at the Druid Hills golf club, this occasion to assemble a large number of the college contingent.

Atlanta Review

To Sew Today.

The Atlanta Review No. 1, W. B. A., will hold on all-day sewing at the residence of Mrs. P. G. Faggett, 777 Edgewood avenue, for the benefit of the Needle Work guild Wednesday, January 26. All interested are invited to attend.

Fidels Class

To Sew Today.

The Fidels class of the West End Baptist church will go to the Atlanta Child's home Wednesday. Please carry thimbles and scissors. Call Mrs. J. J. Hemperley, chairman.

Mrs. Schell Is

Party Hostess.

Mrs. A. E. Schell entertained at a spend-the-day party Tuesday at her apartment on North Church street, in East Point.

Her guests included Mrs. Harvey Lester and family, Mrs. Charlie Brittain and family, of Decatur, and Mrs. A. S. Schell.

Alma Fowler Circle

Gives Silver Tea.

The Alma Fowler Missionary circle, of which Mrs. James T. McCreary is chairman, entertained at a beautiful silver tea Monday afternoon at the home of Mrs. D. A. McDuffie.

An enjoyable program was rendered during the afternoon by Miss Melba Huie, Leontes McDuffie, Stanley Steele, who gave piano solos. Those giving readings were Phyllis Manning, C. B. Coleman, Misses Barbara Hutchins, Billy Gray and Mrs. Davis.

Havana's Newest Hotel

Imperial

ONE HUNDRED FIFTY
ROOMS WITH BATHS
Harry Hoffman, Mgr.

IN THE HEART OF HAVANA
on San Rafael Street, the street elcct for shopping.

Rates:
European American
Single $4 up $7 up
Double $6 up $12 up
Suites Optional

ROOF GARDEN RESTAURANT

Dancing - Entertainment

Wonderful View of Ocean and City of Havana

CUISINE

American-Cuban-Mexican Interpreters Meet All Steamers

HOTEL

Claridge

BROADWAY at 44th STREET
NEW YORK

Room $3 up

A Special Discount of 10% allowed on weekly rates.

J. B. Fallaize Co.

251 Peachtree Street The Linen Store

WALNUT
7905

Only Five Days More of the January Sale

WITH PRICES REDUCED TO THE LOWEST IN TWELVE YEARS, WHY NOT FILL YOUR WANTS FROM OUR WONDERFUL STOCK?

SPECIALS

Hemstitched Pure Linen Towels, 18x32 inches. 39c
Were 50c, at, each...
Hemstitched Pure Linen Towels, 20x36 inches. 69c
Were $1.00, at, each.

Real Irish Towels, Damask Borders, 17x33 in. 79c
Were $1.00, at, each.
A Towel Like Grandma Used to buy, 18x34 inches. $1
Were $1.25, at, each.

Nine Sets of Real Irish Damask An Extraordinary Offer

Read Carefully, Ye Housekeepers, or Prospective
Brides. Put This Special in the Hope Chest.
Table Cloth, 2x24 yards.
1 Doz. Napkins, 22-inch.

Real Value $45

(Choice of three designs).

Table Cloth and Napkins Hand-Hemmed. Table Cloth and Napkins with Hand-Embroidered Monograms. The Whole Delivered Laundered by Hand, Ready for use.

$31.90

See Our 16-Page Catalog for Hundreds of
Other Wonderful Values

Mrs. Montague Gives 'Tacky Luncheon' for Miss McPheeters

The novel and unique "Tacky" luncheon given by Mrs. Latane Montague at her apartment on Peachtree street Tuesday, at 1:30 o'clock in honor of her guest, Miss Isabelle McPheeters, of Cleveland, Ohio, was a quaint reversion from the many beautiful affairs given as a compliment to this feted and attractive visitor, and proved one of the most delightful parties of the season.

The luncheon table was "tacky" and ridiculous in every appointment. Covered with a red and white checked tablecloth, the central decoration was a galvanized bucket filled with white narcissi and pink crepe paper roses. Surrounding this absurd center piece were co-caola bottles holding red candles. The bon-bon dishes—tops of tin cans—held peanuts in the shells. The service plates were tin pie pans, and ludicrous favors, and comic Valentines were used as place cards for the guests. The guest of honor was seated on a soap box.

The guests at this very original luncheon included Miss McPheeters, Miss Jennie Robinson, Miss Callie Orm, Miss Douglas, Paine, Miss Lucile Stone, Miss Anne Lane Newell, Mrs. T. G. Green, Mrs. Ernest Daley, Miss Barbara Bond, of Palo Alto, Calif., the guest of Mrs. A. D. J. Montague, Miss Eugene McNeal and Mrs. Montague.

Miss McPheeters has been the guest of Mrs. Samuel Inman, and continued to be honored at many charming affairs. After spending a week with Mrs. Montague, Miss McPheeters will be the guest of Mr. and Mrs. Stuart Stringfellow at their home on Fourteenth street.

Wiggins-Stewart

Wedding Cards.

Mrs. R. A. Wiggins, of Wadley, Ga., has issued invitations to the marriage of her daughter, Bernice Raye, to Charles Paul Stewart, the wedding to take place Sunday, January 30, at 6 o'clock at the Wadley Baptist church.

Maid and Sponsors Named

For Confederate Reunion.

The following list of Georgia maids and sponsors to the Confederate reunion, which will be held in Tampa, Fla., in April, is announced.

The appointments for the ladies' staff are Mrs. Anna Bryant Lane, Macon, sponsor; Mrs. Regina Rambo Benson, Marietta, matron of honor; Miss Mildred Rutherford, Athens, honorary matron of honor; Mrs. Jennie Buckner, Moultrie, honorary matron of honor; Mrs. W. C. Murchison, Vidalia, honorary matron of honor; Mrs. A. J. Twigg, Augusta, honorary matron of honor; Mrs. D. B. Morgan, Savannah, honorary matron of honor; Mrs. Alexander Prosser, Macon, maid of honor; Mrs. Oscar McKenzie, Montezuma, honorary matron of honor; Mrs. Mark O'Daniel, Macon, chaplain; Miss Lillie Martin, Hawkinsville, chaplain; Mrs. Cora Chapman

DAILY CALENDAR OF WOMEN'S MEETINGS

A meeting of the executive board of the Georgia Congress of Parents and Teachers will be held at the Henry Grady hotel at 10 o'clock.

The West End Civic club will meet at 3 o'clock at the clubhouse.

The executive board of the William A. Bass P.-T. A. will meet at 10 o'clock in the library.

The Reviewers will meet at the home of Miss Hannah Franklin, 81 Peachtree place, N. E.

The Junior Confederate Memorial association will meet at 2:30 o'clock at the home of the directress, Miss Willie Fort Williams, 1069 Juniper street, N. E.

The North Side Embroidery club will meet with Mrs. Hugh David Carter, 1164 Springdale road, at 3 o'clock.

The Moses W. Formwalt P.-T. A. will meet in the auditorium of the school at 2:30 o'clock.

The Woman's Missionary society of Western Heights Baptist church will meet at the church at 2:30 o'clock for the monthly business meeting.

The ward officers' council of the Atlanta League of Women Voters will hold its first meeting of the year at league headquarters, 356-7 Candler avenue, at 10:30 o'clock.

The ladies of the First Baptist church will hold an all-day study class, subject "Moslem Women," starting at 10 o'clock at the church.

The West End study class will meet at 10:45 o'clock with Mrs. R. N. Fickett, Jr.

The P.-T. A. of the Marion Smith school will have the regular meeting at the schoolhouse.

The Woman's Missionary society of the Gordon Street Baptist church will hold an all-day study course from 9:30 to 1:30 o'clock.

The Woman's Union Bible club meets at 10 o'clock at Wesley Memorial church.

The regular meeting of the West End Woman's club will be held at the clubhouse, 1100 Cascade avenue, at 3 o'clock. Preceding the business meeting a called meeting of the executive board will be held at 2 o'clock to transact important business.

The College Park Music club will meet this afternoon at 3 o'clock at the city hall auditorium. The Griffith School of Music will present a program.

The citizenship committee of the Atlanta Woman's club will meet this morning at 10:30 o'clock in the palm room of the club, Mrs. J. P. Billups presiding.

The regular monthly business meeting of the Kie club will be held this morning in the Elks' club at 11 o'clock.

The regular monthly meeting of the Edgewood pre-school circle will be held in the school building at 3 o'clock.

Waterway, Macon, chaplain; Mrs. Percy Chestney, Macon, chaplain; Mrs. Effie Baker, Grisswoldville, chaplain; Mrs. Belle Baker, Grisswoldville, chaplain; Miss Kate Lewis, Hawkinsville, maid of honor; Miss Pearl Prosser, Macon, maid of honor; Miss Sue Chambers, Macon, maid of honor; Miss Martha Elkan, Macon, maid of honor; Miss Virginia Stubbs, Macon, maid of honor; Miss Myrl Butts, Macon, maid of honor.

O. B. X. Members To Meet

With Miss Dorothy Dobbs.

The O. B. X. sorority meeting will take place this afternoon at 3 o'clock with Miss Dorothy Dobbs at her home on Springdale road. The sorority will sponsor a script dance at Garber hall on Monday evening, January 31.

Mrs. Weddington Elected Head Of Newnan Club

Newnan, Ga., January 25.—The Newnan Woman's club was organized this morning, at a large and enthusiastic meeting of representative women, held at the Carnegie library, in response to the call of Miss Mary Freeman, who acted as temporary chairman for organization.

Miss Freeman declined to accept permanent office because of contemplated absence from Georgia. Officers elected were: President, Mrs. J. L. Weddington; first vice president, Mrs. Robert S. Mann; second vice president, Mrs. Lovick Sewell; secretary, Miss Mildred Arnall, and treasurer, Mrs. Roger Bryant.

Mrs. Garland Jones acted as chairman of the nominating committee, the report of which was unanimously adopted as above stated. Mrs. Robert S. Mann was appointed chairman of a committee on membership, which will report at a meeting on Thursday, when the list of charter members will be fixed upon.

By unanimous vote, the new club decided to federate with the Georgia Federation of Women's Clubs, and provided for its dues to this organization, and its participation in the foundations of the federation. The club will go into the federation with its 75 cents per capita, for the Ella F. White endowment foundation paid, and will provide for participation in the work of the Tallulah Falls school and the students' aid foundation.

Mrs. Z. I. Fitzpatrick, past president of Georgia Federation of Women's clubs, and vice president of the trustees of the Tallulah Falls school, was an honor guest at the organization meeting. Mrs. Fitzpatrick expressed enthusiastic interest in the organization of the new club, stating her belief that no town in Georgia could boast finer material for the work of a high type woman's club, than could Newnan. She predicts a prosperous and useful future for the Newnan Woman's club.

Patrician Players

To Produce Plays.

The Patrician players, a club organized under the auspices of Miss Isabelle Clark, one of the best known leaders of moral activities and also a graduate of Agnes Scott college, will produce "Twelve Good Men and True" at an early date.

The members of the club are Misses Louise Lichtenstein, Eula Morris, Jennie Klein, Rose Pfeffer, Jennette Schumister, Sara Gordon, Frances Bizielsky, Sylvia Hirsch, Dora Gordon, Mollie Klien, Annie Segal and others.

The Patrician players will also produce Thursday evening. The silent drama, which has been given by some of the members, prove their talents, with Misses Louise Lichtenstein, Frances Bizielsky and Sara Gordon standing out in the limelight.

The officers of the Patrician club are: President, Miss Sara Gordon; secretary, Miss Sylvia Hirsch; stage manager, Miss Red Lichtenstein; director, Miss Isabelle Clark.

Baron DeKalb Chapter D. A. R. Meets Friday

The Baron DeKalb chapter, Daughters of the American Revolution, will meet Friday, at 8 o'clock, at the residence of Mrs. C. H. David, Rockbridge road, Avondale. The assistant hostesses will be Mrs. R. L. Paine and Miss Beulah Marks, of Avondale. Mrs. A. L. Wade, of the state Americanization committee will relate what the national society is doing for the foreigner and speak of her work among that class as a special teacher of the Atlanta public school system.

Mrs. Walter Estes will tell of Georgia state Sunday at Valley Forge. Mrs. J. W. Meltor will lead discussion of historical January events, notably the Battle of Cowpens. The regent, Mrs. John A. Montgomery, will preside.

Anna Fulton Chapter

To Meet Friday.

The Anna S. Fulton chapter, Children of the Confederacy, will hold its regular monthly meeting Friday afternoon, January 28, at 3:30 o'clock, at the home of Mrs. J. C. Johnson, 1024 Clairmont avenue, Decatur, Ga. All members are urged to be present.

Announcing a Final SALE Of Chandler's Footwear

—Last Day and broken sizes.

3

—Patents
—Satin
—Colored Kids
—Many Styles
—Both Heels

Every Sale Final!

No Mail Orders Filled

Whitehall Street

CHANDLER
EDISON BROS.
BOOT SHOPS

Corner Alabama

Last 5 Days! Rich's Linen Sale!

Table Linens Less!

$3.98 Linen Napkins

—For twenty-eight years has Rich's Special Irish Linen been one of the "best" parts of the Rich's Linen Sales! Napkins, 18x18, in the sale are $2.98 the dozen.

$4.95 Irish Linen Napkins, 20x20, $3.98 Doz.
$5.98 Irish Linen Napkins, 22x22, $4.95 Doz.

$3.95 Breakfast Sets

—Fine Irish Linen—for centuries celebrated for its beauty of strength! Attractive breakfast sets with colored borders—gay for the bright breakfast room! Cloth 50x50 and six 14-in. napkins.

50c Bath Towels

—Exceptionally heavy quality of bath towels—extra large, too, 25x48. For the sale these are priced at only $4.50 dozen. No wonder, Rich's Linen Sale is so famous! When values such as these abound!

Gold Medal Cloths

—Scarcely a lover of fine linens but knows Gold Medal brand—its tradition of fineness and loveliness! Do you realize the fullness of the values we offer when we quote a cloth 70x70 at $4?

Other Gold Medal Cloths, $5 and $6.
Gold Medal Napkins, 20x20-in., doz., $5.48

Bedding at Savings!

$4.95 Wool-Mixed Blankets

—Values such as these have made Rich's Linen Sale "Proverb of Thrift on the lips" of Atlanta! Fine wool-mixed blankets in unusually attractive block plaids—pink, tan, blue and grey. Size 68x80 inches. Sateen binding.

$3.95

$4.95 Rayon Spreads

—Reductions, you must know, for the January Sale are from prices already low! An example of the tremendous values offered are these spreads—truly beautiful—of novelty jacquard striped rayon. Rose, blue, gold, orchid. Scalloped square.

$4.29

$2.59 Dimity Spreads

—Another reason why Rich's January Linen Sale has been pronounced exceptional by Atlanta! Dimity spreads for double or single beds—long enough to cover bolster. Blue, pink, orchid and green colored stripes. Attractively scalloped square.

$2.19

"Round Thread" Sheets

—Carefully woven according to our own strict measures—we can say with pride that no better brand can be found! Sheets 72x90 in., priced $1.37.

$1.37

$1.95 Sheets, 81x90-in. $1.48
45c Pillow Cases, 42x36-in. 35c
50c Pillow Cases, 45x48-in. 40c

Old Rich favorites can be counted on for perennial popularity:

Moravian, Flemish and Irish Damask Table Cloths and Napkins.
Rich's Celebrated Round Thread Sheets and Pillow Cases
Rich's Silver Bleach Sheets and Pillow Cases
Rich's Special Fine Wool Blankets
Rich's Krinkle White Dimity Spreads.

Seasonable checking up of linen needs was the good old practice of housewifely grandmother. Buying linens at January price reductions is the efficient practice of granddaughter. Enjoying the beauty and utility of fine linens is the rightful heritage of womankind.

All three ends may be served by RICH'S JANUARY LINEN SALE, which lasts only five days longer!

—RICH'S, SECOND FLOOR

M. RICH & BROS. CO.

BROAD-ALABAMA & FORSYTH STS. PHONE WALNUT 4636

Nominating Committee Named At City Federation Meeting

Mrs. Samuel M. Inman, Mrs. Charles T. Phillips, Mrs. Charles J. Haden, Mrs. Oscar Palmer and Miss Alice Baxter were appointed to serve on the nominating committee to elect officers for the forthcoming year in the Atlanta Federation of Women's Clubs, Tuesday morning, at the meeting held in the Young Woman's Christian association, with Mrs. Robert K. Rambo, the president, in the chair.

The endorsement of a resolution proclaiming Mrs. Joseph M. High, to be the person in the city of Atlanta contributing more than any other citizen of this great commonwealth during the past year, to uphold and advertise the prestige and advantages of the city through her generous gift of the High Museum of Art, donation of funds for placing the statue of Alexander Hamilton Stephens in the Hall of Fame in Washington, D. C., and many other known and unknown gifts of love and service to humanity; the belief that there is a crying need for a drug store to be open after midnight in Atlanta, and endorsing any such proposed venture, promising thereto its fullest support and cooperation, along with the council of Jewish women through whom the resolution was presented; endorsement of the movement launched by Kirkwood

Civic league to ask the city of Atlanta to buy "Sutherland," the former home of General John B. Gordon, for a memorial to the late Confederate general, and to be used for civic purposes; and endorsement of the juvenile department of the Stone Mountain Confederate Memorial association, known as the Children's Founders' roll, were fully approved and adopted by the assembled body and will be presented to the next open meeting for ratification. The resolutions were read by Mrs. Marvin L. Underwood, resolutions chairman.

Mrs. Raymond Wolfe, chairman of child welfare for the Atlanta Federation, proposed a resolution regarding the setting aside of "street playgrounds," during specified hours for use of children in communities where playground facilities are too distant from the houses in the neighborhood, stressing the fact that open air and outdoor recreation are essential to the proper physical, wholesome mental and moral development of child, which will be acted upon at the open meeting of the Atlanta Federation held Monday afternoon, January 30, at the C. W. C. Hall, at 10 o'clock. Luncheon will be served at $1 per plate, and reservations may be made through Mrs. Guy Woolford, chairman.

Elaborate Dinner-Dance Held As Golf Club Reelects Officers

Among the most brilliant social functions of the midwinter season was the dinner-dance at the Druid Hills Golf club Tuesday evening, when all time officers of the club were re-elected for another year.

The business meeting was held at 7 o'clock followed by an elaborate dinner-dance. Dinner was served at individual tables seating groups of eight and 12. Vases and baskets of vari-colored flowers adorned the center of each table.

Among those present were: Mr. and Mrs. Lowry Arnold, Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd Parks, Mr. and Mrs. Sam T. Maddox, Mr. and Mrs. C. J. Holditch, Mr. and Mrs. A. C. Newell, Mr. and Mrs. W. F. Spalding, Mr. and Mrs. R. B. Troutman, Mr. and Mrs. J. S. Floyd, Mr. and Mrs. Carey Baker, Mr. and Mrs. L. I. Shivers, Dr. and Mrs. J. E. Pullin, Mr. and Mrs. Henry W. Davis, Mr. and Mrs. J. R. Porter, Joseph A. McCord, Mr. and Mrs. J. G. Dodson, Milton H. Bell, Mr. and Mrs. R. B. Black, Dr. and Mrs. M. C. Jones, Mr. and Mrs. Allen M. Burdette, Mr. and Mrs. C. Arthur Kitchens,

Mr. and Mrs. James P. Hodnett, Mr. and Mrs. A. W. Almond, Mr. and Mrs. George Argo, Mr. and Mrs. George A. Black, Mr. and Mrs. Dunlap, Mr. and Mrs. Forrest Fisher, William A. Fuller, Mr. and Mrs. C. E. Laird, Mr. and Mrs. A. H. Sterne, Mr. and Mrs. Lee Ashcraft, Dr. and Mrs. W. W. Anderson, Dr. and Mrs. Leroy Childs, Mr. and Mrs. James L. Dieker, Major and Mrs. J. S. Cohen, Mr. and Mrs. Edward Barnes, Mr. and Mrs. A. W. Chase, Mr. and Mrs. W. L. Etheridge, Ward Fitzpatrick, Dr. M. D. Huff, Colonel M. S. Jarvis, Mr. and Mrs. Graham L. Johnson, Mr. and Mrs. F. A. Jordan, Mr. and Mrs. J. S. Kennedy, Mr. and Mrs. R. A. Kline, Mr. and Mrs. Pittsburgh Knorr, Thomas L. Lyon, Mr. and Mrs. M. S. Mentzer, Mr. and Mrs. W. C. Royer, Mr. and Mrs. L. T. Stallings, Mr. and Mrs. Charles F. Stone, E. A. Thornehill, Dr. and Mrs. A. H. Van Dyke, Mr. and Mrs. H. Lane Young, Mr. and Mrs. James T. Williams, Mr. and Mrs. Thomas B. Paine, Mr. and Mrs. H. K. Dick, Mr. and Mrs. Harry M. Atkinson, Mr. and Mrs. Robert F. Maddox.

SOCIAL ITEMS

Mrs. Dunbar Roy will have as her guest, after Saturday, at her home at the Georgian Terrace, Mrs. Percy Smedley Darlington, of West Chester, Pa.

Mrs. Annie Stewart Flynt is in Cincinnati, Ohio, where she is visiting her brother, Major George C. Stewart, and sister, Dr. Margaret M. Stewart, at the Tudor Court apartments.

Mrs. H. M. Forst, of Dallas, Texas, is the guest of Mrs. Emmett A. Jones, at her home on Virginia avenue. Mrs. Forst is being delightfully entertained while a visitor in Atlanta, having been a recent honor guest at a luncheon, when Mrs. D. C. Woodward was hostess to several friends at bridge. Other parties are planned for the coming week.

Mr. and Mrs. Robert Simmonds and Mr. and Mrs. W. S. Hall, of Knoxville, Tenn., who have been guests at the Atlanta Biltmore, leave today for a motor trip through Florida, with St. Petersburg as their destination.

Mr. and Mrs. C. R. Adams, Richmond, Va., arrived at the Biltmore hotel Tuesday afternoon.

Mr. and Mrs. Daniel Morris, of Boston, Mass., are spending a few days at the Atlanta Biltmore hotel.

Mrs. Frank Carson, of Detroit, Mich., is at the Atlanta Biltmore hotel for a few days.

Mrs. James B. Keough left Tuesday for New York, from whence she will sail at midnight Saturday, January 29, on the steamer Transylvania, for a Mediterranean cruise of several months.

Mrs. Michèle Hoke has returned from Warrenton, Va., where she visited her daughter, Miss Laurie Hoke, who is there attending school.

Mrs. Edgar Upton left Sunday for her home at Coral Gables, Fla., after a visit of several weeks to her parents, Mr. and Mrs. H. L. Stearns.

Judge and Mrs. Alex Hall and Mr. and Mrs. Perkins Ellis, of Buckingham county, Virginia, who have been visiting Mr. and Mrs. Frank Mason

PILL-TAKER FREED FROM HIS HABIT

ALL-BRAN brought natural relief from chronic constipation

Constipation is almost a universal curse—father of more than forty diseases. Yet there is real assurance in Mr. Ladue's letter:

"After sixteen years of taking pills, it cured me. If the millions of people that suffer from constipation only knew what Kellogg's ALL-BRAN would do, some of the pill-makers would go out of business. Every doctor should recommend it. I tell all that I know so that they can get the joy out of life I am getting since I started on Kellogg's ALL-BRAN 3 months ago."

Mr. JULIAN LADUE, Burlington, Vt.

Hollow cheeks, pimples, listlessness are some of the symptoms. Don't risk it another day. Kellogg's ALL-BRAN is guaranteed to relieve constipation. Two tablespoons daily—in chronic cases, with every meal.

Delicious with milk or cream—and add fruits or honey. Use in cooking. Comes ready to eat. Sold and served everywhere. Made by Kellogg in Battle Creek. Recipes in package.

Kellogg's
ALL-BRAN

State P-T. Board To Meet Wednesday

A meeting of the executive board of the Georgia Congress of Parents and Teachers will be held in Atlanta, at the Henry Grady hotel, Wednesday, January 26, at 10 o'clock. Price of luncheon will be $1. Members are requested to make reservations with Mrs. John De Sassure, Decatur, Ga.

Finance Committee To Sponsor Tea at Woman's Club

Mrs. W. B. Price-Smith, president Atlanta Woman's club, announces that the tea Friday afternoon will be sponsored by Mrs. Alice Taylor, chairman of finance, and the members of her committee, Mrs. Hamilton Douglas, Mrs. J. B. Herreshoff, Mrs. J. N. Bateman, assisted by the thirteen original, Miss Evelyn Sims, chairman, and composed of the following members: Misses Frances Wilkerson, Frances Blake, Kathleen Guller, Jacquelin Moore, Louise Moore, Virginia Risk, Mary Grace Rowe, Cora Carter, Rebecca Hill, Evelyn Floyd, Nanette Antolotti, Ruth Brook, Carolyn Berry, Margaret Stone, Wilene Carlisle, Martha McKnight, Lillia Harris, Frances Wimbish, Evelyn Hollingsworth, Margaret Snelling, Maude Hardwick, Annie Lee Coleman, Armenia Penn, Lillian Castle, Eugenia Natf, Virginia Carmichael, Ernestine Hornady, Farnden West, Frances Mather, Jennie Lynn Mather, Dorothy Coleman, Evelyn Williams, Celeste Martin.

Joel Hunter, auditor of the club, will be honor guest. Mrs. Victor Clark, well-known musician of Atlanta, will be in charge of the musical program, and has secured cliff Harveut, noted tenor, who will render several selections.

The usual beautiful decorations will adorn the banquet hall under the direction of Mrs. G. H. Brandon, chairman. One of the largest parties of the afternoon will be that given by the Drama league, who will entertain in honor of Miss Madge Kennedy and S'ney Blackmer, starring in "Love-In-A-Mist," at the Erlanger theater this week.

Over 100 reservations have already been made, and the president urges all those who desire to attend to make reservations as early as possible by calling Mrs. Simmons, Hemlock 0225, or Mrs. Joseph Smith, Hemlock 5863.

Jenifer Review Plans Benefit.

The Woman's Benefit association, sponsored by Jenifer Review No. 7, W. B. A., will give a benefit bridge in the main dining room, Ansley hotel, Monday afternoon, February 7, at 2:30 o'clock. Any game may be played. Committee on prizes and tickets includes Mrs. Louise Shaffer, Phone Geneva 8171-R; Mrs. Sadie Vernoy, Dearborn 3030-J; Mrs. Catherine Warneke, West 2902; Mrs. Otis Harper, Dearborn 2968-J.

The Woman's Benefit association having secured more than the required number of members to entitle Georgia to a state convention, plans are on foot for the convention to be held in Atlanta early this spring. Miss Frances D. Partridge, supreme recorder of the order, will be the convention guest. Mrs. Pearl H. Deputy, supreme commander of the order, will visit Atlanta in a few weeks to assist in arranging dates and to plan for entertaining the delegates from all parts of the state.

Frank Wellborn Blalock is convalescing at St. Joseph's infirmary, where he recently underwent an operation for appendicitis.

Miss Katherine Morehead, of Charlotte, N. C., will arrive Friday to be the guest of Miss Margaret Nelson at her home, on Fifteenth street.

Mr. and Mrs. E. M. Rylee, of Athens, are spending several days at the Hotel Georgian Terrace.

Mr. and Mrs. John H. Hooks, of Athens, are spending some time at the Hotel Georgian Terrace.

The friends of Miss Lorah Belle Allen will be glad to learn that she is convalescing at Grady hospital.

Miss Mabel Ellis is in Raleigh, N. C., visiting Mrs. Norris Stamps.

Colonel Guy Parker, of East Point, is seriously ill at the Georgia Baptist hospital.

Mrs. C. B. Harrison is ill at her home, 1035 Austin avenue.

J. B. Seagers has returned from Cincinnati.

Mrs. H. H. Jones, of Columbus, Ohio, is the guest of her sister, Mrs. F. M. Craft, at her home, 64 Brighton road.

Mrs. T. A. Rippey, Sr., of Los Angeles, Calif., is the guest of her son and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Thresher Ames Rippey, and of Mr. and Mrs. F. O. Stone, at their home in Druid Hills.

Mrs. William Adair Martin has returned from a motor trip to Asheville, North Carolina.

Mr. and Mrs. Thresher Ames Rippey, Jr., announce the birth of a daughter, Monday, January 24, at Wesley Memorial hospital, who has been given the name, Donna Virginia. Mrs. Rippey was, before her marriage, Miss Donna Stone, and the baby is the granddaughter of Mr. and Mrs. F. O. Stone and Mr. and Mrs. T. A. Rippey, Sr., of Los Angeles, Calif.

Ely Meyer, of Tampa, Fla., is visiting Mr. and Mrs. Louis Wellhouse at the Georgian Terrace.

Mrs. William Larned is spending the winter in Florida.

The friends of Mr. and Mrs. William L. McCally, Jr., will be pleased to know that their little daughter, Catherine, is recovering from injuries received in a recent accident.

Dr. and Mrs. Patrick Jones announce the birth of a daughter Sunday, January 23, at Piedmont hospital. Mrs. Jones was formerly Miss Mary Lou Barge.

Mr. and Mrs. Roscoe C. Jessup and their guests, Mr. and Mrs. John Hitch of Hobson, Mont., returned Saturday from touring the stat of Florida.

Will Meet Thursday To Plan for Carnival.

The ladies of the Church of the Immaculate Conception will hold a meeting Thursday, January 27, in the Sunday school hall, to plan for the winter carnival which will be staged February 26. The members of the church are earnestly requested to attend, at which time committees will be appointed and definite duties assigned.

DAILY CALENDAR OF SOCIAL EVENTS

The marriage of Miss Margaret Scruggs and Wendell Howard Simpson, of New Orleans, will take place at 8:30 o'clock at the home of the bride in Brewton, Ala.

Members of the Sigma Alpha Epsilon fraternity of Emory university will entertain at a large reception at Druid Hills Golf club.

Supper-dance at the Atlanta Biltmore.

The Wednesday club tea will be given at the Decatur Woman's club at 3 o'clock.

Miss Virginia Ives Hall will entertain the members of the Phi Pi sorority this afternoon at the home of her uncle and aunt, Colonel and Mrs. Percy Jones, on Linwood avenue.

The Pi Pi sorority will hold a meeting at the home of Miss Ida Nevin on Eighth street.

A bridge party will be given at the Atlanta chapter, U. D. C., chapter house on Juniper street by the committee of crosses, Mrs. Forrest Kibler, chairman.

The regular Wednesday night dance of the Gleneco club will be held at Segalios hall, 26 Pine street.

Miss Helen Barbee will be hostess at the first of a series of bridge-teas at her home on Pallsades road in honor of her guest, Miss Marcid Stafford, of Chicago, Ill.

Members of Sigma Alpha Epsilon fraternity of Emory university will entertain at a reception this evening at Druid Hills Golf club.

There will be a meeting of the O. B. X. sorority of Washington seminary with Miss Dorothy Dobbs at 3 o'clock at her home on Springdale road.

Mrs. Hollins Randolph will entertain at a bridge-tea at her home on Peachtree road honoring Miss Pamela Johnston, lovely debutante of the season.

Mrs. Eugene G. Northington will entertain at an informal bridge-luncheon honoring her mother, Mrs. J. L. White, of Birmingham, Ala., who is spending some time in Atlanta.

Members of the Sigma Delta sorority of Washington seminary will meet at the residence of Miss Alma Roberts on Wesley avenue, at 3 o'clock this afternoon to discuss plans for a dance to be given by the Greek letter society, April 8, it was announced Tuesday.

Mrs. Henry W. Davis
Honored by Mrs. Sterne.

Mrs. Henry W. Davis, the diocesan president of the woman's auxiliary of the Episcopal church and the officers of the different auxiliaries of Atlanta were honored by Mrs. A. H. Sterne Tuesday at a beautiful afternoon tea at her home on Westminster drive.

The hostess was assisted by her two lovely daughters, Miss Sue Brown Sterne and Miss Hanna Sterne.

The home was decorated with quantities of lovely spring flowers.

Mrs. Pappenheimer Entertains Mrs. Williams.

Mrs. James Taylor Williams, who leaves soon for New York, from where she will sail on the S. S. Rotterdam

February 3 with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. H. S. Durand, and her son, James T. Jr., for a cruise of the Mediterranean, was honored Tuesday at an informal bridge-luncheon at which Mrs. Oscar Pappenheimer was hostess at the Atlanta Athletic club. The guests included twelve friends of the hostess and honoree.

Mrs. Slaton's Tea Honors Miss Whittemore.

Miss Elinor Whittemore, of Boston, who is visiting Mrs. Henry Inman, at her home on Ponce de Leon avenue, was the honor guest at the delightful afternoon tea at which Mrs. John M. Slaton entertained Tuesday at her home on Peachtree road.

Miss Whittemore recently appeared on the Atlanta symphony concert

Atlanta Conservatory

The foremost School of Fine Arts in the south

Advantages equal to those anywhere

Geo. F. Lindner, Director

Peachtree and Broad Sts.

Atlanta, Ga.

Big Saving During

Byck's Pre-Inventory SALE

Footwear for Every Occasion!

New Leathers---New Spring Styles

Prices Reduced

Several Dollars a Pair

De Luxe Footwear—I. Miller Slippers—
Main Floor Shoes—Men's Shoes—Children's Shoes—Hosiery—Priced to Enable you to buy two pairs at slightly more than the cost of one.

All Charge Purchases Will Appear on March 1st Statement

Byck's
27-29 WHITEHALL ST.

gram. The home was beautifully decorated.

The guests at the tea were the members of the woman's auxiliary of the Atlanta symphony orchestra who include: Mrs. Henry Inman, Mrs. Wilmer Moore, Mrs. Victor Krelgehaber, Mrs. R. K. Rambo, Mrs. Walter Hill, Mrs. Luther Rosser, Miss Natalie Hammond, Miss Elizabeth Phillips, Miss Beatrice Hirsch, Mrs. Lott Warren, Mrs. Hal Hertz, Mrs. William Prescott, Mrs. Roger Toy, Mrs. Bernard Boykin, Mrs. Frederick

Rayfield, Mrs. Frank Spratling, Mrs. Charles Nunnally, Mrs. Sam Slicer, Mrs. Helen Knox Spain, Mrs. Bookover Toy, Mrs. L. H. Beall, Mrs. Adrew Calhoun, Mrs. Theodore Morgan Stevens, Mrs. George Walker and Mrs. Slaton.

The Finale!

Your Choice of 97 Winter
Garments for Only

77 $5 20
Winter Sports
Dresses Coats

No C. O. D.'s
No Returns
No Exchanges
Sales Final

Actual Values to $29.75

Think of it—your choice of 97 winter coats and dresses at Keely's for only $5! Price the materials anywhere—the bare materials could not be bought for any such price! And there's the tailoring, the finish, the style, the quality in these garments that positively betoken their true worthiness at regular prices which were up to $29.75. But they must be cleared from our display TODAY! The last minute of their stay has arrived! Spring styles are here, and they cannot be properly shown with these few remaining winter garments in the way. And right here let us make it clear that there are less than a hundred of these winter garments, and you'll have to be here promptly at 9 o'clock to get one. Of course the size range is broken, but if your size is here you'll get a most wonderful bargain.

Keely's Ready-to-Wear—Second Floor

3 Remarkable Lace Values

After-Inventory Clearance of Odds and Ends of Our Lace Stock, Including

Irish and Filet Laces 59c
Values Regularly to $1.25 Yard

The quantity is limited—their quality superb—their beauty unsurpassed. This lot consists of odds and ends from some of our finest laces—to be cleared at one attractive price of 59c yard.

Special Lot Chantilly 59c
Values Regularly to $1 a Yard, at

We have just received a special lot of beautiful Chantilly lace in ecru with gold embroidered patterns, so popular for evening gowns and fine underwear. Consists of Bands, Gallons and Edges in widths from 4 to 7 inches. Regular prices to $1 yard—Introductory price 59c.

Benche and Val. Laces 15c
Values Regularly to 25c Yard, at

This is an assortment of beautiful lace for fine underwear and dainty children's frocks. The lot includes benche and Val. laces in cream and ecru, and in widths of 1 to 2½ inches.

Keely's Sale of

720 Pairs Radmoor Pure Silk Full Fashioned Hose

Choice $1 39 2 Pairs
Per Pair 1 39 for $2.75

Here is a wonderful hosiery value for today! Atlanta women are acquainted with this good hose, for we have sold Radmoor for a long time. It's sheer service weight, pure silk with 3-inch double lister garter top, and full fashioned. It is offered today at this special price in the following popular colors: Pastel Parchment, Stone Gray, Ivory, Neutral Gray, Muscade, Grain, Mother Goose, Champagne, Blue Fox and White. All sizes—8 through 10.

Keely Company

Whitehall at Hunter—Same Location Since 1869

Miss Lucy Stanton To Lecture Here On European Art

One of the finest of Atlanta's cultural achievements will be the Lucy Stanton lecture series which will be given at the High Museum of Art through February and March. These lectures on European art will be given every Monday morning through these two months at 10:30 o'clock. Through the month of February Miss Stanton will have an exhibition of her works at the High museum.

Miss Stanton, who is an Atlanta woman, is most eminent in her work as a miniaturist and painter in oils. She has studied several times in Paris at the Ecole Coloradot with M. Priet, and M. Girardot, at the Ecole de la Grande Chaumiere with Courtois and others in private ateliers. She is a member of the Pennsylvania Society of Miniature Painters, the American Society of Miniature Painters, the National Association of Women Painters and Sculptors, life member of the Copley Art society of Boston and other guilds and associations.

Miss Ethel Hunter To Be Given Tea.

Mrs. Joel Hunter will entertain at a seated tea at the Piedmont Driving club on Monday, January 31, at 5 o'clock in honor of her niece, Miss Ethel Hunter.

Mrs. Hubbard Entertains Kentucky Club Members.

Mrs. Murray Hubbard entertained the members of the Kentucky club Tuesday afternoon at her home on Peachtree street.

Miss May Stone, founder and president of the Hindman Industrial School for Boys and Girls, at Hindman, Ky., was the distinguished guest of honor, and addressed the members of the club, giving them some of the details of her wonderful work among the mountain folks of Kentucky.

A study course of Kentucky history will be taken up by the club and at this meeting Mrs. W. P. Minnich will give a talk on "Kentucky Pioneers."

Mrs. Dorman Honors Mrs. W. K. Phillips.

Mrs. W. K. Phillips who leaves soon with Mr. Phillips to make her home in Miami, Fla., was honored at a bridge party on Tuesday afternoon by Mrs. Reginald J. Dorman at her apartment, 435 Tenth street.

Mrs. Phillips was presented with a lovely bottle of French perfume. The first prize was a set, and a hand-embroidered apron was given as a consolation prize.

The guests included Mrs. C. H. Hanson, Mrs. John F. Peterson, Mrs. T. J. McGovern, Mrs. E. H. Henshaw, Mrs. M. B. Pugh, Mrs. E. H. Henshaw, Mrs. C. Turner, Mrs. MacCason, Mrs. William H. Sanders, Mrs. Caldwell, Mrs. Keifer, Miss Daisy Rambeau and Mrs. Phillips.

LIONS' CLUB DEALS WITH FUTURE PLANS

Formulation of plans for an increased membership and a round table discussion of business matters occupied the Atlanta Lions' club which met Tuesday at the Vinecroft hotel for its regular luncheon. Joseph B. Wolfe presided at the meeting.

Every Day
Aching Feet
—are being relieved through the service of our Foot Comfort Department. If you have painful, aching feet—take advantage of our FOOT SERVICE.
Examination Free.

R.A. PARKER
Orthopaedic Foot Specialist

Stewart
FRED S. STEWART CO.
ATLANTA, GA.

Blackheads Go Quick
By This Simple Method

This is a simple method that makes blackheads go as if by magic. Get two ounces of Calomel powder from your drug store, sprinkle a little on a hot, wet cloth, rub briskly over the affected parts, and in two minutes you will find every blackhead dissolved away entirely.—(adv.)

MANY ILLS CAUSED BY CONSTIPATION

There are quite a number of people who, telling about their experience with Thedford's Black-Draught, make the statement that they could hardly do without this reliable medicine in their homes. One of these is Mrs. Sallie Laughrun, of Hurdale, N. C. She says:

"I have used Black-Draught, as a family medicine, for a good many years. I have found it an excellent remedy for constipation and the troubles that follow it.

"I have suffered frequently from gas pains, and when I am bothered that way, I begin at once to take Black-Draught. It is not long until I am feeling much better. Relief always follows quickly.

"I give Black-Draught to the children when they have colds. If they are constipated I give them Black-Draught, and it is not long until they are running around again.

"I could hardly do without this reliable medicine in our home as it helps to keep us in good health. I am glad to recommend it to others."

All people—young and old—should learn to keep their systems free from impurities. Constipation locks poisons up in the body and allows them to do their dangerous work. Like Mrs. Laughrun and her family, they should drive these poisons out with Thedford's Black-Draught, the purely vegetable laxative-cathartic medicine.

For sale everywhere.
Get a package today.
Price 25 cents and $1. JA-52

Thedford's BLACK-DRAUGHT
Purely Vegetable

Junior League Central States Conference in St. Louis.

The following clipping taken from the St. Louis Daily Globe-Democrat of Sunday, January 23, telling of the regional conference of the Junior League of the central states is of interest to members of the Atlanta Junior league:

"Junior league delegates from thirteen midwestern cities will arrive in St. Louis at 7:30 o'clock Tuesday morning to participate in the first regional conference of the Junior League of the Central States, which will take place Tuesday and Wednesday.

"Mrs. Archie Lee, regional vice president, will preside at the sessions, which will be held at the Coronado hotel and in the homes of local league members. Forty-five delegates are expected to attend the convention. They will be entertained in the homes of St. Louis Junior league members for the two-day conference, who will meet them at the Union station.

"Heading the Kansas City delegation will be Mrs. James M. Kemper, editor of the Junior League Bulletin, of Kansas City, and Mrs. John E. Patterson, a vice president of that league.

"After breakfast at the homes of their hostesses the visitors will be taken to the Coronado hotel for registration at 11:30 o'clock. Luncheon will be served in the green room, in which Queen Marie dined on her recent visit to St. Louis.

"Before the luncheon delegates will visit the various activities sponsored by the East St. Louis Junior league, including the clothing and the book department, and the Junior League hospital, which will be on display at the Open Door Shop, 4914 Maryland avenue.

Ranks Third in United States.

"The St. Louis Junior League enterprise, which ranks third in all the occupational therapy shops in the United States, was organized by Dr. Canby Robinson, of Vanderbilt university, at that time a professor in the Washington University School of Medicine. Later it was taken over by the handicapped committee of the Junior League, of which Mrs. Robert Holland was the chairman.

"The exhibit at the 'Open-Door Shop' will be in charge of Mrs. Dan Jones. Mrs. Floyd Augustine is chairman of the workshop committee. Two St. Louis women, Mrs. George Gellhorn and Mrs. George Conant, will be the principal speakers at the luncheon at the Coronado, which will open the program formally.

Entertainment Planned.

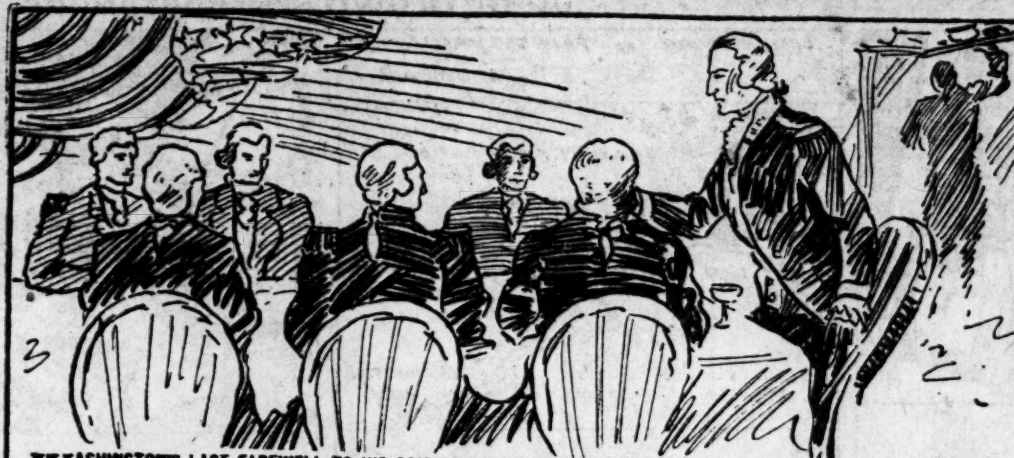

"At 4:30 o'clock that day the executive board of the St. Louis Junior League will entertain the visitors and their own members at tea at the Junior League clubrooms in the Galleria building. Mrs. Julius Polk will be the hostess to the delegates and the local executive board at a dinner at her home that evening, preceding a general business meeting, at which the reports of the delegates will be presented, and Miss Emily Anderson, of New York, field secretary of the Associated Junior Leagues of America, will speak. Miss Alice Scott, president of the St. Louis Junior League, will deliver an address of welcome.

"At 10 o'clock Wednesday the convention will divide into four groups and will attend round table discussions at the homes of Mrs. Mahlon Wallace, Mrs. Orion Willis, Mrs. Donaldson Lambert and Mrs. Guy Oliver. The remainder of the day will be devoted to a luncheon at the St. Louis Country club, small dinners at the home of the St. Louis Junior League members and the closing event, which will be a social meeting at the home of Mrs. Warren McElroy.

"Delegates attending the convention are: Mrs. Fred P. Ives, of Evanston, Ill.; Mrs. Hamilton Walter, chairman of occupational therapy; Miss Ellen Dryden, Miss Betty Slaughter, all of Evanston, Ill.; Mrs. R. H. Pike, editor of The Sioux City Bulletin; Miss Margaret Ramsey and Miss Louise Manley from the same place; Mrs. L. O. Faine, vice president, and Mrs. Weeie Grabinger, chairman of home service, from Lincoln, Neb.; Miss Mary H. Davis, president of the St. Paul Junior League; Mrs. Stanley Gates, vice president; Mrs. C. A. Bunstead, from Lincoln, Neb., provisional membership chairman, and Mrs. Charles Roberts, president, will be house guests of Mrs. William Julius Polk.

"Mrs. Benjamin Griggs, of St. Paul, secretary, and Miss Mary Katherine Richardson, chairman of provisional membership; Mrs. John S. Fishback, president of the Indianapolis Junior League, and Mrs. Sylvester Johnson, Jr., vice president, and Joseph J. Daniels, chairman of the motor corps; Mrs. Berkeley Michael and Mrs. Lawrence Davidson, president and secretary, respectively, of the Sioux City Junior League; Miss Josephine Bender, vice president of the Grand Rapids chapter, and Miss Marian Garrett, also of Grand Rapids; Mrs. Charles F. McLaughlin, president of the chapter, and Mrs. Yale C. Holland, chairman of the child welfare committee; Mrs. John H. Summers, vice president, and Miss Erma Reed, provisional membership chairman, of Omaha; Mrs. James C. Wyman, Mrs. Frank W. Bowman, chairman of the Follies committee of the Minneapolis chapter; Mrs. P. C. Bartlett, president of the St. Joseph chapter; Mesdames Kemper and Patterson, publicity chairman and vice president of the Kansas City chapter; Miss Virginia Curtin and Miss Ellen Wyeth, of St. Joseph, Mo.; Miss Mildred Holland, recording secretary of the St. Joseph chapter; Miss Emily Hamill, of Chicago, will visit Miss Alice Scott, president of the St. Louis chapter; Mrs. Wingate Birby, of Kansas City, president of the Kansas City chapter.

MEN WHO MADE THE WORLD

WASHINGTON'S LAST FAREWELL TO HIS COMPANIONS IN ARMS DURING EIGHT LONG AND WEARY YEARS WAS GIVEN AT A BANQUET IN FRAZEE'S TAVERN, NEW YORK CITY. WASHINGTON'S VOICE TREMBLED WITH EMOTION AS HE SAID: "WITH A HEART FULL OF LOVE AND GRATITUDE, I NOW TAKE LEAVE OF YOU. I MOST DEVOTELY WISH THAT YOUR LATTER DAYS MAY BE PROSPEROUS AND HAPPY AS YOUR FORMER HAVE BEEN GLORIOUS AND HONORABLE. I CANNOT COME TO EACH OF YOU TO TAKE MY LEAVE, BUT I SHALL BE OBLIGED IF YOU WILL COME AND TAKE ME BY THE HAND." TEARS BLINDED THE COMMANDER'S EYES AS ONE AFTER ANOTHER OF THE OFFICERS GRASPED HIS HAND IN PARTING.

EXCHANGE CLUB MEETS SEVERAL NEW MEMBERS

Introduction of several new members featured the program of the Atlanta Exchange club's regular weekly meeting, held at 12:30 Tuesday afternoon at the Henry Grady hotel. Dr. L. O. Bricker is president of the organization. The meeting was devoted to general discussion and business matters.

O'KEEFE HIGH SCHOOL TO HOLD EXERCISES

The first semi-annual promotion exercises, graduating advanced members of the ninth grade to senior high standing, will be held at the O'Keefe Junior High school, at Techwood drive and Sixth street, Thursday afternoon at 1 o'clock.

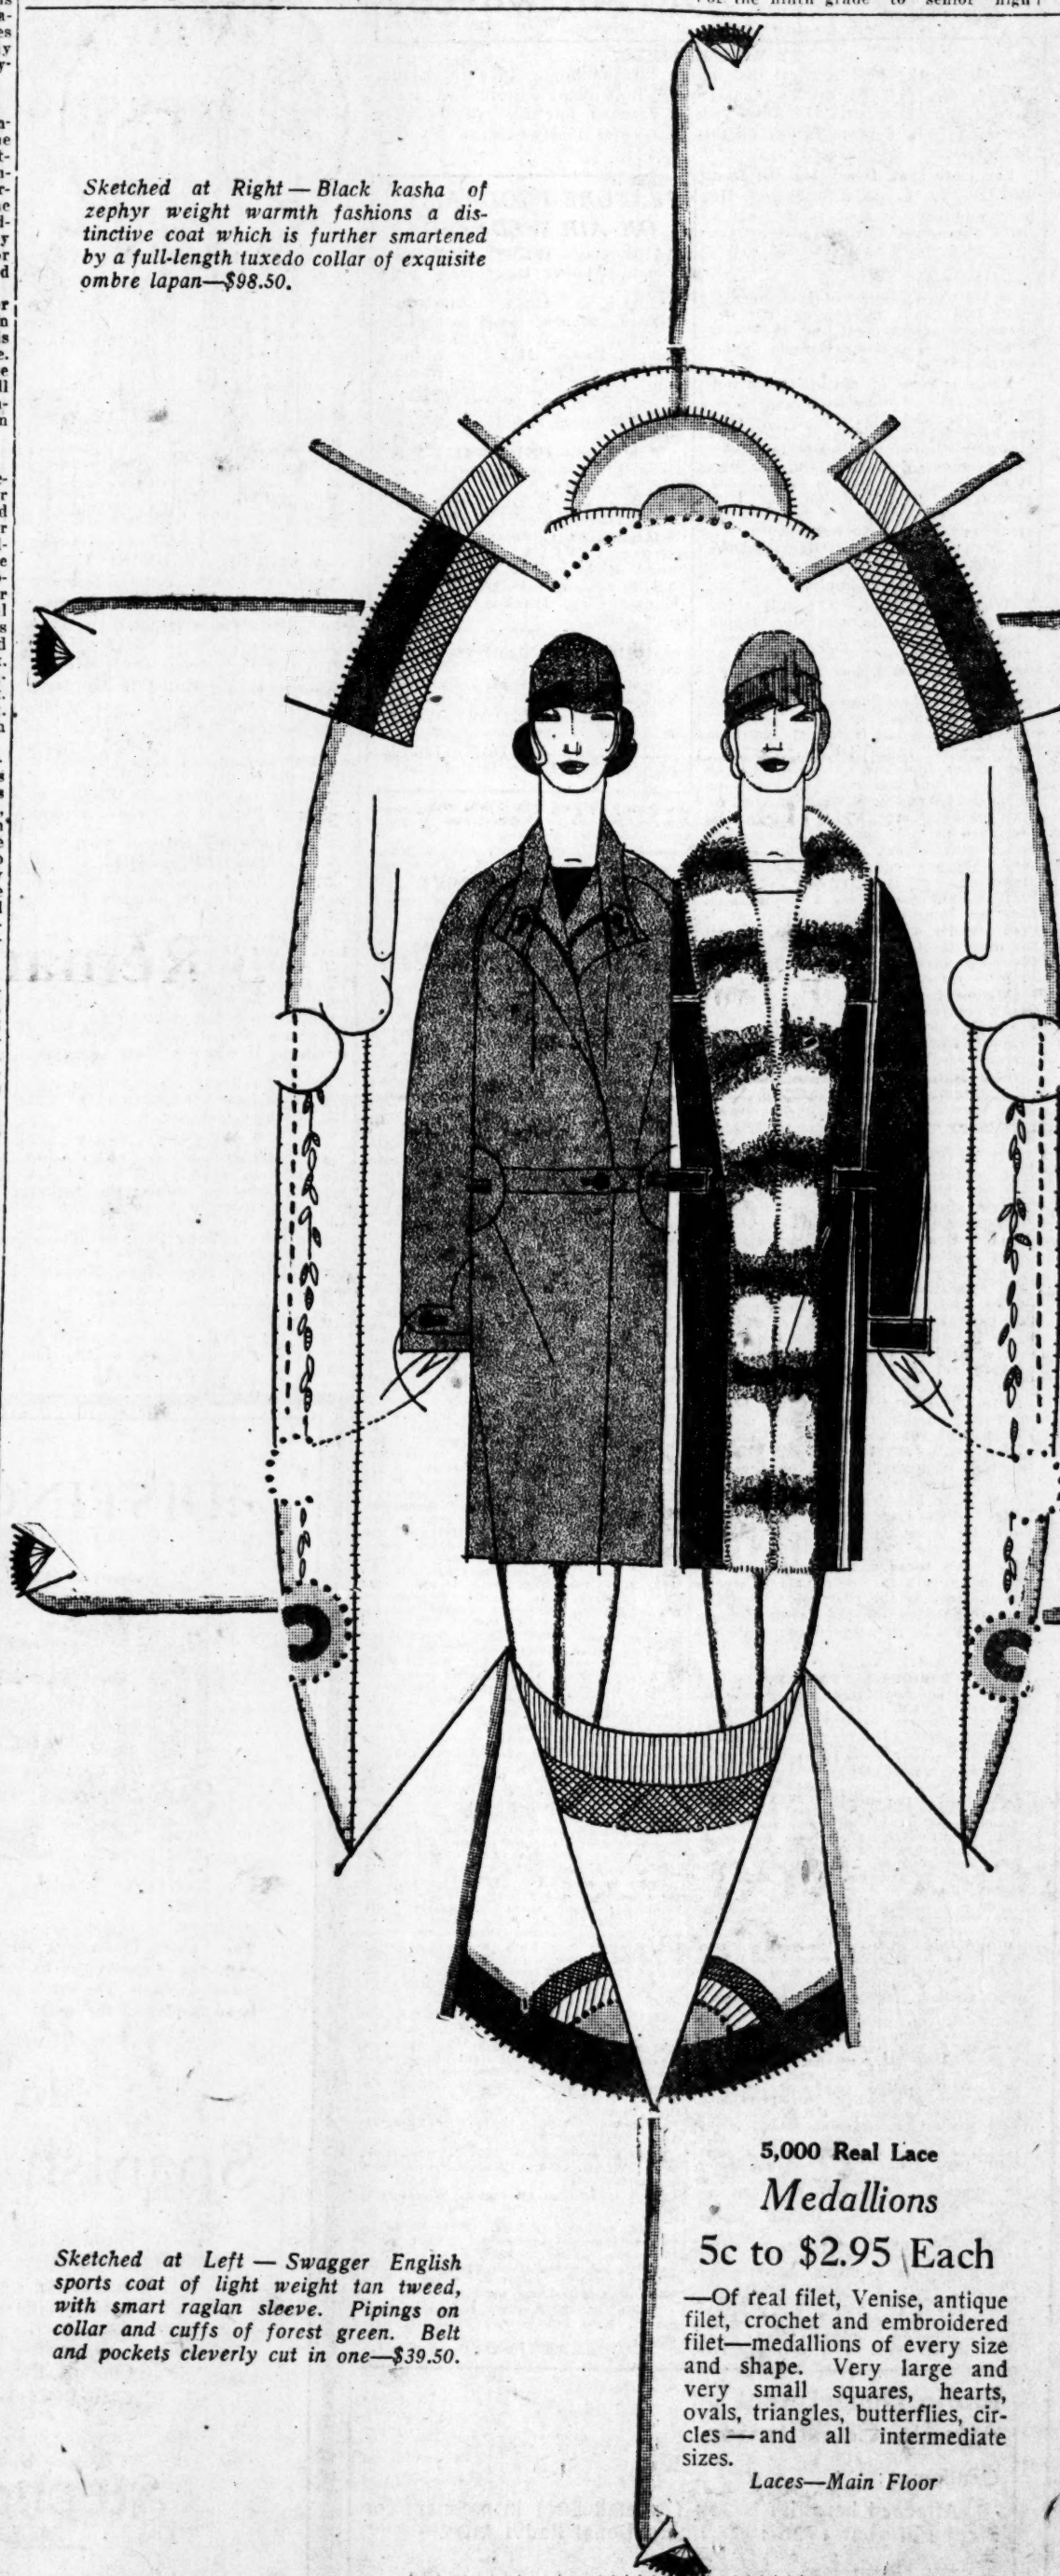

George Washington

Principal S. M. Hastings will present the class to Superintendent Willis A. Sutton.

Lead Price Is Cut.

New York, January 25.—(AP)—The American Smelting & Refining company today reduced the price of lead from 7.50 to 7.40 cents per pound.

Sketched at Right—Black kasha of zephyr weight warmth fashions a distinctive coat which is further smartened by a full-length tuxedo collar of exquisite ombre lapan—$98.50.

There's Something in a Name

COATS FOR SPRING

IF it be true that there is nothing new under the sun, it is equally true that there is something new in the shade of the moon.

We direct your attention to these Spring coats as something new in the shade of the moon, not that they are all specifically for after dark or evening wear. Tropic nights come to mind, the moon's silver disc swimming the wayward clouds, softening the seascape to Diana's sweeter, gentler mood, whilst distant surf sings to the murmuring music of swaying palms.

Nor are these coats necessarily for Southern wear. Atlanta is south enough for thousands of women.

These are Atlanta Spring coats. Applied bands strike the eye with the delights of ingenious novelty. Tucked diagonal lines criss-cross the mode, while many are trimmed with furs.

Kasha, kashmir, dragon satin, supertwills and domestic mixtures, trimmed in many new and interesting furs.

$25 $35 $39.50 $49.50 to $295

"New Apparel Always"

Coats—Second Floor

Annual Spring Sale of Real Handmade Laces

Remarkable Values! Today!

—Thousands of yards of exquisite real laces—at prices so far below the ordinary that one marvels at the possibility! The economy of skilled Chinese labor accounts for it. Every yard of these remarkable laces is made by cunning Chinese fingers, patterned after the finest of Continental laces—made more perfect, possibly, than those imported from France, Italy or Belgium. Included are designs and widths suitable for every lacy purpose—underwear, baby clothes, patch-work cloths and pillows, table runners, curtains, spreads, etc.

5,000 Real Lace

Medallions

5c to $2.95 Each

—Of real filet, Venise, antique filet, crochet and embroidered filet—medallions of every size and shape. Very large and very small squares, hearts, ovals, triangles, butterflies, circles—and all intermediate sizes.

Laces—Main Floor

Irish, Filet Edges, 10c to 25c

—Picot edges of Irish and filet in fine, small designs, suitable for baby clothes, handkerchiefs, collars.

Armenian Edges, 35c

—Fine Armenian edges in delicate shell and point patterns. Exquisite for baby clothes, etc. 35c and 40c.

Tatting, 15c to 60c Yd.

—Handmade single and double tatting in the very fine small edge. Fancy designs in the larger and wider patterns.

Antique Filet, 45c to $2.50

—Antique filet edges and matching insertions of rich beauty of design and perfect workmanship.

Embroidered Filet, 95c to $3.95 Yd.

—Real embroidered filet edges and matching insertions with designs picked out in beautiful embroideries.

Filet, 19c to $3.95

—Edges and insertions of all widths and designs. Especially notable is the extensive collection at 25c to 50c yard.

Laces—Main Floor

Irish Crochet, 65c to $3.95

—Edges, matching insertions and ribbon headings in exquisite Irish crochet, plain or with roses. One inch to 3 1/2-inch widths.

Cluny, 10c to 75c Yd.

—Narrow Cluny edges of real linen threads, woven into beautiful patterns. Narrow widths only.

Venise, 75c to $3.95

—Delicate Venise edges and matching insertions in widths from very narrow to 4 1/2 inches. Exquisite designs.

Chamberlin-Johnson-DuBose Co.

Starring Dulcie Jayne

By VIRGINIA TRACY.

SYNOPSIS.
Cornelia March, on her way to Hertzog's motion picture studio, meets Miss Frye and Miss Jacobs on the ferry. They tell Cornelia that Henry Horner, head of the scenario department, where all three are employed, has been fired.

INSTALLMENT III. A SUPERB PERSONALITY.

The more Cornelia thought about losing Henry Horner the worse it seemed. It had been such a life-giving kingdom of new hopes she had been living in and toiling for, in the subway and on the ferry, on the trolley, at the studio, and at night in bed. But now! How was she to finish training herself as a scenarist now? In a department where a reader would be only a reader? How learn the tricks and turns of "detailed synopses," of "camera angles?" How break the stones along the rocky road to "continuity" without the stolen half-hours of teaching which Mr. Horner gouged from his own time now, when nobody would care whether she learned or dropped dead? At these words Cornelia's always rather shaky nerves gave such a frightened kick she had to remind them quite sharply that anyhow two people certainly don't drop dead on thirty dollars a week!

"Per-fection!" shouted the conductor. Not because he thought so, but because this was the unassuming title which Hertzog's had selected as its own. "PURR-fection!"

Cornelia hurried out, fled up the truck-rutted drive and through the entrance, gained the turnstile, glanced at the clock. Eight forty-seven! She shot a glance of triumph as she passed the spider in the gray uniform. At that moment the song of the hour, "I'll Tell Your Girl Good-Bye For You," struck upon her ear in a familiar, jolly whistle; she had come face to face with the stocky and loitering figure of Lyman Hertzog.

Now, whether because the maiden lady of 45, office-broke, had that morning proved herself a born desperado, able to deal high-handedly with freight trains, deckchairs, leaps across rivers on to moving ferries, and with spiders in gray uniform, so that her new vision of herself had gone to her head, or whether the too sudden and recent blow about Mr. Horner had gone to her heart instantly at the sight of Lyman, a sensation of defiance, a suffusion of reddish cloud, seemed to fill Cornelia's senses. By the time the reddish cloud had passed, leaving her aware that she had passed to defy Lyman about and couldn't have defied him if she had, she realized that she had passed him without speaking to him. She had looked right at him and passed him by! Hesitating, she turned back.

But Lyman was gone.

A man came out of an office in the row of directors' offices. He was a tall man, lean and powerfully built, with the muscular, man-of-the-world grace of a great hunter. And he was dressed with the last word of distinguished elegance in very old and informal riding clothes, his limp, worn coat drooping from his broad shoulders and slipping in around his flat hips as if Michelangelo had been his tailor. His step was that of one accustomed to taking the world in his stride.

This impressive personage had a fine head with exceedingly bold and clear-cut features, an expression shrewd, somber and sardonic, a temperament mingling the austere and the passionate, the monastic and the sensual, in a blend traditionally plugging to ladies. There was an unexpected challenge of youthfulness in his thick crop of fair curls, though they were dusted with early gray as if with the ashes of heroic penitence. Altogether, the man presented as shamelessly superb a personality as ever set foot in a motion picture studio. He did nothing more remarkable than the end of the building.

When Lyman Hertzog had disappeared so suddenly after Cornelia's entrance it was because he had seen this man turn his car into the drive. For this arrival Lyman had been watching; since then he had been sitting around the angle of intersecting halls below the directors' offices watching the man enter an office and presently come out again. Whereupon Lyman hurried across the building to another long hall, parallel with the directors'. From its rear end he could look straight across to where his prey must emerge; also, the embrace of a doorway in the building's outer wall gave him a desirable privacy. He was scarcely ensconced there when the man reappeared as expected and paused before a glass-paneled door bearing in large letters the legend Fan Mail Department.

In the big room on the other side of the door four girls were busy sorting mail. The very small proportion which was felt utterly beneath reply went first into the huge wire baskets; then the not much larger division deemed worthy of the personal attention of the stars was put aside, and some complaints were passed on to the departments dealing with the things complained of. But the vast bulk of correspondence was held over for the stars' rubber stamp signatures; for eight hours and a half a day the four girls sat answering these letters.

A grim amusement came into his deep, rather cold voice. "Confirm this from Miss Jayne, of course." "O. Mr. Leland," gasped the oldest girl, emboldened by relief, "is it Mrs. Julia Rignold? The one who wrote 'Heart of Fire'?"

"Well, if it is, Mr. Leland, would you let me have the autograph?" Leland looked at the rubber stamp in her hand and smiled. "Faith springs eternal! I will."

Lyman hardly had time to skip back into the doorway in the outer wall from which he had just ventured. Leland passed through a rear exit into the lot, and Lyman, darting out of doors, ran along beneath the windows of the men's dressing rooms, hunched low, that he might not be visible from their level. He stopped just short of the corner of the building and peered around it. A horse was being held for Leland, who came up and mounted.

Meanwhile the four girls had recovered their breath. One used considerable of hers in a proud sigh. "Gets as much mail as Rudolph Valentino did! I don't believe there's another director in the industry who has to have his mail handled by the fan mail department just like a star."

"Well, before he quit the screen he sure was just the same as I love him, you remember? Broken-hearted bandits he was fine in."

JINGLET'S

SUE!

OOH!

YUM!

GUM?!

GUM?!

GUM?!

GUM?!

GUM?!

GUM?!

GUM?!

GUM?!

GUM?!

GUM?!

GUM?!

GUM?!

GUM?!

GUM?!

GUM?!

GUM?!

GUM?!

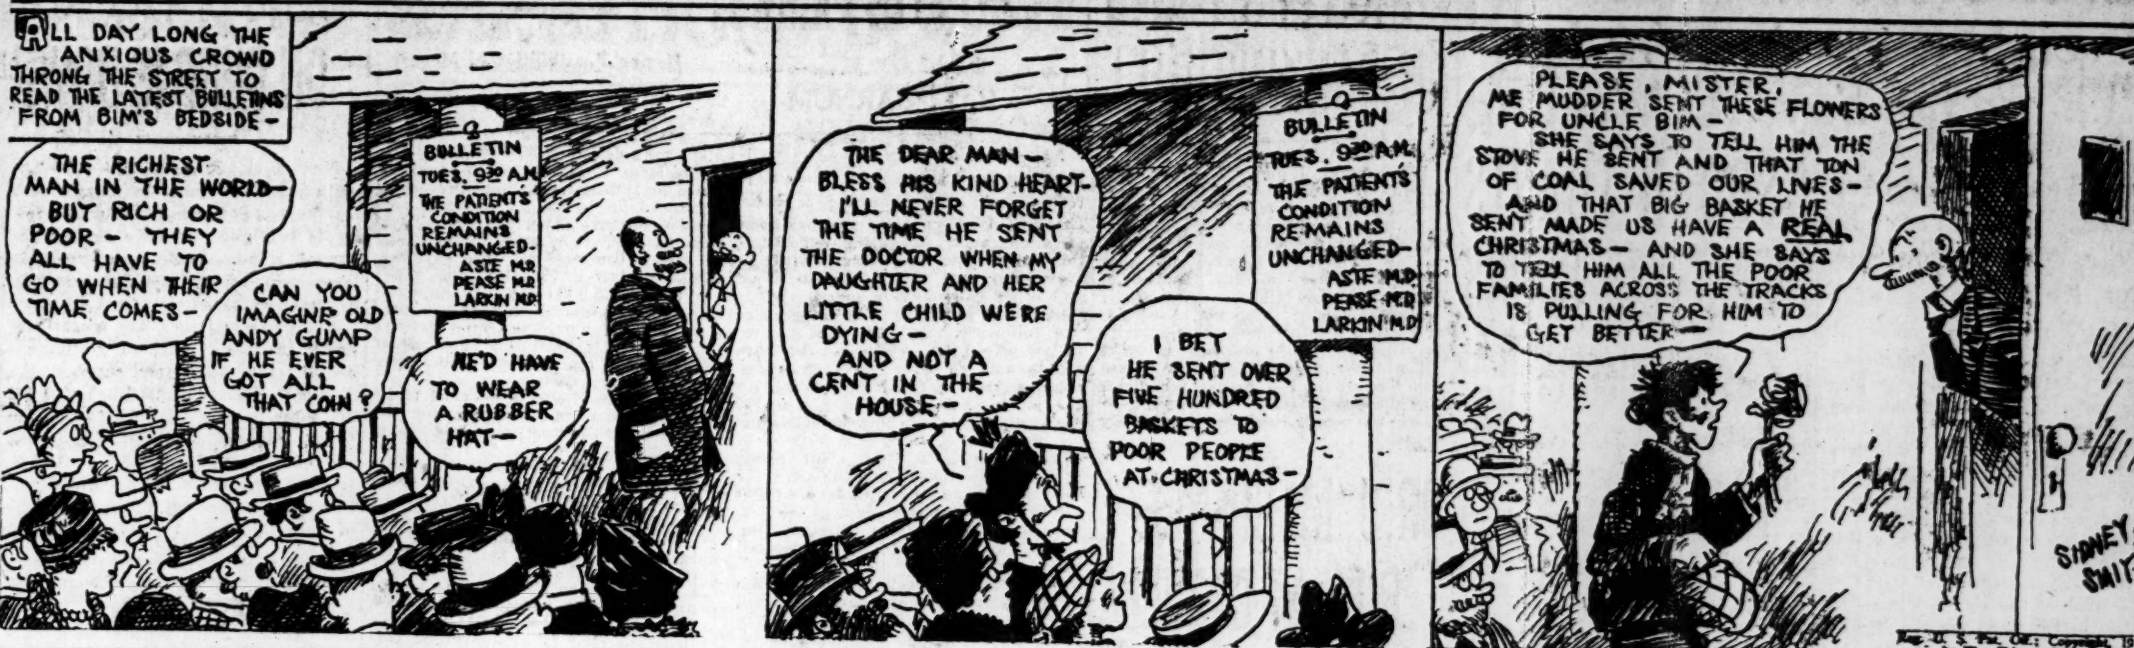

GUM?!

GUM?!

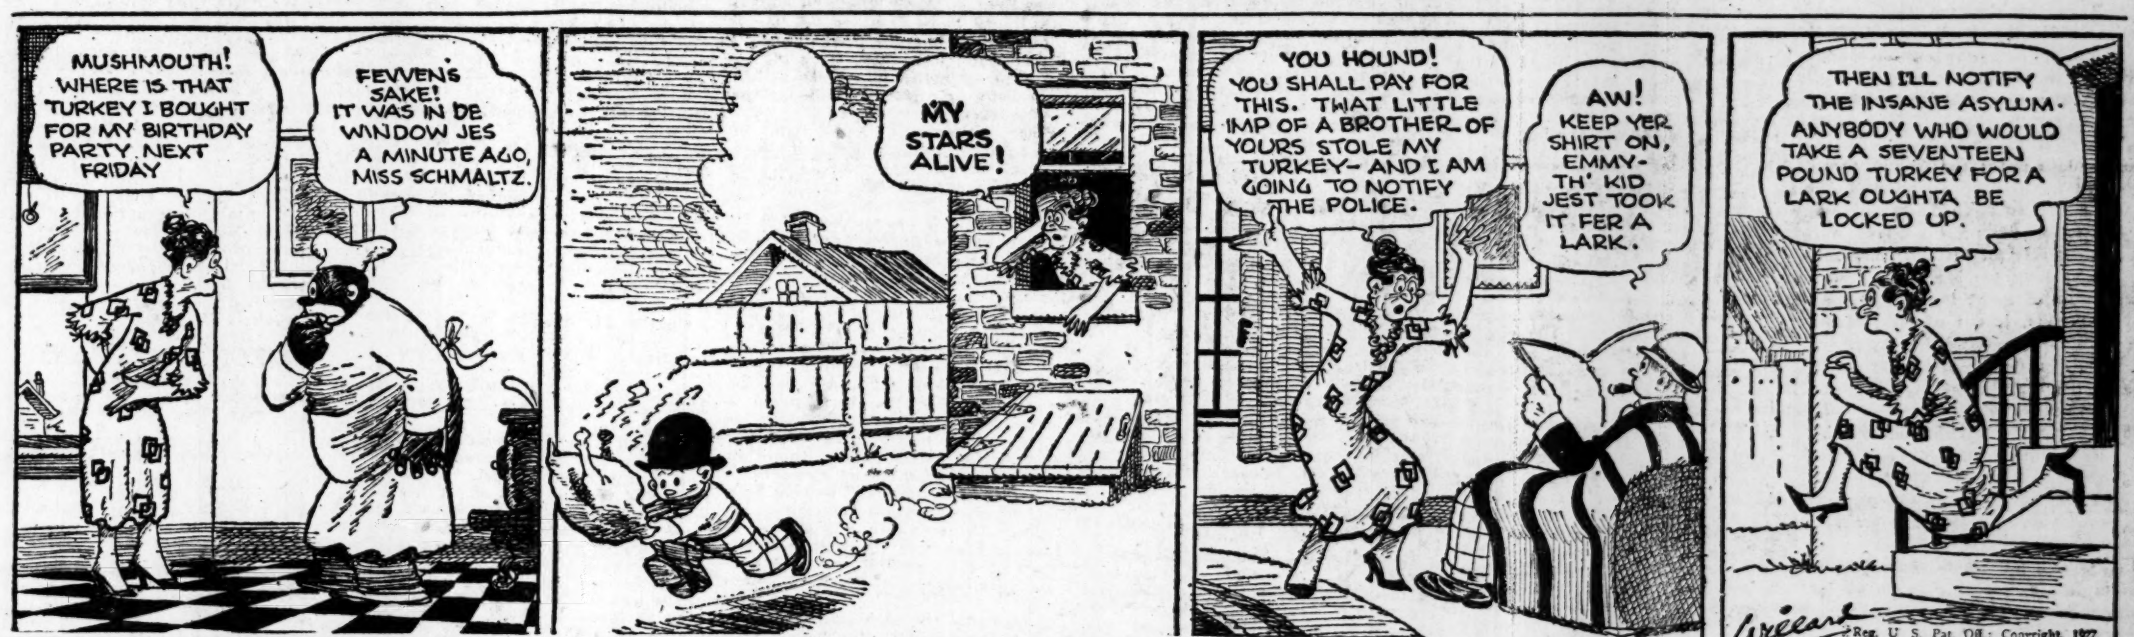

GUM?!

GUM?!

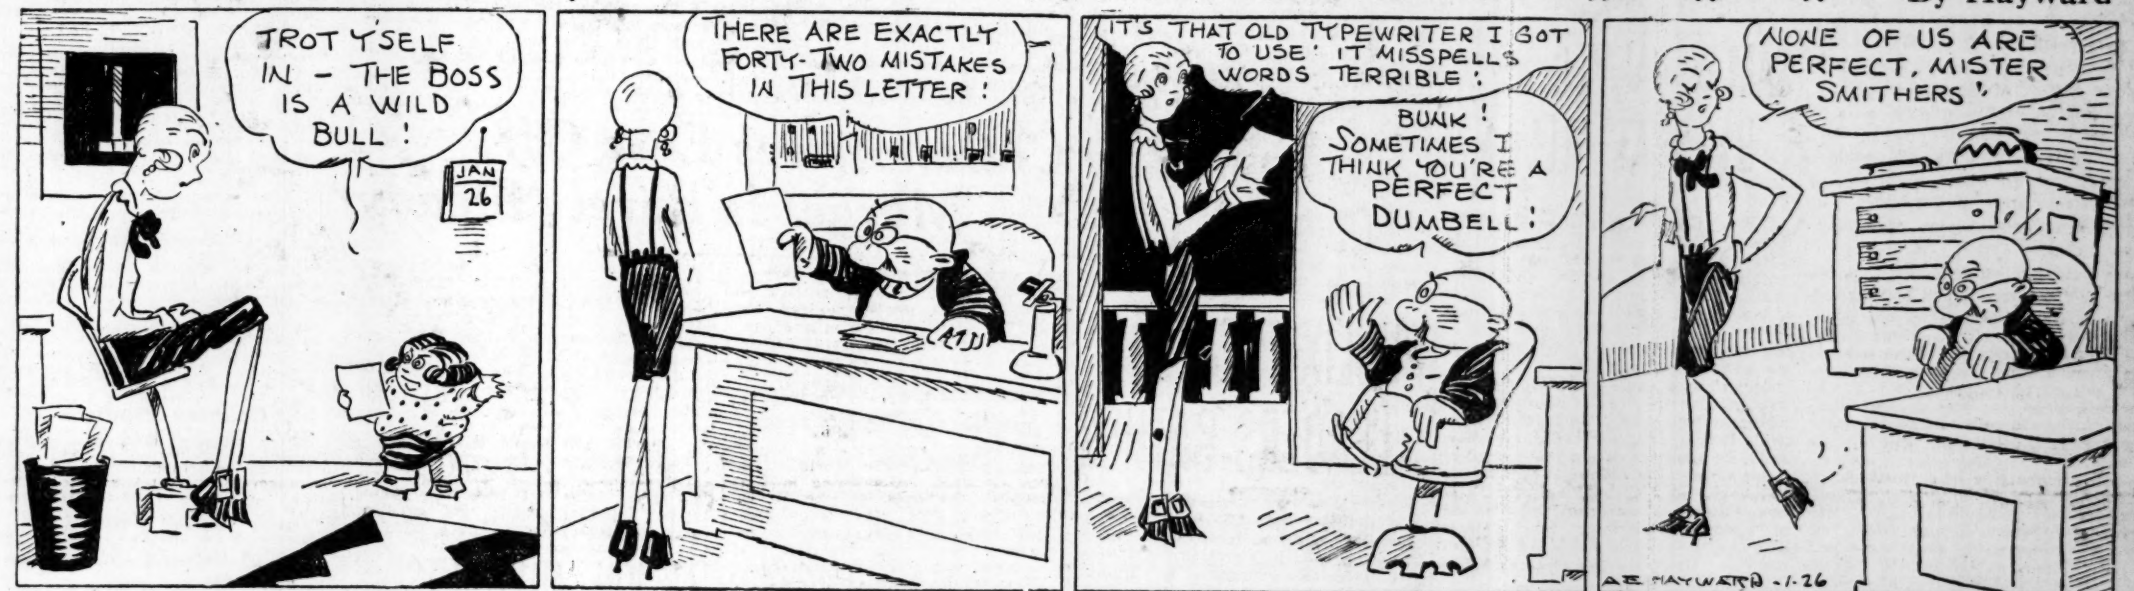

THE GUMPS—ONE TOUCH OF NATURE

MOON MULLINS—A CASE OF MISTAKEN IDENTITY

SOMEBODY'S STENOG—Modesty

GASOLINE ALLEY—RACHEL VISITS SCHOOL

Winnie Winkle, The Breadwinner.

Father, Dear Father, Come Home With Me Now.

LITTLE ORPHAN ANNIE—

Maybe He's a Wild Cat.

Just Nuts

Aunt Het

Only Complete
Closing Reports

BOND MARKET

BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

New York, January 25.—Following are the high, low and closing prices of bonds on the New York Stock Exchange and (U. S. Government bonds, dollars and thirty-sixths of dollars).

Sales (in $1,000). High. Low. Close.

14 Gr Trk Ry Can 7s 115 115 115 1/2

15 Gr Trk Ry Can 7s 115 115 115 1/2

16 Gr Trk Ry Can 7s 115 115 115 1/2

17 Gr Trk Ry Can 7s 115 115 115 1/2

18 Gr Trk Ry Can 7s 115 115 115 1/2

19 Gr Trk Ry Can 7s 115 115 115 1/2

20 Gr Trk Ry Can 7s 115 115 115 1/2

21 Gr Trk Ry Can 7s 115 115 115 1/2

22 Gr Trk Ry Can 7s 115 115 115 1/2

23 Gr Trk Ry Can 7s 115 115 115 1/2

24 Gr Trk Ry Can 7s 115 115 115 1/2

25 Gr Trk Ry Can 7s 115 115 115 1/2

26 Gr Trk Ry Can 7s 115 115 115 1/2

27 Gr Trk Ry Can 7s 115 115 115 1/2

28 Gr Trk Ry Can 7s 115 115 115 1/2

29 Gr Trk Ry Can 7s 115 115 115 1/2

30 Gr Trk Ry Can 7s 115 115 115 1/2

31 Gr Trk Ry Can 7s 115 115 115 1/2

32 Gr Trk Ry Can 7s 115 115 115 1/2

33 Gr Trk Ry Can 7s 115 115 115 1/2

34 Gr Trk Ry Can 7s 115 115 115 1/2

35 Gr Trk Ry Can 7s 115 115 115 1/2

36 Gr Trk Ry Can 7s 115 115 115 1/2

37 Gr Trk Ry Can 7s 115 115 115 1/2

38 Gr Trk Ry Can 7s 115 115 115 1/2

39 Gr Trk Ry Can 7s 115 115 115 1/2

40 Gr Trk Ry Can 7s 115 115 115 1/2

41 Gr Trk Ry Can 7s 115 115 115 1/2

42 Gr Trk Ry Can 7s 115 115 115 1/2

43 Gr Trk Ry Can 7s 115 115 115 1/2

44 Gr Trk Ry Can 7s 115 115 115 1/2

45 Gr Trk Ry Can 7s 115 115 115 1/2

46 Gr Trk Ry Can 7s 115 115 115 1/2

47 Gr Trk Ry Can 7s 115 115 115 1/2

48 Gr Trk Ry Can 7s 115 115 115 1/2

49 Gr Trk Ry Can 7s 115 115 115 1/2

50 Gr Trk Ry Can 7s 115 115 115 1/2

51 Gr Trk Ry Can 7s 115 115 115 1/2

52 Gr Trk Ry Can 7s 115 115 115 1/2

53 Gr Trk Ry Can 7s 115 115 115 1/2

54 Gr Trk Ry Can 7s 115 115 115 1/2

55 Gr Trk Ry Can 7s 115 115 115 1/2

56 Gr Trk Ry Can 7s 115 115 115 1/2

57 Gr Trk Ry Can 7s 115 115 115 1/2

58 Gr Trk Ry Can 7s 115 115 115 1/2

59 Gr Trk Ry Can 7s 115 115 115 1/2

60 Gr Trk Ry Can 7s 115 115 115 1/2

61 Gr Trk Ry Can 7s 115 115 115 1/2

62 Gr Trk Ry Can 7s 115 115 115 1/2

63 Gr Trk Ry Can 7s 115 115 115 1/2

64 Gr Trk Ry Can 7s 115 115 115 1/2

65 Gr Trk Ry Can 7s 115 115 115 1/2

66 Gr Trk Ry Can 7s 115 115 115 1/2

67 Gr Trk Ry Can 7s 115 115 115 1/2

68 Gr Trk Ry Can 7s 115 115 115 1/2

69 Gr Trk Ry Can 7s 115 115 115 1/2

70 Gr Trk Ry Can 7s 115 115 115 1/2

71 Gr Trk Ry Can 7s 115 115 115 1/2

72 Gr Trk Ry Can 7s 115 115 115 1/2

73 Gr Trk Ry Can 7s 115 115 115 1/2

74 Gr Trk Ry Can 7s 115 115 115 1/2

75 Gr Trk Ry Can 7s 115 115 115 1/2

76 Gr Trk Ry Can 7s 115 115 115 1/2

77 Gr Trk Ry Can 7s 115 115 115 1/2

78 Gr Trk Ry Can 7s 115 115 115 1/2

79 Gr Trk Ry Can 7s 115 115 115 1/2

80 Gr Trk Ry Can 7s 115 115 115 1/2

81 Gr Trk Ry Can 7s 115 115 115 1/2

82 Gr Trk Ry Can 7s 115 115 115 1/2

83 Gr Trk Ry Can 7s 115 115 115 1/2

84 Gr Trk Ry Can 7s 115 115 115 1/2

85 Gr Trk Ry Can 7s 115 115 115 1/2

86 Gr Trk Ry Can 7s 115 115 115 1/2

87 Gr Trk Ry Can 7s 115 115 115 1/2

88 Gr Trk Ry Can 7s 115 115 115 1/2

89 Gr Trk Ry Can 7s 115 115 115 1/2

90 Gr Trk Ry Can 7s 115 115 115 1/2

91 Gr Trk Ry Can 7s 115 115 115 1/2

92 Gr Trk Ry Can 7s 115 115 115 1/2

93 Gr Trk Ry Can 7s 115 115 115 1/2

94 Gr Trk Ry Can 7s 115 115 115 1/2

95 Gr Trk Ry Can 7s 115 115 115 1/2

96 Gr Trk Ry Can 7s 115 115 115 1/2

97 Gr Trk Ry Can 7s 115 115 115 1/2

98 Gr Trk Ry Can 7s 115 115 115 1/2

99 Gr Trk Ry Can 7s 115 115 115 1/2

100 Gr Trk Ry Can 7s 115 115 115 1/2

101 Gr Trk Ry Can 7s 115 115 115 1/2

102 Gr Trk Ry Can 7s 115 115 115 1/2

103 Gr Trk Ry Can 7s 115 115 115 1/2

104 Gr Trk Ry Can 7s 115 115 115 1/2

105 Gr Trk Ry Can 7s 115 115 115 1/2

106 Gr Trk Ry Can 7s 115 115 115 1/2

107 Gr Trk Ry Can 7s 115 115 115 1/2

108 Gr Trk Ry Can 7s 115 115 115 1/2

109 Gr Trk Ry Can 7s 115 115 115 1/2

110 Gr Trk Ry Can 7s 115 115 115 1/2

111 Gr Trk Ry Can 7s 115 115 115 1/2

112 Gr Trk Ry Can 7s 115 115 115 1/2

113 Gr Trk Ry Can 7s 115 115 115 1/2

114 Gr Trk Ry Can 7s 115 115 115 1/2

115 Gr Trk Ry Can 7s 115 115 115 1/2

116 Gr Trk Ry Can 7s 115 115 115 1/2

117 Gr Trk Ry Can 7s 115 115 115 1/2

118 Gr Trk Ry Can 7s 115 115 115 1/2

119 Gr Trk Ry Can 7s 115 115 115 1/2

120 Gr Trk Ry Can 7s 115 115 115 1/2

STOCK MARKET

N. Y. Stock Transactions

BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

New York, January 25.—Following is the complete closing list of today's transactions on the New York Stock Exchange.

Sales (in $1,000). High. Low. Last.

1 Abraham & Straus 100 100 100

2 Adams Express 100 100 100

3 Adair 100 100 100

4 Adair 100 100 100

5 Adair 100 100 100

6 Adair 100 100 100

7 Adair 100 100 100

8 Adair 100 100 100

9 Adair 100 100 100

10 Adair 100 100 100

11 Adair 100 100 100

12 Adair 100 100 100

13 Adair 100 100 100

14 Adair 100 100 100

15 Adair 100 100 100

16 Adair 100 100 100

17 Adair 100 100 100

18 Adair 100 100 100

19 Adair 100 100 100

20 Adair 100 100 100

21 Adair 100 100 100

22 Adair 100 100 100

23 Adair 100 100 100

24 Adair 100 100 100

25 Adair 100 100 100

26 Adair 100 100 100

27 Adair 100 100 100

28 Adair 100 100 100

29 Adair 100 100 100

30 Adair 100 100 100

31 Adair 100 100 100

32 Adair 100 100 100

33 Adair 100 100 100

34 Adair 100 100 100

35 Adair 100 100 100

36 Adair 100 100 100

37 Adair 100 100 100

38 Adair 100 100 100

39 Adair 100 100 100

40 Adair 100 100 100

41 Adair 100 100 100

42 Adair 100 100 100

43 Adair 100 100 100

44 Adair 100 100 100

45 Adair 100 100 100

46 Adair 100 100 100

47 Adair 100 100 100

48 Adair 100 100 100

49 Adair 100 100 100

50 Adair 100 100 100

51 Adair 100 100 100

52 Adair 100 100 100

53 Adair 100 100 100

54 Adair 100 100 100

55 Adair 100 100 100

56 Adair 100 100 100

57 Adair 100 100 100

58 Adair 100 100 100

59 Adair 100 100 100

60 Adair 100 100 100

61 Adair 100 100 100

62 Adair 100 100 100

63 Adair 100 100 100

64 Adair 100 100 100

65 Adair 100 100 100

66 Adair 100 100 100

67 Adair 100 100 100

68 Adair 100 100 100

69 Adair 100 100 100

70 Adair 100 100 100

71 Adair 100 100 100

72 Adair 100 100 100

73 Adair 100 100 100

74 Adair 100 100 100

75 Adair 100 100 100

76 Adair 100 100 100

77 Adair 100 100 100

78 Adair 100 100 100

79 Adair 100 100 100

80 Adair 100 100 100

81 Adair 100 100 100

82 Adair 100 100 100

83 Adair 100 100 100

84 Adair 100 100 100

85 Adair 100 100 100

86 Adair 100 100 100

87 Adair 100 100 100

88 Adair 100 100 100

89 Adair 100 100 100

90 Adair 100 100 100

91 Adair 100 100 100

92 Adair 100 100 100

93 Adair 100 100 100

94 Adair 100 100 100

95 Adair 100 100 100

96 Adair 100 100 100

97 Adair 100 100 100

98 Adair 100 100 100

